ASSASSIN SENTENCED TO DEATH

Oscar Collazo (center) is led into federal court at Washington Friday to be sentenced to death for killing a guard in an attempt to assassinate President Truman. He is handcuffed to two unidentified U. S. marshals. The court set October 26 as the date for his execution in the electric chair. Expect Early Decision On Colleges' Legality Baton Rouge, La., April 7. — (AP) — An early decision on the constitutionality of Louisiana's youngest four-year colleges was envisioned here today.

The schools—McNeese State College at Lake Charles and Northeast State College at Monroe — became four-year institutions under 1950 acts of the legislature. A recent district court ruling here declared the acts unconstitutional, but the ruling was appealed to the state supreme court.

R. J. Fuller, attorney for the Louisiana State university board of supervisors, told the board today that he hoped for early action so students at the schools would "know where they stand."

RESCUERS NEAR TRAPPED MINERS

Hopes Still High For Survival Of Two In Iron Ore Mine Cave

Eveleth, Minn., April 7. — (AP) — Rescue crews today neared the spot where two iron ore miners were trapped by a cave-in 564 feet below the surface of the spruce mine shaft. The miners were entombed late Friday afternoon.

A slim chance that the two, Frank Putzel, 43, and Anton Korcha, 53, both of Eveleth, might still be alive soared hopes of rescuers in their feverish digging. Officials of Oliver Iron Mining Company, operators of the mine, said Korcha and Putzel might be alive if fallen timbers and pipes offered them any protection. In a similar accident in 1949, two miners were brought to safety because timbers prevented earth from suffocating them.

Fellow miners burrowed toward the trapped men from two directions, but progress was slow.

They encountered tough, iron laden rock. Another team was forcing an emergency tunnel into the cave — in shaft. Both groups still had several feet to go late today.

Oliver Company officials said they believed Putzel and Korcha were working at the end of a 40 foot tunnel leading from the 564 foot level when the cave-in occurred.

Mechanical scrapers were used to speed the digging job. Rescuers working their way through the debris were forced to erect timbers to prevent further cave-ins.

HOOVER SUPPORTS R. F. C. ABOLITION

Lending Agency Setup Under His Administration In 1932

Washington, April 7. — (AP) — Senate foes of the reconstruction finance corporation got support today from former President Hoover in their drive to abolish it. It was under Mr. Hoover's administration in 1932 that congress created the big lending agency as a weapon against the depression.

The RFC now is under fire of a senate banking subcommittee which has accused it of becoming subservient to a political influence clique which reached into the White House.

Senator Byrd (D.-Va.), a leader of the anti-RFC move, made public a letter from Mr. Hoover declaring the agency should be put out of business.

The former president headed the Hoover commission, which in a two year study of government operations concluded in 1949, found the RFC a hot potato issue.

Mr. Hoover wrote that while the commission did not recommend liquidation of the RFC, a "task force" (subcommittee) which studied the agency's affairs did recommend its abolition.

And, his letter added: "I favored the abolition and do yet."

Hoover's letter quoted from the commission's report that "direct lending by the government to persons and enterprises opens up dangerous possibilities of waste and favoritism to individuals or enterprises. It invites political

MEETING ON PAY FREEZE IS SET

Employers To Have Opportunity For First Hand Information

Employers in the Twin Cities and across Louisiana will have an opportunity to obtain first-hand information on the wage-freeze regulation tomorrow night at a public meeting sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Louisiana Manufacturers Association.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Virginia Hotel ballroom Monday. The speaker will be J. Sidney Gonsoulin, of New Orleans, field supervisor for the wage and hour and public contracts division, U. S. department of labor. Gonsoulin, director of the agency dealing with wage stabilization in Louisiana, will give employers the latest information on the wage ceiling regulations and their many subsequent exceptions, exemptions

HITS MOUNTAIN

Most Passengers Military Personnel, Including Four Colonels

Santa Barbara, Calif., April 7. — (AP) — A Southwest Airways plane crashed last night on a 20 minute flight over the rugged Coastal Mountain peaks killing all 22 persons aboard. Capt. John R. Aldem, in charge of U. S. Air Force search and rescue operations, confirmed late today that all on the plane had died.

Most of the passengers were servicemen, four of them colonels. The twin-engine DC-3 took off last night from Santa Maria airport at 8:16 p.m., PST. Two minutes later it made routine radio contact. That was the last word. The plane was scheduled to land at Santa Barbara at 8:39 p.m.

Fog hampered early morning search efforts. Pilot Tony Machado of Santa Maria, who sighted the wreck, reported that "no survivors" could be seen from 100 feet altitude.

It was located high up in Refugio pass, about halfway between Santa Maria and Santa Barbara, near 4,292 foot high Santa Ynez peak. Fresh ski marks were visible near the plane and it was still smoking when searchers spotted it.

Ground crews were dispatched to the site, about one mile from the nearest road.

At dawn today, an armada of search planes took off to fan over the primitive mountain canyons and the nearby Pacific coast seaways.

Paramedics from air-sea rescue squadrons based at March Air Force Base were in the search planes, ready to parachute with medical aid should there be any sign of life around the wreckage.

Last Mississippi Confederate Dies

Hattiesburg, Miss., April 7. — (AP) — Mississippi, where the fate of the confederacy was sealed, today lost its last veteran of the confederate army — Thomas Wiley Guinn, 102.

He died at 10:20 a. m. (CST) at his home near New Augusta, 20 miles southeast of here.

Guinn, who celebrated his 102nd birthday last Jan. 27, remembered but dimly his service in the war between the states. He recalled little but that "the Yankees" didn't bother him or his family until they became hungry.

Guinn first went to work at the age of 11 when he "rode the mail" from Butler, Miss., to Bland Springs, a distance of seven or eight miles. After the war between the states he raised cotton and corn until 1890 when he moved to Perry county to help timber for rails.

He made his last crop at the age of 83 but continued active until last fall when he became infirm and contended himself rocking before a fire.

He is survived by a daughter, Miss Mamie Guinn, seven grandchildren, 26 great-grandchildren and 14 great-great-grandchildren. One of his daughters died last January a few days before Guinn's birthday.

Sudden Communist Turn-About Marks First Major Opposition In Two Days

MAIN CHINESE DEFENSE LINE STILL UNTOUCHED

By Robert Eunson

Tokyo, Sunday, April 8. — (AP) — The Chinese Reds suddenly turned and fought advancing Americans north of the 38th parallel on the Korean central front today after two days of retreat.

AP Correspondent William C. Barnard reported from that front that the Reds used artillery, mortar and machine guns to hurl back an attacking American platoon from a ridge overlooking the Pukhan river north of Chunchon.

The correspondent said 17 units of one American division were engaged in that area.

It was the first major opposition the Allies had met since Wednesday when they drove across the 38th parallel, old political boundary of North and South Korea.

For the past two days the Chinese had unexpectedly broken off almost all contact and retreated steadily in a broad area four to

MAN RESCUES TWO CHILDREN, DROWNS

Oil Company Foreman's Body Recovered From Ditch Near Oak Grove

Oak Grove, La., April 7. — (Special) — A 33-year-old Texas Oil Company foreman — home here for a family reunion — drowned in a dredge ditch eight miles northwest of Oak Grove today after saving the lives of two young children. One of the children was his son.

An Oak Grove rescue team recovered the body of Quitman Isaac Pennington late this afternoon.

Members of the Pennington family said Pennington drowned after saving the lives of two children, one of whom was his own son, Walter Sherman Pennington, seven.

The children were among seven persons aboard a "overloaded" motor boat when it capsized in the dredge ditch, authorities said.

The seven persons in the motor boat when it capsized were: Pennington, Pennington's brothers, L. H. and Franklin, Pennington's father, S. G. Pennington, Pennington's brother-in-law, L. A. Stennet, his son, Walter Sherman, and a nephew, Louie, four years.

Pennington was foreman for the Superior Oil Company at Termini, Tex.

The funeral will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at the Goodwill Church of Christ at Oak Grove. The body will be taken overland to Chatham, La., for another service at 3 p.m. at the Chatham Church of Christ. The Rev. Elton S. Hughes will officiate at bath services.

U. S. Rejects Soviet Lend-Lease Views

Washington, April 7. — (AP) — The U. S. rejected tonight Russia's objections to returning 670 lend-lease naval and merchant vessels. An American note formally demanded again that the Soviet government hand over the ships.

This latest move tightens the deadlock in American-Soviet negotiations for a lend-lease settlement. Talks have gone on periodically for several years. A current session has been underway at the state department since Jan. 15.

The U. S. demanded Feb. 7 that all the vessels, which include torpedo boats, tugs, landing craft, liberty and prewar merchant ships should be given back to this country.

Only one week remains in which to sign homestead exemptions.

Bert Coverdale, parish assessor, announced Saturday that the assessor's office would be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. until April 16 for home owners to sign exemptions.

Coverdale asked that those who have not signed come immediately so as to avoid the last minute rush.

Will Be Conducted In Delhi
With N. Louisiana Churches Participating

Delhi, La., April 7.—(Special)—A district-wide Methodist Youth Fellowship training institute and officers worship will be held in Delhi at the Methodist Church on Saturday and Sunday, April 28-29, beginning at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

All Methodist youth officers, presidents, vice-presidents, secretaries, treasurers, and publicity chairmen, commission chairmen, and adult counselors within the Monroe district Methodist churches will be invited and urged to attend. The responsibilities of each officer, the purposes of the MYF, and methods of attaining these objectives will be the main items of the agenda. Delegates to the institute will be kept overnight in the homes of the membership of the local Methodist Church in Delhi.

Among the leaders expected to be on hand to lead the individual group discussions are Miss Bettie Rea Fox, Shreveport, conference director of Methodist youth; Rev. W. H. Bengtson, pastor, Winnsboro Methodist Church, and long term leader in the field of church recreation; Miss Mary Lou Miller, West Monroe, sub-district youth counselor of Monroe sector of Methodist churches; Miss Ruth Robinson, director of religious education, First Methodist Church, West Monroe; Rev. E. B. Emmerich, pastor, Rayville Methodist Church, and Mrs. E. B. Emmerich, both former missionaries to Korea; Rev. Don Wineinger, host pastor, and district director of youth work in the Monroe district Methodist churches; and Miss Pearl May Kelley, student director of Methodist work at Louisiana Tech.

Parishes in the Shreveport district are as follows: Avoyelles, Bienville, Bossier, Caddo, Caldwell, Catahoula, Claiborne, Concordia, De Soto, East Carroll, Franklin, Grant, Jackson, La Salle, Lincoln, Madison, Morehouse, Natchitoches, Ouachita, Rapides, Red River, Richland, Sabine, Tensas, Union, Vernon, Webster, West Carroll and Winn.

CHURCH CONTEST
SET ON APRIL 14

Will Be Held In Memorial Methodist Church In Monroe

Delhi, La., April 7.—(Special)—The Monroe district run-off of the educational contest within the Methodist Church Methodist Youth Fellowship will be held on Saturday April 14 at the Memorial Methodist Church, Monroe, beginning at 10 a.m.

Those competing within the contest will be Methodist high school youth from the several Methodist churches within the Monroe district who have won the top honor in their local community, speaking and writing on the subject, "The Evils of Liquor Advertising, and What Can Be Done to Correct These Evils." The winner of this run-off will journey to Alexandria on April 17 to compete against six other district winners to determine the state winner. Three prizes will be awarded in the Monroe contest: first prize $15, second $7, and the third, $3. The winner of the state contest will win $100 as first prize. Two other winners will be awarded $50 and $25 respectively.

Throughout the state the contests have been judged on three points: the factual content of their essays, the arrangement of materials, and the delivery. In each instance, the essay must be written and of such length that its delivery does not exceed ten minutes.

Rev. Ralph Cain, pastor of Memorial Methodist Church, will serve as host to the contestants judges, and friends.

COLUMNIST WILL SPEAK LOCALLY

John Temple Graves To Address
Knife And Fork Club
April 23

John Temple Graves II, prominent columnist, author and lecturer, will be the featured speaker at the first meeting of the newly-formed Monroe Knife and Fork club.

The initial meeting of the dinner-lecture group has been slated for Monday, April 23, at the Frances hotel roof, according to an announcement from the club president, R. Lee Vanderpool Jr.

Discussing the choice of Graves as the first of a series of speakers, Vanderpool announced that the columnist would talk on the subject: "Socialism Comes Creeping." Of the speaker he said:

"There is no man in the United States who is fighting more courageously the cause for American freedom than Mr. Graves. He knows full well the forces which are seeking to destroy our way of life and substitute the English socialist version of freedom or the communistic version of the abundant life."

"Son of a distinguished father, the editor has been praised in his own right as the South's 'modern Henry Grady.' He is a tireless, fearless, courageous newspaperman who embodies all of the qualities which a first class newspaperman possesses. And above and beyond all that, he is a splendid platform speaker."

There is nothing cut and dried about Mr. Graves or the message he brings. Vital and pithy, it is of importance to all who wish to preserve the way of life which has made this country a great nation.

"Graves is by profession a lawyer, but he has not practiced law for years. The smell of fresh newsprint weaned him away from Blackstone and into the more colorful, lusty ranks of newspapermen."

"His frank and forthright approach, his profound knowledge of his subject and his charming and effective manner of presentation have made him one of the most popular speakers in the United States."

First Copy Of Amendment Is Received By Chamber Of Commerce

Thirteen new categories of merchandise have just been placed under the terms of ceiling price regulation 7, it was announced yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce office, where the first copy of amendment 2 to the regulation has just been received.

New items to be priced under the "frozen markup" terms of CPR 7 are: Musical instruments, radio and television sets, phonographs and records, housewares, notions, luggage, sporting goods, silverware, chinaware, glassware, jewelry, watches and clocks.

Arrangements have been made for representatives of the office of price stabilization to hold two meetings in Monroe for the benefit of retailers and restaurant operators, according to David C. Silverstein, chairman of the chamber's retail merchants division. Both meetings will be held at 3 p.m., Thursday, April 12.

The meeting for retailers will be held in the Virginia Hotel ballroom. The other meeting, held at the same time, will be on the Frances Hotel roof, and will be for operators of restaurants, boarding houses, hotel dining rooms, all other public eating places and all private clubs where meals are sold to members or guests.

Addressing the retailers meeting will be Phillip McLaughlin, business analyst, and James R. Alexander, attorney, both from the OPS district office in Shreveport. Speaker at the restaurant operators meeting, also from the Shreveport office of OPS, will be John Humphries, business analyst.

Silverstein stated that at both meetings every opportunity will be given for listeners to ask questions. He added that the meetings are open to all interested business people throughout northeast Louisiana.

Only one copy of the new amendment has to date been received by the Chamber of Commerce office, Silverstein said, but a bulk shipment should arrive early in the week, at which time they will be available for distribution.

ALL-GIRL RODEO CONTESTANT

Nancy Bragg of Tulsa, Okla., daughter of U. S. Commissioner and Mrs. E. Lawton Bragg, will be competing in the All-Girl Rodeo at Gentry's Arena in West Monroe April 11-14. Nancy has been a featured trick rider at the Madison Square Garden and Cheyenne Frontier Days Rodeos for six years. She is entering as a cowgirl contestant in the World's Champion All-Girl Rodeo at Gentry's Arena here. She will enter the barrel race contest, calf roping and cutting horse events. Last week Miss Bragg won first place in calf roping at the Corpus Christi rodeo.

Rodeo Girls Will Highlight Colorful Parade Wednesday

Scores of the nation's topflight cowgirls who began arriving in Monroe yesterday will lead one of the most colorful downtown parades ever staged in the Twin Cities at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

Jerry Rippeteau, producer of the all-girl rodeo which opens at Gentry's arena in West Monroe at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday, said Saturday the time of the parade had been set up an hour in order not to interfere with school buses.

The parade was originally scheduled for 3 p.m. but was changed to 2 o'clock Wednesday in order not to interrupt school transportation in the Twin Cities.

Rippeteau extended an invitation to all riders in this area to participate in the parade as a prelude to the formal opening of the four-performance World Championship All-Girl Rodeo which officially opens at Gentry's arena Wednesday night.

The parade will form on Commerce street in West Monroe and travel up Trenton street across the new bridge to Walnut street and on to DeSiard street. It will turn up Sixth and travel back to Louisville avenue and West Monroe.

TICKET SALES

Members of the American Legion in West Monroe and the West Monroe V.F.W. began selling tickets for the All-Girl Rodeo last week. Saturday their street sales were reported mounting as were the sale of box and reserve seat tickets at Tom Hick's office in West Monroe.

Tickets can be obtained through any member of the American Legion and V.F.W. in West Monroe or at Tom Hick's office next door to Simmie's Cafe.

LOCAL COWGIRLS

Producer Rippeteau urged local cowgirls to enter the rodeo events and compete for the $2,000 prize money. He said entries will be accepted as late as noon Wednesday at his headquarters at the Virginia Hotel.

An entrant fee of $15 is charged each girl. In return, she is eligible to compete in either the bareback bronc riding, calf roping, bull riding, barrel racing or the cutting horse contests each performance.

La Salle High Plans On Play On Tuesday

Olla, La., April 7.—(Special)—The LaSalle High School play, "The Campbells are Coming," directed by Mrs. Thelma Barrios, English instructor, will be presented in the high school Tuesday night.

The play is a rollicking hillbilly comedy by Jay Tobias and features a cast of five women and as many men.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS

In addition to the regular rodeo events in which between 60 and 70 cowgirls are expected to compete, there will be several novelty acts staged by a woman clown, five girl trick riders, and trick ropers. An Indian horse act and a Roman act are also included in the program.

The Ouachita Parish High School band will play for the four evening performances.

Tom Hedley, announcer of the Wild Bill Elliott Rodeo in California, will announce the All-Girl Rodeo here. He is expected to arrive in Monroe Sunday and assist in completing plans for the four day rodeo.

K. OF C. SPONSOR MEN'S RETREAT

Spiritual Communion To Be Held In Maryhill April
27 And 28

The Local Council No. 1337 of Monroe Knights of Columbus is sponsoring a spiritual retreat at Maryhill near Alexandria on April 27, 28, and 29, for all the Catholic men of the Twin Cities and near by communities. All Catholic men are invited to attend this retreat.

This retreat house at Maryhill is maintained by the Diocese of Alexandria, under the leadership of Bishop Charles P. Greco, bishop of Alexandria, and many Catholic men from all over the state attend and make retreats throughout the year.

A spiritual retreat affords all Catholic laymen an opportunity to spend a quiet week end in prayer and take an inventory with God. It gives you a good rest, good food, good thinking and gives you the opportunity to do better in the eyes of God and your fellowmen.

For reservations, contact the following men of Monroe, who are Knights of Columbus and committeemen handling same: Mr. Everett Burgoine, George Tonore, A. F. Canizaro, Frank Campbell, Frank Anzalone, Jr., Bob Schott, and Mr. Stanley Hodges. Transportation will be furnished to and from Maryhill, a large crowd over 100 men are expected to attend this retreat in a body.

LIBRARY MEET IN PROVIDENCE

State Supervisor Is Guest Speaker At Largely Attended Session

Lake Providence, Apr. 7.—(Special)—Mrs. Lena Y. De Grummond, state supervisor of libraries, state department of education, Baton Rouge, as guest speaker for the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Lake Providence High School P.T. A., awakened local interest with facts on the topic of "Home Library." "Reading, like religion, starts in the home," began the speaker. "Start and end each day with reading. A quiet hour of reading aloud adjusts any tense situation in the home," advised the lecturer. Then from a random collection of readers from the school, Mrs. De Grummond read excerpts, bringing out their values. "Fairly stories are essential," pointed out the librarian. "as they create an imaginative mind".

Mrs. A. J. Wyly, high school librarian, following Mrs. De Grummond, using the topic "Facts and Figures on the Lake Providence Library" listed 3,000 volumes, serving 309 pupils, an average of ten books per student. Each year from 75 to 100 books were added to the library, informed Mrs. Wyly, but a fear was expressed that the school could not hold its past listing total due to the increase in book costs. With additional figures, Mrs. Wyly gave a 10,000 a year book circulation by the local library, with an average of 55 books a day issued to the student body, not including the dictionary and encyclopedias. They subscribe to 23 magazines, four papers, viz, two dailies, weekly and Sunday issue.

The books of the library are divided into two classes, fiction (635 volumes, including 90 short stories) and non fiction, including 449 histories, reference books that supplement text books and biographies.

Mrs. Wyly pleased with her statement that "America is the only country in the world where the people have all the books they can or want to read". Alarm was expressed over the reading of ALL comic books, with statement that "Had our political leaders been trained and imbued with good reading, they would not be ready and willing to think, plan and fight wars".

In sending books abroad, by request of U. N., foreign countries had demanded no comic books be included in the shipments. Mrs. Wyly concluded her remarks by reading Sue Hefley's article "Once There Was a Democracy".

Officers elected to serve the 1951-52 school term were: Mrs. F. M. Terral, president; Mrs. Keener Howard, second vice; Mrs. R. N. Amacker, first vice president; Mrs. W. R. Abernethy, secretary. Mrs. William Shirey resigned as secretary and Mrs. R. B. Green

RELIGION GIVEN NEW EMPHASIS

Northeast State To Have Daily Exercises; Rev.
Cogswell 1st Speaker

Religious Emphasis Week will be conducted at Northeast Louisiana State from April 9 to 13. When the program will revolve around the theme "Christ, The Only Answer." Rev. Hugh Bradshaw, president of the Inter-Faith Council, will be sponsor and denominations represented will include: Methodist, Presbyterian, Catholic, Baptist and Episcopal.

Each day there will be a speaker in Brown hall auditorium. Monday, Rev. R. E. Cogswell, director of religious activities in Tulane and Sophie Newcomb will discuss "What Is the Word of God?" This program is at 1:10 p.m.

Rev. Robert Eugene Cogswell is a native of Houston, Texas. He received his B. A. degree from Southwestern College, Memphis, Tenn., and his B. D. degree in 1945 from Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va. He later received his Th. M. from the same seminary. Mr. Cogswell was licensed and ordained to the Gospel ministry in June 1945. After serving as assistant pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, Richmond, he became pastor of Samuel Davies Presbyterian Church in Hanover County, Va., in 1946 where he remained for three years. In April, 1949, he became assistant minister of the St. Charles Avenue Presbyterian Church, New Orleans.

Baptists' Biggest Revival Closing

More than 15,000 Southern Baptist churches bring to a close the greatest revival crusade in the history of the convention today, when a message by the southwide crusade leader, Dr. J. B. Lawrence, is broadcast on more than 200 radio stations in 20 southern states.

Releases through Religious News Service indicate that more than 175,000 members will be added to the church by Baptism and more than 100,000 by letter if the present trend continues. Last year, west of the Mississippi river, 7,000 churches added 125,000 by baptism during a similar crusade.

Sunday afternoon at the special crusade broadcast, a great host of the southern Baptist churches will place a radio in the auditorium and listen to the message by Dr. Lawrence. This will serve as a climax to the revival in many of these churches.

A 'Code Of Conduct'

A lot of argument is being stirred up about whether it's a good thing to televise such affairs as the Kefauver committee's celebrated New York hearings.

A pretty fair answer would be: Yes, if proper safeguards can be erected to protect the rights of witnesses and prevent the debasing of the proceedings. This would seem to be also the idea of Senator Kefauver, who has just declared that congress should draft a "code of conduct" to govern its hearings.

By now everyone knows the video version of the crime hearings hit the viewing public with the impact of a piledriver. Probably at no time in history have so many people become so thoroughly aroused over the sordid side of U. S. life as were the millions whose eyes popped at the committee-room doings of Frank Costello, Joe Adonis, Frank Erickson and company.

If the steam pressure generated by these hearings had been sustained long enough to direct several jets toward the polling booths, every politician with the slightest smirch on his record might well have been blasted sky-high.

This high pitch couldn't be maintained, of course. But even as it is, many a politician may rue the day TV was invented. For what the people see they apparently remember longer than what they hear.

Who can doubt this is a tremendously healthful thing for a Democratic citizenry? The popular response to the crime hearings was so great it seems possible the force of public opinion might almost gain a new dimension if televising of such events were to continue. To those who believe public opinion is the wellspring of democracy, this outcome could only be viewed as desirable.

Yet there's another side to the issue—an important side. To begin with, the very decision to televise one event and not another inevitably amounts to an editing of what the people shall know, or at least know by immediate visual experience. Unless extreme care is taken to present a balanced picture of government, the public will not in the long run be well served by TV broadcasts of major events. Who should exercise the vital power of deciding what the public shall see?

Complete stress on the obviously dramatic investigations into wrongdoing or other official failures can only give the citizen a distorted image of his nation's public affairs.

Moreover, if congressional inquiries are to be televised frequently, then long overdue reforms in committee practice ought to be instituted forthwith. The investigative power of congress is a cardinal feature of its law-making process; it cannot be hedged about with seriously hampering restrictions. Without full information, wise laws cannot be made.

But congress has almost always allowed itself considerably more latitude than necessary to this purpose. Its committees' rules are extremely flexible, leaving broad room for discretion—and abuse. Only roughly do they resemble the careful procedure of the courtroom.

Since communism has stirred so much fear in the nation, reckless charges have become commonplace. The character and reputation of persons are often hurt by irresponsible lawmakers' disdainful of individual rights. Good investigations are not assured by the rules; they are dependent upon the investigators having high motives.

With TV bringing these inquiries into anyone's living room, the necessity for protecting a witness against the buckshot of wild charges is vastly multiplied.

Lastly, the mere technical problem of televising public proceedings raises a grave point. TV equipment involves huge, glaring lights and other facilities which on occasion may produce not only discomfort but actual annoyance among participants in an inquiry. If televising is to become common, ways must be found to assure that the transmission of the event does not interfere with the achievement of the sound public purpose for which the event was staged in the first place. The recording of history cannot take precedence over the proper unfolding of history.

But on land Russia has 130 infantry divisions, probably ten times the immediately available American forces. American weapons for which contracts are being let will be superior to the Russian.

If the U. S. had remained on a war basis for the last five years, this country might be as strong as Russia on land and infinitely stronger at sea and in the air. But the American people would be tired and American weapons would be outmoded. As it is, in the battle of production the tired, backward Russians will eat American dust.

Interviews Newspapers were impersonal recorders of events until the advent of the informal interview. News expressed in the form of personal experience provided dialogue for the drama of current events. This technique was pioneered by Horace Greeley via an interview with Brigham Young wherein the Mormon leader admitted having 15 wives. The resulting uproar shook the foundations of journalism: When Greeley's critics accused him of being vulgar, he responded: "A narrow mind is the essence of vulgarity." James Gordon Bennett later shattered all taboos by publishing a series of interviews with a prostitute. While his detractors raged, the circulation of Bennett's gazette zoomed.

Result: His belittlers became his imitators.

A reporter once asked Teddy Roosevelt if gambling could be legislated out of existence. Roosevelt replied: "If our lawmakers hope to eradicate gambling by passing a law against it—then this nation should concentrate on building jails and lunatic asylums. The jails are for those who disobey it—the asylums for those who think it can be enforced!"

Famous names are not always the stars of interviews. One of the most poignant interviews was with a Lower East Side housewife in New York—after FDR passed away. . . . When the newsman inquired if she had heard the news on the radio, Mrs. America said: "For what do I need a radio? The news is on everybody's face."

Then there's the classic about the dese-dem-dose ward-heeler elected mayor of a big city. He snubbed and insulted reporters who criticized him. . . . But the mayor got his come-uppance. News men quoted his interviews verbatim—without correcting his grammatical errata.

When Ralph Barnes was a cub correspondent in Paris, he interviewed Lindbergh after the transatlantic hop. The excitement afflicted Barnes with an acute case of jitters. . . . When he returned to his office and was ordered to write the interview, Barnes pleaded: "I'm too nervous. I don't know what to write. I can't think."

His editor thundered: "Don't think. Write!" The jittery young reporter then composed his first yarn under pressure. Barnes later said he was so unnerved he couldn't remember a single sentence he had written, and when he read the story (a honey) he could not believe he had authored it.

Ironically, the interview was published without credit to Barnes. It appeared under the byline of the chief of the Paris bureau!

Ambrose Bierce, the cynical wit, was once informed by a famed actress that she slept under a fur-lined blanket. He recorded that fact in the interview and then added a grim note: "The rich and poor are finally put to bed with a shovel."

Top-flight interviewers are keen judges of human nature. Frequently they obtain desired information by using kid-glove methods—occasionally the bare-knuckle technique is necessary. . . . Some years ago a U. S. Ambassador arrived in London and greeted his press conference with a monologue of airy nothings. Finally one bored correspondent interrupted with: "Now look here, Mister Ambassador, we're American reporters and we've got a pretty good idea about what's going on. If you want to tell us the score exactly, that's fine. If you don't, we're going back to our offices and write what we feel like. It's up to you."

The Ambassador told them the score exactly, thanks to the candor of the reporter, who is now the N. Y. Times managing editor: Edwin L. James.

Karl von Wiegand the Hearst war-correspondent had an exclusive interview with Germany's Admiral Tirpitz in 1914. Tirpitz warned his nation was determined to wage unrestricted submarine warfare. . . . British military chiefs and other Allied leaders brushed off Tirpitz's warning as a bluff. Had they taken the interview seriously, the course of history might have been changed. Three years later the U. S. was forced into war as a result of Germany's unrestricted submarine warfare.

Incidentally, the initial spark of the World War I conflagration was an interview with the Kaiser published by the London Daily Telegraph in 1908. . . . The Kaiser then confessed Germany planned building a navy that would challenge Britannia's rule of the waves.

Reporter Lincoln Steffens' first assignment was an interview with

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

PLANNED IT THAT WAY

No matter how much those who are moved by patriotism wish to defend the integrity of the dollar, they have to face facts. The dollar and all values calculated in dollars are reduced by the planned economy which has produced a steadily lowering standard of living and an increasing cost of all goods and services. This has affected every savings, every insurance policy, every bond, every inheritance. In a word, it is impossible to depreciate the value of a currency without affecting everything that is measured by that currency.

I regard this inflationary process as more serious and dangerous than any of our current involvements in war, because it goes far enough the spirit of the people as well as the economic system can be destroyed. China, for instance, was defeated by inflation before that country could be conquered by Russia.

I want, in this connection, to quote from an exceedingly interesting article, entitled "A Planned Economy: Good or Bad?" by Miss Ruth Shallock, which appeared in "The Scientific Monthly" in November, 1950:

"... Except for the 1930s, each decade (in the United States) had witnessed more people producing a greater volume (and better quality) of goods per employee than the previous one. Over the past fifty years the standard of living for all had improved miraculously with a decline of more than one-third in the number of working hours per week, with real purchasing power per hour increasing threefold."

Then Miss Shallock, who is economist at the Institute of Paper Chemistry, says:

"... Even the 'government planning' during (the 1930s) and since, which has created more problems (especially deficit financing) than it has solved, has not dispelled the strong feeling, born of the depression, that the government should guarantee certain economic rights, even at the expense of transforming the economy and eliminating economic freedom. And, moreover, this attitude seems to prevail despite a new critical attitude toward collectivism economic planning in the Soviet Union brought about by the postwar belligerent and openly imperialistic Soviet policy."

"Two reasons may be given for this seeming paradox. One is the insecurity caused by the last war and the fear of another. The second is that many government officials have found it politically expedient to promise all sorts of things that could only be delivered, even in a small degree, by having complete power over the economy. Those who are asking for state power to control the economy (or, as they say, to establish a stock broker whose partner had mysteriously vanished. When the broker refused to divulge any information about his missing partner, Steffens shrewdly switched the subject. They gabbed about Wall Street and related their biographies to each other. After babbling for two hours Steffens was convinced the missing broker was guilty of no more than a romantic escapade. . . . Suddenly the broker arose and ejaculated: "You're a persistent son-of-a-gun. I'll tell you what you seem so damn sure of anyhow. My partner skipped and took every cent we had!" It was a cub reporter's dream come true—a page one scoop on his initial assignment.

One of the most remarkable interviewing "fores" was turned in by John Rogers of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. He managed to gain the confidence of a publicity-crazy underworld leader. For many weeks he asked the mobster and his henchmen seemingly innocuous queries. Their replies added to the information Rogers gathered elsewhere resulted in a front-page indictment. Every member of the gang was later convicted.

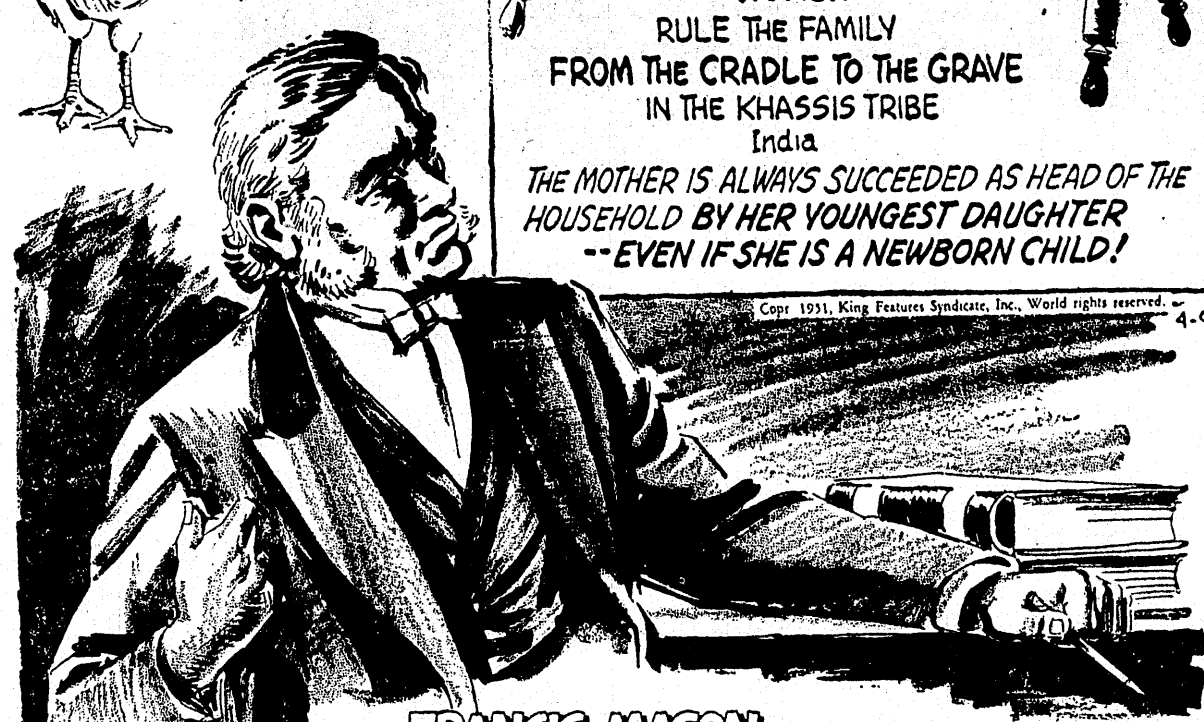

A revealing insight into the diplomatic mind is this portion of an interview with Britain's Lloyd George: A reporter queried: "Are you optimistic about the future of the world?" . . . "Yes." . . . "Then why do you look so worried?" . . . Lloyd George explained: "I am not certain my optimism is justified."

W. H. Vanderbilt's phrase, "The public be damned!" has been frequently used as an illustration of Wall street's callous attitude toward the public. . . . Here's the story behind the phrase: A brash, young free-lance reporter once smuggled his way into Vanderbilt's private railroad car. He was having dinner with friends, but the reporter demanded an interview pronto. Vanderbilt urged him to wait a few moments, but the newsboy was insistent. "It's late," the reporter said. "The public." . . . Furious at this impertinence, Vanderbilt shouted: "The public be damned!" . . . Editors refused to run the yarn when the reporter explained how he had extorted it. However, he sold it to a Chicago gazette without explaining how he had aroused Vanderbilt's anger.

Tangling with angels of the press can be perilous. They have lengthy memories—and claws. . . . A lady author once squawked to a newsgals' editor that her interview neglected vital details. Another interview was arranged and this time every detail was mentioned—including the fact that the author's had a slight mustache

There is an old saying that republics are ungrateful. It may be true in the United States of war veterans who go into politics and take a beating, but this nation does its best to take care of those severely injured in its military service, in contrast to the Communist nations now opposing it.

Take as an example Private First Class Robert Smith of Middleburg, Pa. aged 20, the first quadruple amputee of the Korean war. He lost part of all four extremities from frostbite, and he has a right to be bored at all the attention he has received as a prize exhibit at Walter Reed (army) hospital here.

So the other day he received one visitor who gave him real encouragement—Jimmy Wilson, a 29-year old University of Colorado law student, a native of Jacksonville, Fla. Jimmy is handsome, with a beautiful southern wife. What he wanted to do first was to show GI Smith how to light a match. The only thing important to Bob Smith was that Jimmy Wilson is also a quadruple amputee, who lost "all four" after a bomber crash in October, 1944.

He showed Bob how to hold the matches with his left hook, take a safety match out of the pack with the prongs of the right hook, then scratch it.

"Now you try it," he said to his pupil.

Bob had had his hooks only ten days. He did exactly as shown by Jimmy Wilson, tried to clutch the match with his right hook. Those new hands wouldn't obey him. The hooks that replaced the fine long fingered hands he lost along with his feet when he lay wounded for three days in a Korea fox hole wouldn't quite do it.

He tried it again and again, while the small group around his bed held their breaths and wanted that match to light. But the small paper wisp eluded him. Sweat ran down his face.

He tried until finally he sagged back on the pillow with a gesture of despair.

"I can't do it," he said. "I guess I'm too clumsy."

But Jimmy Wilson thought of his own similar days. He leaned forward and said:

"Sure you can. Try it once more and keep the matches turned more in your left hook."

Bob took another go at it. He got a good grip on the match with his left hook and reached for the bent match with his right once more. He tried again and again. Finally the prongs closed over the match. And then it happened. He got the match, held it a moment, then scratched it, and it flamed. There was a sigh from all around that bed, a relief from 'tension. It was an awkward moment, saved by Dorothy Wilson, Jimmy's pretty wife.

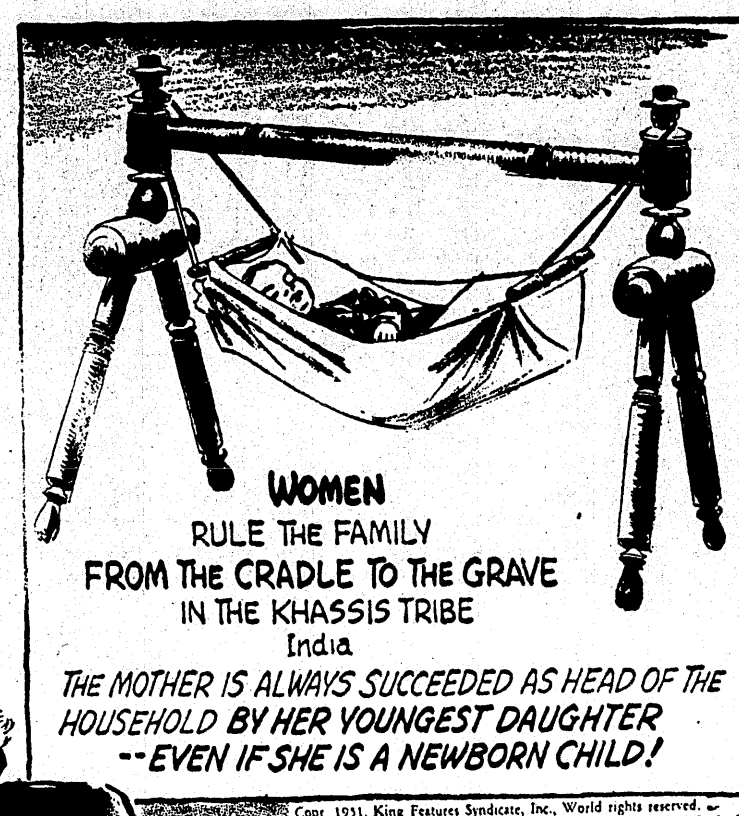

"I want the first light," she said in a matter of fact tone.

Bob lit her cigarette, Jimmy's and his own, and they puffed. And nobody said a word. What could they say?

And incidentally, Bob Smith has about $150,000 given him by the American Legion and other friends when he wants to go into business. His friend Jimmy Wilson, can walk alone, has made excellent grades in law school, and has several offers with Denver and Florida firms when he passes the bar. Both of them still speak well of republics, particularly that own.

hues of paint for government buildings from 500 to exactly 187, and from now on will buy only those. Paint jobs cost 100 million dollars annually. . . . When Rosa Ponselle, Metropolitan Opera star, sang to wounded Korean GIs at Walter Reed and naval hospitals, she was surprised that the song the boys wished most to hear was Gounod's "Ave Maria." . . . A helpful visitor at Walter Reed asked a GI who was obviously in pain what had happened to him. "Frostbite," the soldier replied. "Oh, you've been in Korea?" the visitor asked. "Nope," was the answer. "Got mine training in Florida."

Week, for donuts, that is. The songbird also suggested it's a cheap time to return the luncheon I owe, since no member would be caught redhanded with straw-berries and cream or other costly fare on her dessert plate these holy week noons. . . . An enterprising auto dealer is tagging parked cars with cards resembling traffic summonses, but which read in large crimson letters: "We need this car. Will allow $1400, if you call me today." . . . Paul Garrett, vice president of General Motors tells me that during a 4-H youngster roundup he polled one lad with: "Is big business good for children?" The lad's response staggered the executive: "Sure, as long as the men who run it are big."

... Better Business Bureaus are pulling curb and snaffles on runaway television advertisers who blurb as high as 34 per cent discounts on TV receivers. Investigation proves many such discount offers are in reality less than 11 per cent, sometimes nil.

Busy number—Lynn Stratton, a Greenwich Village lovely who writes for ad agencies, got a bigger "deal" than she realized when a recent employer's organization merged. Lynn specially requested the telephone company to reroute all calls to her from that midtown work-bench's switchboard to her unlisted residence phone. Now her apartment number jingles incessantly from dinner until dawn, with gay revelers trying to book tables at the Stock Club Digs on her former office's switchboard. It seems, were almost identical to those of Billingsley's bistro. So she's bearing the brunt of forwarded calls from inebriated night-owls who err in dialing the cafe.

Week's previews — Gertrude Lawrence matures with rare mellow beauty in her latest Broadway triumph, "The King and I." Her portrayal of the schoolmarm in this musical version of "Anna and the King of Siam" is unexcelled entertainment for family treats, and Yul Brynner's stormy interpretation of the Asiatic monarch far surpasses the earlier film make-believing of Rex Harrison. . . . Ava Gardner and Robert Mitchum's talents appear as medicine as the movie script in "My Forbidden Past." . . . Hollywood's latest attempt to avert due credit for the exploits of U. S. Nisei in doughboy uniforms, "Go for Broke," is as flabby as company commander Van Johnson's wish to be with a Texas outfit instead. . . . "The Thing" is not what rollicking Phil Harris sings about, but its imaginative story of a giant American plane crash-landing amid the icy world of another planet is full of laughs and chills of nightmare temperature.

Conspicuous gallantry—Ed (Duffy's Tavern) Gardner, here for a breather from his comic radio producing in Puerto Rico and to spur interest in his first full-length film, "The Man with My Face," got solidly "fortified" in the wee hours of a spring morning, though thermometers were normal for April. When Gardner demanded a bill of particulars from a bellhop on way an under-provisioned ham-on-rye and small container of coffee from a delicatessen on the street corner added up to $2.80, his courier of bad news blithely explained: "I always tip the counter-man a buck."

"ALL HONORABLE MEN" Key West, Fla., March 15.—(A) President Truman, in a half hour press conference today, declared his administration is made up of entirely honorable men.

Recent investigations had rooted Communists themselves out of government office and sent them to prison, had shown that great government financial agencies were shot through and through with corruption, had revealed that organized crime had consorted with government officials in high places. Conditions brought to light were such as would tend to destroy our way of life.

But, says the President, "they are all honorable men."

Shakespeare had Mark Antony deliver an eulogy over the body of Caesar, stabbed to death by Brutus and his cronies. Standing before the citizens in the market place, Antony sarcastically said:

"Here, under leave of Brutus and the rest—

For Brutus is an honorable man; So are they all, all honorable men— Come I to speak in Caesar's funeral."

Shall it be that some day someone must, in like manner, eulogize dead freedom in this country?

"Friends, Americans, countrymen, lend me your ears;

I come to buy Freedom, not to praise it.

Whatever evil men do lives after them,

But the good is oft interred with their bones.

So let it be with Freedom. The noble State

Hath told you Freedom was ambitious.

If it were so, it was a grievous fault

And grievously hath Freedom answered it.

Here, under the leave of the State Planners—

For Socialism is an honorable plan;

So are they all, all honorable plans— Come I to speak in Freedom's funeral. . . .

"Freedom was my friend, faithful and just to me,

But the State says Freedom was ambitious—

And Socialism is an honorable plan.

Freedom hath brought a high standard of living to America

And many things to many people; Did this in Freedom seem ambitious?

When that the poor have cried, Freedom wept.

Ambition should be made of stern stuff:

Yet the State says Freedom was ambitious—

And Socialism is an honorable plan. . . .

"You all did love Freedom once, not without cause;

What cause withholds you, then, to mourn for Freedom?

O Judgment, thou art fled to brutish beasts

And men have lost their reason! . . .

"You will compel me, then, to read Freedom's will?

Then make a ring about the corpse of Freedom

And let me show you what made the will.

If you have tears, prepare to shed them now.

You all do know this mantle; I remember

The first time Freedom ever put it on;

"Twas on a winter day at Valley Forge

When Washington prayed to God. Look, in this place the Constitution gaps

And here, again, the Bill of Rights is torn,

Where the envious daggers Of the enemies of Freedom

stabbed their way. . . .

"They that have done this deed are honorable:

What private griefs they'll k

What private griefs they have, alas! I know not,

That made them do it: they are wise and honorable,

And will no doubt with reasons answer you. . . .

"Here is the will, and under Freedom's seal.

To every American citizen, Freedom gives

The opportunity to attain success By his own efforts. Moreover, Freedom

The incentive to use your initiative and your

Ingenuity. Freedom hath left you belief

In the dignity of man, the worth of the individual.

Freedom hath left you certain unalienable rights,

Which cannot be taken from you by State or by Dictator or by anyone else. Freedom hath left you

The Right to control your own Destiny.

"Here, my countrymen, was a PLAN. When comes Such another?"

(Citizens: "Never, never. They were traitors: honorable men! Down with the traitors. Let us regain our Freedom.")

BIBLE THOUGHTS:

Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?—Isaiah 58:6.

The era of Christianity—peace, brotherhood, the Golden Rule as applied to governmental matters — is yet to come, and when it comes, then, and only, will the future of nations be sure.—Kossuth.

BAD GET WORSE,
GOOD IMPROVE

Monsignor Sheen Deplores
Failure To Report Evidences Of Virtue

By Reiman Morin
New York, April 7.—(AP)—“In any crisis in civilization, the bad get worse, and the good get better.” This tendency, said the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen, is being aggravated today by the emphasis placed on acts of evil and failure to report evidences of virtue. Monsignor Sheen is national director of the Pontifical Mission Aid Societies in the United States. His writings have received wide circulation throughout the world. He said in an interview he was not certain that standards of morality in the United States have lowered, despite the avalanche of recent reports of everything from the basketball “fix” to evidences of corruption in government. “I am not so sure there has been a decline in the belief in God,” he said.

“In a time of crisis, there is a swing toward the absolute. The area of indifference narrows. The evil man becomes more evil, and the good man is better.” He said he thought many of the disclosures of the past week may be small things, comparatively. “Maybe we are straining at gnats and easily swallowing camels. How about the people who have sold out to Russia, who betrayed this country on a global basis?”

“When immorality occurs on an international level, it is sure to be reflected on other levels. There have been much higher stakes, in short, than the results of a basketball game.”

If a crisis in morals has appeared, Monsignor Sheen continued, American schools and newspapers have been large contributing factors.

Education, he said, has denied any responsibility for the teaching of morals and ethics. He said the schools should reaffirm this responsibility.

“The press could be, but is not, a powerful influence in presenting the positive standards of morality. It prints mainly the bad, seldom the good. To get into the papers, these days, all you have to do is break one of the ten commandments.”

“Take a pencil and go through the papers. On virtually every article, you can put a number. That number will represent a broken commandment, the breaking of which has made news. . . . Murder, theft, adultery, bearing false witness.”

To a remark that newspapers do not initiate news—that they report what has already happened—the Catholic churchman replied: “But by selection, the newspapers give a distorted picture of life in America.”

“In a family of ten, nine people may go to mass every morning, and live every day as good, law-abiding citizens. But if the tenth member robs a service station, he is the one in that family you hear about in the paper.”

“In the same way, if a Communist attracts 5,000 people to a meeting and reviles God and government, it is news. But how many more thousands of people performed the act of contrition at St. Patrick’s on Good Friday and it was not news at all.”

As an antidote to the disclosures of corruption, Monsignor Sheen recommended: “Report the good. People are encouraged by examples of good. Let every newspaper publish, on its front page every day, just one story of virtue. Write up one average family, struggling with its problems and troubles, but living according to the moral law.”

He said he did not believe a downward trend has begun, generally, in public morality. “Psychologically, no doubt millions of people drew a kind of comfort out of watching television during the Kefauver hearings and reading about the other evidence of malfeasance.”

“It eases their conscience when they can find people who are worse than they are.” But mere reporting of such action is not enough, Monsignor Sheen said.

“There is great goodness in the world, but it is unsung and unheralded. This is what should be emphasized.”

G. I.'s Yank Down
Russian Flag

Vienna, Austria, April 7.—(AP)—Police announced that two American soldiers yanked down a Soviet flag today from the Austrian finance building in Linz, west of here, after knocking down the Austrian porter.

Linz is in the American occupied zone and Linz police who witnessed the incident said they summoned U. S. military police, who arrested the two soldiers. American authorities were mum. A police official said the flag was put back up and that the porter was not hurt.

U. S. To Help Iran
Combat Locusts

Tehran, Iran, April 7.—(AP)—The ministry of agriculture said today the United States has promised to send 50 to 75 tons of poison here to help combat the worst locust plague in 50 years.

Agriculture Undersecretary Abbas Davatchi said Iran has also asked Britain to supply light planes for use in dusting the poison over Iranian crops.

Children Of Misfortune
Replace Steinbeck's Okies

By Ed Creagh
Washington, April 7.—(AP)—The “grapes of wrath” people are still with us. Only they’re called “children of misfortune” now.

There are a million of them, President Truman was told today. They “move restlessly over the face of the land”—like the Okies in John Steinbeck’s novel of the depression, “The Grapes of Wrath.”

More than that; “They neither belong to the land nor does the land belong to them.”

“As crops ripen, farmers anxiously await their coming; as the harvest closes, the community with equal anxiety awaits their going.”

“They are the children of misfortune. They are the rejects. . . . A presidential commission told the sorry story in a 188-page report.

It’s a story of the “wetbacks,” of the half-million or so Mexicans who seep into this country every year for low-paying jobs on farms.

It’s a story, too, of Negroes who winter in Florida and, come this time of year, “follow a northward course along the Atlantic shore, reaching through the Carolinas, Virginia, New Jersey, New York and even into Maine.”

And it’s the story, too, of west Indians. . . . of gone-to-seed descendants of Yankee pioneers. . . . of the unlucky or shiftless or restless of many shades of complexion and background.

“They encamp in tents,” the report says, “or simply under canvas supported by a rope strung between two trees or from the side of the car to the ground.”

“They sleep on pallets, or on bedsprings, or folding cots. . . . Where rains are frequent, during the wet season, they find shelter in crude shacks.”

And there are about 1,000,000 of them. The “wetbacks” are so-called because a lot of them swim or wade the Rio Grande to enter this country illegally.

Today, the report says, they are “virtually an invasion.” “Recently,” it says, “the invaders have spread to virtually all states of the union.”

“Before 1944, wetbacks were employed chiefly at hand labor in agriculture; now they are infiltrating a wide range of non-farm jobs. . . . pushing wages down. . . . displacing American workers. . . . causing an astoundingly high disease and death rate in the counties next to the border.”

What should be done? A federal committee to work out a solution.

Use of American rather than foreign workers whenever possible. International agreements fixing conditions for imported workers, when they are needed.

Laws against the hiring of illegal aliens. Submitting these and other recommendations, the commission said: “Employers of migratory farm labor. . . . continue to offer jobs and working conditions that are no better, and in many respects worse, than those offered 30 and 40 years ago.”

The issue is job standards. We must raise the standards and conditions of work in migratory farm employment and thereby eliminate the dependence by farm employers on poverty at home and misfortune abroad as the foundation of the recruitment of their labor supply.”

“Ways and Means,” a typical Noel Coward comedy—a farce that is light and frothy—has been cast, according to its director, Little Theatre’s popular actor Jim Reynolds.

Jim tells me that next Sunday, April 15, we will see the following cast in “Ways and Means”: Little Theatre Director Stocker Fontelleu and Mrs. Elroy Smith will play the leads; others in the cast will be Roberta Guion, (Sister Margaret from “The Hasty Heart”), Bill Bassett (from the male lead in “Voice of the Turtle”), Henry Haas, Jr. (of the Flower Shoppe, who has so kindly helped us on every play we have had at Little Theatre) and two actors Jim forgot to identify.

Noel Coward, master of one act plays, wrote nine one-act plays in a series called “Tonight at 8:30,” to be presented in a group, three to a night for three nights. These plays have been done the world over by Mr. Coward and Gertrude Lawrence. Little Theatre is privileged to present one of these “Ways and Means” next Sunday afternoon and evening.

Besides the clever Noel Coward comedy, the Sunday afternoon Little Theatre extra will feature the popular Rhythm Harmonies of local radio fame. I am a little short of information on the musical gentlemen but until I can do a little sleuthing, I can tell you that they are very good. Their names are Tom Bearden, Harry Liner and Bryan Ritter, all students of Northeast State College.

Also slated on the program for Sunday afternoon are vocal selections by Lucy Upp who scored a successful performance in the last production “For Love Or Money.”

Lucy’s voice won first place for her two years in a row at Florida’s Music Festival and last year she won an audition on the Old Gold Amateur Hour.

Look it over folks; and I think you will agree that the Sunday afternoon show next Sunday promises to be something extra special. . . . Membership, don’t forget to send in your reservation early, ‘cause it will be open to the general public after April 13.

Random Notes. . . . Newest addition to the battalion at Northeast Louisiana State College is cadet Jay Ernest Griffith, young son of Lt. Col. Melville H. Griffith, head of the military dept. He put in his appearance a few days ago, landing at Base Hospital, Barksdale Field. . . . L. E. Rawls of Bastrop, well known in these parts, will call the benefit square dance sponsored by St. Ann Circle next Thursday, April 12, at 8 p.m. at St. Matthew’s gym. He will bring two or three squares with him and I understand they plan to put on an exhibition. The ladies of St. Ann plan to sell aprons and delicious home made candies at the dance. Sounds like lots of fun.

John Enders, our actor from “The Hasty Heart” has an interesting trip ahead. He and two other students from Northeast State College, Joe Monroe and Johnnie Bankhead, along with faculty sponsor Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton will attend the southern convention of the Music Educators National Conference in Richmond, Va., April 18-21. They plan to drive through and not only attend the convention but see some historical sights as well.

Ho’s Frontal Warfare Tactics
Against French Posts Withdrawn

Hanoi, Indo-China, April 7.—(AP)—Ho Chi Minh gave up today on his frontal warfare against the French. Off to a running start last fall, the campaign stalled lately under French counterattacks.

The present war of movement does not constitute the best strategy for the present and we are to return to guerrilla tactics,” said Ho’s order as recorded by a French listening post.

His field commander, Vo Nguyen Giap, supplemented this, saying: “Our objective now is not to march on Haiphong or Hanoi or even to occupy French posts. We are to begin a new war of attrition.”

Unless Chinese Communist “Volunteers” join the Vietminh forces, the French position in north Indo-China would appear to be safe at least until next October, when the rainy season ends.

French army headquarters interpreted Ho’s declaration as an admission that the recent Vietminh campaign to collapse the French defenses centered in the Hanoi-Haiphong salient have failed.

The rebels, who cleared the north Indo-China frontier region conventional military tactics last fall after about four years of hit and run raids, have suffered increasingly heavy setbacks since.

French sources estimate French troops killed or wounded 6,000 Vietminh troops Friday alone in stemming two heavy assaults on the Hanoi-Haiphong salient. But the French also have frequently suffered substantial losses and their manpower pool here is smaller.

Prisoners To Eat
Illegal Chickens

Uniontown, Pa., April 7.—(AP)—Chickens with criminal records will be the main course on the menu at Fayette county jail tomorrow.

The chickens aren’t ordinary by any means. They were prize game cocks seized by police as evidence in a recent raid at an old fashioned cock fight.

Forty-eight persons were arrested, either as owners of the birds or promoters of the fight. All posted $15 forfeits on charges of cruelty to animals.

Police said the birds weren’t needed as evidence because none of those arrested showed up for hearings. They added that most of the 48 men who forfeited their bonds listed their names as “Smith.”

MORAL REVIVAL CRITICAL NEED

Dr. Courtenay, Prominent Nashville Divine, Cites
U. S. Weakness

If we do not strengthen the moral and spiritual life of our country, we are ruined, declared Dr. Walter Courtenay when he recently addressed the Rotary Club here.

The speaker is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Nashville, Tenn., who conducted a revival service at the Presbyterian Church here. He was presented by the Rev. Ernest D. Holloway.

Pointing to the dangers that America faces today, Dr. Courtenay stressed the changes in philosophy which has come about. “If our founding forefathers had the philosophy which is becoming so prevalent in contemporary America their settlements would still be limited to the Atlantic coast,” he asserted. These men were fired with courage and spirit. They did not wait for the highways to provide them with highways, railroads, homes and other facilities.

Unless there is a great awakening we shall lose something that we can never grasp again, Dr. Courtenay warned. We fought the Revolutionary War to get away from big government, he said, but for the past twenty years there has been a definite trend toward big government.

We depend too much upon government officials at Washington, the speaker declared. “We are becoming too soft.” This nation needs liberal spirit—a will to find new ways of doing things. But Dr. Courtenay warned against the radicals who destroy and the visionaries who hope for a Utopia.

Stressing the dangers of communism and Socialism, the speaker asserted that communism is achieved by bullets; Socialism by ballots. Socialistic ballots can be as dangerous to the United States as Communist bullets, he declared.

This is a narcotic age, Dr. Courtenay explained. Socialism is given to the people as dope. They are needed by a program of economy to the point that they require it.

“I believe in the law of the universe,” Dr. Courtenay said. “We build bridges according to the law of the universe, we shall have bridges that will stand. If we build nations according to the law of the universe, we shall have a nation that will stand.”

Special recognition was given to Lewis C. Slade and Francis C. Reardon, two Rotarians who celebrated birthdays recently.

A visiting Rotarian was Everett Campbell from Michigan.

Angelo Patri
Our Children

CHILDREN AND MANNERS
Laby Sue and her mother met Mrs. Breezy, a kindly neighbor who stopped to chat. She had been shopping and on the top of the shopping bag were sugared buns in an open bag. Baby Sue, aged two and something over, helped herself to a bun and licked the sugared top before her mother could say “Sue!” in shocked remonstrance.

Sue looked calmly at her mother and took a bit. “Sue!” shouted her distressed mother. “How could you do such a thing?”

“Oh, let her have it. I should have offered it. Please let her have it.”

No indeed, Sue, you must tell Mrs. Breezy you are sorry you were so naughty. I do try to teach you good manners. Now say you are sorry and I’ll take my bad girl home.”

Sue, finding herself in disgrace and scarcely knowing why, broke into loud sobs. Mrs. Breezy said a hasty goodbye and went her way and Sue, still crying loudly, was hastened home, her mother scolding all the way about her bad manners.

Grown people should not be embarrassed when little children act like themselves. They, being children, should do so, and not be made to feel that they committed a grave error. The mother should have corrected the child’s mistake, or, course, but gently, understanding how the child felt and why she took the bun. When Mrs. Breezy gave it to her, why not let her have it, and tell her to say “thank you” now and next time to ask politely for what she wanted.

To know how to behave under all conditions, what to say, to do or what not to, is not learned in two years, not in many more. Experience is what teaches us and that takes time. All little children will make mistakes. They will take without permission and use without grace, speak out of turn and act out of season.

Don’t feel embarrassed. Don’t feel that the onlookers are saying “That child doesn’t get enough to eat at home or she wouldn’t take a bun like that,” nor that they are thinking, “That woman ought to teach that child some manners before taking her out of the house.” If they have any sense, and most grown people have that much, they smile and nod and think, “How like a child.”

Be patient. Teach by example and precept. Time helps a great deal.

Pilfering is characteristic of childhood, but children pass through this stage if they are guided properly. Dr. Patri’s leaflet P-27, “Pilfering,” tells what to do about it. To obtain a copy send ten cents in coin to him, care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

the welfare state) are doing so paradoxically ‘in the interests of saving free enterprise.’ But why should the state not have complete control over the economy?”

In a word, can we have half-socialism or 20 per cent socialism without becoming a socialized society? Actually, it cannot be done no matter who tries it and so far as the people are concerned, socialism in the Truman administration, through the depreciation of currency, is driving the individual who earns a living to the wall.

The quarrel between the treasury and the Federal Reserve Bank over interest rates is really over this question. The federal reserve system wants to improve the value of the dollar; the treasury wants to maintain the salability of government bonds. To use a colloquial term—the federal reserve system wants to restore some hardness to money, while the treasury wants to keep money soft. And so they compromise, which begs the question.

The government will have to sell lots of bonds to the public if this war program continues and the treasury has to sell those bonds. So far as the public is concerned, it is a question of buying bonds or paying higher taxes. On the other hand, the increasing depreciation imperils everybody’s dollar. The great economists who surround the president have planned and planned and planned and this is where we come out.

Miss Shallcross asks pertinently: “Are there to be tests for the planners’ efficiency? Or are the planners assumed to be supermen without error in judgment?”

And those questions are never answered in a political system which has as its keynote: “The government can do no wrong.” The answer could be that there must be something radically wrong if the value of our dollar is shooting downward.

Louisiana Science
Academy Elects

Shreveport, La., April 7.—(AP)—Dr. St. John Peabody Chilton of Louisiana State University was named 1951 president of the Louisiana Academy of Science at its silver jubilee banquet here last night. Voting was by mail ballot.

Other officers named were Dr. C. S. McCleskey, L. S. U. vice-president; Dr. H. Bruce Boudreaux, L. S. U. permanent secretary; R. K. Spears, Centenary, secretary-treasurer; Dr. G. C. Kent, L. S. U., editor; and Mrs. A. F. Gates, Baton Rouge High School, chairman of the junior academy.

Dr. Mary Warters of Centenary is outgoing president.

FORUM HELD ON SCHOOLS’ WORK

Classroom Teachers Have Discussion Of Public’s
Viewpoint

The Classroom Teachers of Ouachita Parish and guests were privileged to hear two beautifully rendered piano selections by Beverly Granberry, a student of Crosley Elementary School, at their regular meeting Monday evening.

Mrs. Helen LeFevre of the Ouachita Parish High School faculty, acted as moderator of a forum discussing “What The Public Expects of Our Schools.” Mrs. LeFevre opened the forum by saying in part, “The 1950 annual report of the United States office of education prepared by commissioner of education, Earl J. McGath was made recently. The report covers the progress in American education during 1950 and reviews the demands on schools in midcentury. Much more and better education is needed than ever before, according to the report, if our nation is to achieve the strength for defense essential to the long pull ahead. To meet this need is a great challenge to American education.”

Administrators and teachers are aware of this challenging task, but realize that they cannot accomplish it alone—they must collaborate with parents, business people, and the public in general.

One of the most significant developments in public education since the turn of the century is the formation in May 1948, of a national citizens’ commission for the public schools. Established to make the American classroom a better place to get an education, there is every indication that this dynamic group of non-professional leaders from all walks of life may become the guiding light to improve public education in the United States. Roy Larsen, president of Time, Inc., and chairman of the commission said, “It is time for all citizens to do something about school problems.”

Mrs. DeWitt Henry, in her very able discussion said in part: “First of all as a parent I expect the school to teach my child to be a useful citizen. Consider the ramifications of this somewhat overworked, abstract phrase ‘useful citizen.’ It has sociological, ethical, psychological and aesthetic meanings to say nothing of the knowledge—‘book learning’—the main taining of such a standard involves. It means financial resourcefulness and independence—the earning of a livelihood. It means political mo-reality and judgment—active contribution to the sustaining of Democratic processes. It means the tolerance that comes from understanding and knowledge, not the tolerance of indifference. It means a Christian awareness of the needs of one’s fellowman and not the egoistic astigmatism of atheism.”

Miss Margaret Ann Hunter, a Junior O. P. H. S. very forcibly outlined the students point of view. She said: “Let us see why the student should expect anything from the schools. . . . Some reasons are. 1. The schools are supported by taxes paid by the students’ father and citizens like him. 2. Twelve years of the person’s life is spent in school. If he lives to be 72 that would be 1-8 of his life. . . . and that is a nice slice of anyone’s life. 3. The world’s in a pretty bad state and pretty soon my generation will have the ‘run’ of it and if we don’t learn something from your generation, then I am afraid it won’t improve much. So we again turn to the schools to find the mistakes of the past and see that we must not make them again. Now that we see that the student has a right to expect something from the schools we must see what we as students do expect.”

Rev. Hugh Bradshaw, pastor First Presbyterian Church, West Monroe, closed the forum by placing the ministerial expectations before the group. “History tells us of usurpers who rule in the place of others and give us a picture of how ‘the times are out of joint’ because of their misuse. I should like to tell you that the times are even more out of joint when a usurper rules in the thinking of the people. . . . You teachers have done a great job teaching the ‘brats’ we have sent to you to teach. They have had no discipline in the home and they have found out in some way that they are supposed to express themselves fully even if it does take the matter of educational guidance from the hands of those trained to teach. The man who had more to do than any other in bringing about this sorry plight we are in—might as well just call his name—is John Dewey. He it was who took education and philosophy and made them handmaidens of psychology. He was a follower of Hegel. He was a great man; but how much greater he would have been if he had been steeped in the best of Christian teachings and beliefs.”

The following were named by the vice president, Mrs. Joe Coleman, presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Katie Mae Zoll, to serve on the nominating committee: Mrs. Eleanor McClendon, Mrs. Sarah Yates, and Mrs. Lois Edmiston. During the social hour delicious frosted punch, assorted sandwiches and cookies were served by the hostesses, members of the Millsaps faculty.

NORTHEAST CADETS PLAN ANNUAL BALL

Dance April 19 Will Rank High On Social List For Year

Cadets of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at Northeast Louisiana State College are making preparations for the annual military ball, announced Lt. Col. Melville H. Griffith, commanding officer of the Military Department.

Considered the biggest social event of the year, the dance is scheduled Thursday evening, April 19 from 8 until 12 o'clock. For the first time in its history the gala affair will be held off the campus, at the Progressive Men's Club, Selman Field.

Music for the event will be played by the Stratoliners, an air force orchestra from Barksdale Field.

Highlight of each military ball is the presentation of a coed queen and her royal court, selected by members of the college cadet unit.

Two cadet clubs are sponsoring the 1951 dance. The Provost Corps and Homines Militaris Legions (military men of the law), directed by Cadet Capt. Ezra L. Smith of Monroe and Cadet Capt. Olney J. White of Tallulah, respectively, are supervising the planning and actual work entailed in effecting the project.

This year the cadet corps selected the queen of the ball by popular vote from ten nominees. Girls who were nominated for the coveted honor were: Nona Gay Williams, Martha Carolyn Upshaw, Ann Lacey, Maurine Linquist, Mary Elizabeth Meredith Beverly, Sue Hearne, all of Monroe; Jeanne Sawyer, Jones; Leo Calhoun, Eva; Pat Ross, Winnboro; Sue Posey, Olla.

The identity of the queen is a military secret. The coed to wear this title will be crowned during a special intermission ceremony by Cadet Lt. Col. Thomas E. Bearden, battalion commander.

Maids forming the queen's court comprise the R. O. T. C. sponsors and those girls nominated who are not affiliated with the cadet battalion.

The formal event is open to all members of the student body. Tickets are on sale at the Military Department.

Military Activity Boom Is Expected

Washington, April 7.—Rep. Colmer (D-Miss.) has high hopes for additional military activity in Mississippi—including the reopening of Camp Shelby at Hattiesburg.

He told a reporter today he has information that the defense department soon will submit to the house armed services committee a proposed military public works bill which would authorize various military installations.

"I am hopeful and have reason to believe that Shelby will be included," Colmer said.

He said he also understands the navy is interested in acquiring the old maritime school at Pass Christian, Miss., for use as a communications center.

He said the navy expressed interest in the school as a place to train officers or WAVES but that it apparently was too small for such purposes.

STATE POLICE

Thirty-two persons were arrested by state police of troop "F" during the past week. Persons apprehended included five for drunk driving and three for reckless driving. Those charged are:

John G. Gibson, 41, route 1, Kelley; Thomas Ray Manning, 49, route 4, Bastrop; Edward D. Sutton, 58, Choudrant; Jerome Easter, 49, 710 Wilson street, Monroe; drunk driving.

Wilbert Williams, 41, Negro, 701 Texas avenue, Monroe; drunk driving and fleeing the scene of an accident.

Ashby Dumarfrat, 65, Kinder; Mrs. Fred E. Parrott, 28, route 3, West Monroe; Floyd Kilcrease, 28, route 2, Farmerville; reckless driving.

VIEWS OF CAMP "H" AT ANGOLA

Many Prison Heel-Cutters At Angola First Offenders

Scars From Lash Of Whip Are Displayed By Oregon Young Man

By Yvonne Brett

First offenders, housed in Camp "H" at the state penitentiary, consist largely of youths between the ages of 17 and 21.

Half of the men who cut their heels in protest against brutal treatment were interned in this camp.

Although these men live under better conditions than those which exist in the second offenders camp, there is no difference in treatment.

A 22-year-old Oregon youth, who had been sentenced to two years for simple burglary, reported that he had cut his heels because of the unmerciful beatings which he received from John U. Manuel, foreman of the line gang.

Manuel, whose qualification for the position was that he had been a farmer all of his life, works about 150 men in the field. Duties of a field hand are to hoe and plow from 7:30 to 11:30 and from 1:00 p.m. to 5:30.

The Oregon youth stated that the foreman had recently been to the ward in the hospital and said, "As soon as you get out of here, I'm going to see that you don't cost the state any more money."

This statement was issued by Manuel in the presence of ten men and Nurse Mary Daugherty. Scars could be seen on the boy's body which were left by the lash of a whip.

The statement of this inmate bore out similar stories from other men who had cut their heels.

Asked if he had ever mistreated a prisoner, Manuel, straight-faced, answered that he had never hit a man. Records of the penitentiary showed that he had been imprisoned by Superintendent Lawrence for mistreatment of prisoners.

These men are scared.

A 17-year-old Negro girl, housed in Camp "F", women's camp for white and Negro, explained fearfully why she had been placed in the "Red Hats."

"Another girl and I had had a fight and Captain Taylor, who is in charge of Camp "A" took me to the solitary cells. She was placed there along with 19 men. "The cell was so dark and dirty that I couldn't help from cry," said the girl.

"They took me outside the "Red Hats" and tied me to the ground," asserted the young Negro. Asked who had beat her, the girl replied that it was Captain Taylor and Charlie Mayor, a free man.

Mrs. T. H. Taylor, wife of the captain, was thoroughly aroused when this reporter was questioning the young girl and remarked that the citizens committee was doing nothing but making trouble, and she wished that officials would not allow them on the grounds.

Governor Earl K. Long appointed the committee to make an investigation of the prison and offer recommendations for the betterment of the situation.

A Monroe man, who is serving a ten-year sentence at Angola, refused to disclose how he had broken his neck. Further questioning was to no advantage, since the man displayed a look of horror concerning his neck.

Mrs. Mary Daugherty, prison nurse who has recently given her resignation which is to become effective April 15, asked that the boy not be questioned further, due to the outcome. "After the 15th I won't have any control over the treatment of the men confined in the hospital, and I would be scared of what would happen to him."

The prison nurse went on to explain the circulation of narcotics in the penitentiary. "Dope peddling is flourishing. The heroin, which I turned over to the citizens committee, didn't seem to scare whoever is conducting the business. In recent weeks I have seen definite signs that prisoners are still able to obtain narcotics."

"Many persons will ask how I know so much about narcotics as concerned with the inmates," said Mrs. Daugherty. "I see it every day. I treat men for the effects which heroin, marijuana, and other harmful narcotics, have upon their minds and body."

"The circumstances at Angola can be corrected if the citizens of Louisiana put their foot down," asserted Mrs. Daugherty.

The current Gregorian calendar falls by 26 seconds per year to represent the true year.

ACCIDENTS IN TRAFFIC CLIMB

'Alarming Trend' In Comparison To Previous Years Is Shown

Research by the committee on statistics of the Ouachita Parish Safety Council reveals "an alarming trend" toward a higher traffic accident rate in Monroe for 1951 than in previous years. This accident rate, the report indicates, has been increasing year by year.

In 1949 there were 770 accidents with 61 injuries and 4 deaths, and in 1950 there were 960 accidents with 121 injuries and 5 deaths in the City of Monroe. Computing figures on the basis of the first three months of 1951, the city can anticipate a total of 1132 accidents with 180 injuries and 12 deaths for this year. This means one accident for approximately every 35 residents.

The Ouachita Parish Safety Council is endeavoring to present such facts to the public in hopes that it will awaken everyone to the need for all citizens through-out the parish to become aware of the necessity of a greatly increased effort to prevent accidents.

The following chart of accidents, injuries, and deaths indicates a reasonable representation of what is in store for Ouachita Parish during the remainder of 1951 unless precautions are taken to prevent the increase in accidents as predicted.

William Baker Will Head V. F. W. Post

Winnsboro, La., April 7.—(Special)—William R. Baker was elected post commander of Hanna-Richardson post 3155, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Winnsboro, at a regular meeting of much interest and enthusiasm held March 29, according to E. Rudolph McIntyre, district commander. Mr. Baker is a World War II veteran, having served with the United States navy in the Asiatic-Pacific theater of operations. For the past three years, he has been very active in V. F. W. work and contributed much time and effort to the post home located at the War Memorial grounds.

"Other newly elected officers," states Mr. McIntyre, "include Ray Clawson, senior vice commander; W. C. Martin, junior vice commander; Julian Duncan, quartermaster; Garvin O. Miller, chaplain; E. R. McIntyre, advocate and William B. Robinson, auditor." The newly elected officers were immediately installed by State Senior Vice Commander Clarence T. Cash of West Monroe.

In assuming command of the post Mr. Baker stated that his post would in the near future announce details of the marbel tournament to be held in Winnsboro and a complete program would be outlined for the year 1951 insofar as V. F. W. work is concerned.

Coke Distributes Toys In Europe

Ostia, Italy, April 7.—Earle Cooke, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, today distributed the first of 300,000 toys for Italian children in the 1951 "Tide of Toys" campaign.

The initial distribution of more than 1,000 toys was made at an orphanage in Ostia, on the coast west of Rome. All the toys are gifts from American children.

The toys, collected in the United States by the American Legion, will be distributed throughout Italy by CARE, the cooperative for American remittances to Europe.

Among those participating in the Ostia ceremony were U. S. Ambassador James C. Dunn and Mrs. Alcide De Gasperi, wife of the Italian premier.

Orleans Pounded By Hail Storm

New Orleans, April 7.—(Special)—Greenhouse windows were broken by the hundreds, signs were damaged and trees stripped of foliage early today when huge hailstones pounded sections of New Orleans.

The weather bureau said it had reports that some of the stones were three inches in diameter. Other reports told of stones the size of hen eggs, golf balls, and ice cubes.

The uptown area bounded roughly by Washington Ave., South Claiborne, Carrollton and the Mississippi river was the hardest hit but Marrero and Gretna also felt the storm.

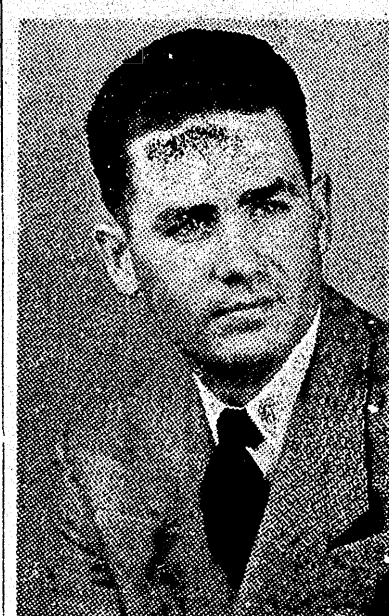

The hailstorm began about 3 a. m. and lasted about 30 minutes. Heavy rains followed until dawn when the skies cleared and the sun shone brightly.

One greenhouse reported between 500 and 600 panes of glass broken.

Hazlehurst, Miss., also was hit by hail but farmers said it missed cabbage fields in the area.

In ancient times, fans were used as fly swatters or fireplace bellows, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Pre-Emergence weed control in Cotton with

PREMERGE

A NEW AID TO PROFITABLE COTTON PRODUCTION

This season, Dow offers cotton growers a new dinitro type weed killer—PREMERGE—which can be applied to the soil during the planting operation. This important development is the result of three years of field testing by Dow Technical Service men in cooperation with state experiment stations—plus a successful season of commercial trial—in the Delta sections of Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas.

EFFECTIVE...ECONOMICAL

When applied with a sprayer mounted on the planter, or as a separate treatment within 24 hours after planting, PREMERGE controls germinating weed and grass seedlings in the top soil for as long as six weeks.

PREMERGE will control: Crab grass, pigweed, Florida Pusley, cowfoot grass, and most other annual grasses.

PREMERGE will reduce the population of: Cocklebur, coffee weeds, and morning glories.

PREMERGE will not control: Nutgrass, Johnson grass, Bermuda grass, and some of the deep-rooted vines.

This new development is particularly important at this time when there may be a shortage of labor and maximum cotton production is your goal.

PREMERGE IS NEW...USE IT CORRECTLY FOR BEST RESULTS!

Consult your Dow dealer or your local agricultural experiment station for suggestions on the use of this material. Or write directly to Midland—Dept. AG-51-161—for information on the use of PREMERGE in cotton and other large-seeded, deep-planted crops. Dow Technical Service men are available to help you incorporate PREMERGE in a successful cotton production program.

NATURE PICTURE BIG PRODUCTION

10,000 Miles Traveled By Two Hollywood Crews
In Filming

To make "In Partnership with Nature", the full-color motion picture scheduled for a preview showing in Bastrop, April 9th, two Hollywood crews traveled more than 10,000 miles in the United States and Canada and shot 25,000 feet of film to cover the widespread operations of the International Paper Company.

First scenes were made in March, 1950 in temperatures ranging down to thirty degrees below zero. To get them, Air Pierce, ace cameraman for the Raphael G. Wolff Studios of Hollywood, traveled by airplane, dogteam and snow-shoe through the Canadian woodlands to shoot winter cutting and hauling of pulp logs.

Later, when spring had freed the winter's log harvest from the frozen lakes, Pierce shot the shouting, straining lumberjacks during the spring drive of logs down Canada's vast network of rivers to the newsprint mills operated by Canadian International Paper Company, a subsidiary of International Paper.

About this time, a second crew led by Director Ford Beebe left Hollywood in a small fleet of trucks, vans and station wagons to work their way through the woodlands, tree farms and giant mills of the Southern Kraft Division then north to New England where the finest book, bond and specialty papers are made in stately old mills dating back beyond the turn of the century.

There both crews joined forces for another swing through the newsprint and dissolving pulp mills and the vast woodland limits of Canada.

Next came the behind-the-scenes work, the important technical phase that can make or break any motion picture.

Skilled animators traced in thousands of drawings to show the struggle that goes on between trees in the unmanaged forest and to illustrate graphically how pulpwood logs are turned into paper.

Film editors sat day after day in front of the "moviola" machine running scenes over and over again through the viewer to achieve the exact right balance in every sequence. Cutters clipped and assembled endless strips of film to make the smooth transition from one scene to another that is the mark of a professional job.

Then the script, which had been worked out in weeks of conferences between scriptwriters and company forest engineers and paper makers was carefully recorded and matched with the scenes of the film.

Occasionally, a voice was not exactly right. So a professional mimic came to the studio, studied the recordings for a while and then cut the sound track again, imitating the real voice in every accent and inflection so perfectly that the original speaker could not have told the difference.

An original musical score was composed and recorded by a Hollywood orchestra for dubbing onto the film's soundtrack.

Finally, John H. Hinman, president of International Paper, made a trip to Hollywood where an exact duplicate of his New York office had been erected on a sound stage. There, in a day of intensive shooting and reshooting, he recorded the brief message of welcome with which the motion picture opens.

Today, a little more than a year after "In Partnership with Nature" was first discussed, the film is ready for distribution.

So important do Hinman and his associates at International Paper feel that this message is to the people of the United States and Canada, that they are making extensive plans to have prints of "In Partnership with Nature" made available as a public service free of charge to schools, churches, civic organizations and other groups interested in the management and preservation of North America's forests.

AIR FORCE WIDE OPEN FOR MEN

New Enlistees, High School
Graduates And Others,
Being Accepted

The U. S. air force is now wide open for new enlistees according to Sgt. Jack L. Holloway of the local U. S. army and U. S. air force recruiting station, room 217 Post Office Bldg., Monroe. High school and non-high school graduates are now being accepted. All waiting lists for this branch have been abolished and young men who are thinking of enlisting are urged to do so at once while there are still plenty of vacancies.

The U. S. air force has many technical schools opening and qualified men are needed at once to fill these schools. Such courses as aircraft mechanics, auto mechanics, radar, radio, control operator, electronics, clerk typist and air force administration are among the many school choices offered.

New enlistees in the air force from this area are sent to Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. for their initial processing and training.

All men interested in any phase of the U. S. army or U. S. air force are urged to contact the recruiting station at their earliest convenience. The address is room 217 Post Office Bldg., and the phone number is 8570.

Mission Study On Near East To Be Taken Up

Dehi, April 8.—(Special)—A mission study on the near east will begin in the Dehi Methodist Church Tuesday, April 10, at 3:30 p.m. A planning committee consisting of Mrs. Lorenz Toer, study leader, Mrs. N. E. McElwee, president of the W. S. C. S. and Mrs. Don Wineinger, spiritual life secretary, have arranged for the participation of women of the church through sub-committees. The group on atmosphere is under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. E. Coats. This group will receive and arrange articles of near eastern art and souvenirs.

The group on worship will be responsible for arrangement of worship centers, and planning worship services for the study sessions, under the leadership of Mrs. D. A. Whitfield. The group on literature is headed by Mrs. Reese Halley. They will secure and display literature pertaining to the near east, as it is found in current books, magazines and news articles. The group on personnel is under the leadership of Mrs. L. M. Cooksey. Invitations and phone calls will be extended through this group. Mrs. N. E. McElwee is responsible for audio-visual aids to be used and planning of refreshments.

One Louisiana Congressman To Another: Hello Gov'nor

By Gordon Brown
Washington, April 7.—When one Louisiana congressman meets another these days, the mutual greeting, given with a grin, is "Hello, Governor."

That's because at one time or another most of the state's ten senators and representatives have been mentioned in speculation about candidates in the state's governorship race next January. It got to the point the other day where Rep. Herbert (D-La.) announced solemnly that he would not be a candidate for governor. All he wants, he said, is to be reelected to the house.

At various times, seriously or otherwise, names of Senators Ellender and Long and Reps. Passmar, Boggs, Brooks, Morrison and Hebert have figured in the speculation.

Senator Long, nephew of Gov. Earl Long, has told friends he isn't interested in making the race. There have been reports that he is among those urging Boggs to run.

Morrison, who made three unsuccessful tries for the governorship, says he's had enough, that he hasn't the remotest idea of another attempt.

And Hebert, while acknowledging some friends have suggested he make the race, has removed himself from speculation with his announcement.

Senator Ellender, likewise, is regarded as only a lukewarm contender. His position appears to be that he might run if all factions in Louisiana would agree on him. Such an agreement appears remote. Ellender's only public comment is that he'd have to be shown that he could be of more service to Louisiana as governor than as chairman of the powerful senate agriculture committee.

Of the group, Passmar talks most openly about being a candidate.

On the day Hebert made his announcement that he wouldn't run for governor, Passmar said "well, I'm not ready to make any such announcement."

Boggs is pictured by close friends as having been considerably interested at one time but as now having cooled off on the idea. It is no secret that Boggs' ambition ultimately is on a senate seat.

Brooks likewise hasn't said yes or no. He's made several trips home recently and concedes he's been sounded out by friends on the possibility.

The Louisianians need one another unmercifully on the subject.

Most of the group recently attended a luncheon in honor of Miss Jackie Hoffpauir, of Lake Charles, the Louisiana Cherry Blossom princess. Brooks had to leave early, prompting Morrison to observe:

"I wouldn't miss one of these delegation meetings for anything. You're a lot safer here than if you're not."

The needlers weren't able to get anything out of Boggs but they extracted this classic from Passmar:

"I can say at this time that I'll probably have opposition."

H. SCHOOL RALLY PLANS PROGRESS

Annual Literary Event Scheduled To Start At Tech
April 13

Ruston, April, 7.—(Special)—Officials of the North Louisiana high school rally association are busily making preparations this week for the annual literary rally scheduled at Louisiana Tech on Friday, April 13.

A total of 637 contestants will be entered in competition in subjects ranging from algebra to stock judging. This is an increase of 95 entrants from last year's events, officials announced.

Thirty-three schools will send representatives. Of these, six schools are entered for the first time in a number of years. They include Eros, Central, Quitman, Simsboro, Kibbourne and Forest.

Because of the increase in the number of contestants and the boosted interest in these events, officials here predict one of the most successful rallies in recent years.

Schools sending contestants include the following: Athens, Benton, Bernice, Bienville, Bonita, Chatham, Converse, Cotton Valley, Downsville, Doyline, Dubach, Elm Gove, Eros, Grayson, Homer, Jonesboro, Hodge, Junction City, Kibbourne, Lake Providence, Lisbon, Okaloosa, Central, Plain Dealing, Quitman, Ruston, Saline, Simsboro, St. John's of Shreveport, St. Matthew's of Monroe, Talulah, Weston, Winnfield and Forest.

Also included in the literary rally will be a number of music events.

Officials added that entry blanks for the annual high school track and field meet, scheduled here April 28, have been mailed out.

Motorcycle-Truck Crash Injures One

A motorcycle and pickup truck collided at the intersection of DeSiard and North 21st streets yesterday, injuring a 28-year-old Monroe man.

The injured man was riding the motorcycle. He was identified on police reports as Alex Donovan, of 315 Sixth street. Police said Donovan was treated by a local physician for minor bruises and lacerations. He was not hospitalized.

Police charged the driver of the truck—Samuel Wilson, 24, Negro, 1402 Grammont street—with reckless driving, driving a vehicle without brakes, causing a wreck, property damage and personal injury. His bond was fixed at $100.

Police said Donovan was traveling east on DeSiard street and Wilson was driving his pickup truck west when the accident occurred.

KIWANIS AGAIN TO STAGE PLAY

"Born Yesterday" Comedy Hit
Of Broadway Sponsored
Here April 21

Once again Monroe will have the opportunity to enjoy one of the top comedy plays of all times when the Monroe Kiwanis Club presents "Born Yesterday," staged by the Civic Drama Guild of Broadway.

A howling success on the Broadway stage for years, this side-splitting laugh treat is now being shown as a moving picture. Last week the star of the picture, Judy Holiday, received the highest award given to members of the theater when she was presented the "Oscar" for the finest performance given by an actress in 1950. Miss Holiday was starred in the Broadway stage production Paul Douglas. Those who have seen this play will recall the original humor and comedy as can be portrayed on the stage only. Citizens of Monroe and vicinity have the opportunity of seeing this stage play at Neville High School, April 21.

The Monroe Kiwanis Club recently presented "Harvey" to Monroe, this play being a tremendous success. "Born Yesterday" is even more laugh-provoking than "Harvey." Tickets are $2.50 for reserved seats, $1.75 for general admission, and 75 cents for children. Out-of-town people desiring to see the play may write Kiwanian Dave Agnew, P. O. Box 632, Monroe for tickets. Tickets will be on sale from any Monroe Kiwanian.

This will be another fund-raising project so that the Monroe Kiwanis Club can continue its very important youth activity program. A Girl Scout camp has been erected

SEROIS, ESTES IN TITLE BOUT

OKLAHOMAN GETS HIS THIRD CHANCE TO WIN MAT BELT

Semi-Final At Kallio's Arena Tuesday Puts Coffield Against Perry

Balk Estes, the talkative tussler from Elk City, Okla., has argued himself into a third chance at the light heavyweight wrestling title held by "Buff" Serois, Buffalo, N. Y. but this time its going to cost Estes, a one-time holder of the crown, money to get the match.

Promoter Gus Kallio last night announced Serois has agreed to defend his belt against Estes in the main event on his regular Tuesday night card here with Serois to be richer by $250—contributed by Estes—for giving the Oklahoman another chance.

Twice Estes has failed to beat the man who dethroned Jack Curtis, once here and once in Shreveport, but Estes feels he has caught on to Serois' style and was willing to bait the champ into the match by putting up the side purse after the Buffalo brawler had previously declared he intended to give somebody else a chance since Balk had failed two times.

Estes and his partner, Al Perry, won a tag match against Serois and Jimmy Coffield here last Tuesday, with Estes taking the deciding fall when he trapped Serois in an alligator clutch. His ability to take the champ in the fall that counted carried weight in Estes decision to post the purse for another title whirl.

Serois' main point in settling on the match was that he get the $250 "in my hands before the match starts so Estes won't see it again, win or lose." Kallio said the wrestlers will then divide the usual house purse of 60 per cent for the winner and 40 per cent for the loser.

Refereeing was blamed by Estes for his last loss to Serois, but he said the work of Bill Barney, West Monroe, was mighty good in the past week's tag match, and his chief request was that Barney be permitted to handle his next go with the champ.

Billed for the semi-final attraction are Jimmy Coffield, Kansas City, Mo., and Al Perry, Topeka, Kans. Both are relatively newcomers to the southern circuit, and Coffield made his local debut only last Tuesday.

Kallio, upon meeting Coffield, jokingly declared, "I knew Jimmy when he started wrestling, in fact he taught me a lot of my old tricks." I turned out that Kallio, the former middleweight master, was referring to Jimmy Coffield, the father of the matman now in the ring.

Coffield and Perry will meet in an hour limit match, two falls to win. The main event will be a 15-minute time limit match, two falls to win.

Wave Drops Two To Crimson Tide

New Orleans, April 7.—Alabama romped to a double Southeastern Conference baseball victory over Tulane today, winning 10-0 and 6-3 in a double header.

Bill Dunn and Al Worthington were the winning 'Bama pitchers. Dunn, a Gadsden, Ala., sophomore, allowed Tulane only three hits in the opener, facing but four extra men. Worthington had to have help from Al Lary in the last game. Both affairs went seven innings.

Mike Miserany and Tony Napoli paced Alabama at the plate. Miserany got two doubles and a single in six trips, while Napoli got four singles in seven trips.

Big George Kinek led Tulane with two singles off Worthington. Scores by innings:

First Game
Alabama 110 082 3—10 11 0
Tulane 000 000 0—0 3 0
Dunn and Napoli; Weidenbacker and Keen.

Second Game
Alabama 000 201 1—4 8 2
Tulane 100 010 1—3 5 2
Worthington, A. Lary (7) and Napoli; Norris and Keen.

Natchez Gas Gaps To Close Before Tackling Monroe Here On April 17

Indians Want Two More Hurlers, Veteran Outfielder And Catcher

By Norman Matthews (Sports Editor of the Natchez Democrat) Natchez, Miss., April 7.—(AP)—You can't fit these Natchez Indians into a definite corner of the pre-season Cotton States League baseball picture.

It all depends on how many of these needs are filled before the season opener at Monroe April 17: A couple of hurlers, who could give the Tribe one of the most solid pitching corps in the league.

One more veteran on the bases could give the Indians an experience-wise infield headed by Player Manager George Torres. Torres plays any post but usually second or short.

An old catcher of the large and aggressive variety, who could make the club a contender. And a couple of outfielders, at least one hitting from the left, who could boost the Tribe to a pennant.

Cotton States foes will note some familiar faces, particularly in the hurling department, and it is around these that the 1951 Redskins are very apt to be built. Veteran Bill Jones, .303 hitter last season, will be back at first for the Tribe and George Ruzina, veteran perennially named to the C.S.L. All-Star team, is back at third.

Torres will handle short or second with the other berth to be filled from recruits expected from Birmingham which has a working player agreement with Natchez.

The catching department is a gaping hole. Backstopper Tony Zini is attending the University of Arkansas and isn't available until June.

The outfield, with two vacancies—in right and left—should find big Jim Gilbert, leading Redskin slugger, back in center with his .345. In the pitching corps, there are the four leading hurlers back. Little John Miskulin, the Indians' southpaw workhorse, lefty Larry Fox and right-handers Donald Ridd and Roy Jayne are returning.

General Manager Tom Glennon, starting his third term at the head of the Natchez club, is looking for two more front line hurlers. They could come from his brother Eddie, general manager of Birmingham's Barons.

S. L. I. TAKES OWN TRACK PROGRAM

Bulldogs Beat Southeastern, Northwestern In Triangular Meet

Lafayette, La., April 7.—(AP)—Southwestern Louisiana Institute used 23 men to get 73½ points in a triangular track meet here today, edging Gulf States Conference foe Southeastern Louisiana College by seven points.

Southeastern of Hammond collected 66½ points, leading most of the way, and Northwestern State College of Natchitoches was third with 39.

Summary:
High hurdles — Gooch, S. L. I.; Poole, N. S. C.; Pattenotte, S. L. I. Brinkhaus, S. L. I. T.—16.1.

Jackson-Bienville Will Open Sunday

Hodge La., April 7.—(Special) —Opening date for the Jackson-Bienville Baseball League will be Sunday, April 15, it was decided at a meeting of the team representatives held at the Jackson parish courthouse this week.

Weston expressed a desire to become the sixth team in the circuit, along with Ansley, Chat-ham, Danville, Eros and Quitman. Each team will play 20 league games, with the schedule ending on August 26. Games will be played once each week on Sundays.

The leagues championship goes to the winner of the Shaughtnessy playoffs between the top four teams, and is in the form of miniature gold baseballs to each member of the squad. The All-Star game, to be played on Wednesday, July 4, will furnish proceeds for the purchase of these awards.

GREENWOOD SEES 'HOPEFUL' SEASON

Cotton States Dodgers Seeking Additional Outfield, Infield Help

Greenwood, Miss., April 7.—(AP)—With the Greenwood Dodgers in their second full week of spring training, the outlook for the 1951 golden anniversary season looks hopeful. The Dodgers are paper strong in the pitching department and the catching should be up to par in the Class C Cotton States League. However, they will need much help from Brooklyn for the outfield and infield.

The Dodgers will be seeking their fourth penant in the fifth post-war year of the league. If they are to make the grade it will be on pitching strength. Heading the 10-man staff will be Jack Champlin and Vince Bach from the 1950 club. Although both Bach and Champlin finished below the .500 mark in wins and losses, better things should come from them in their second year in organized baseball.

Backing up the two old hands will be Don Brate who won nine and lost two last year with Ponca City, Okla., in the Class D ICOM League. High among the excellent crop of rookie hurlers is Joe Roe, a nephew of the famous Preacher Roe, star lefthander of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Unlike his famous uncle, Joe pitches from the right side. Other rookies who have strong semi-pro and high school background include Robert Gates of Hattiesburg, Miss.; Marvin Freeman, from Albany Ga., and Roger Rossier from the west coast.

The catching staff is lead by the veteran Cuban backstop, Rafael (Chico) Fernandez, a consistent 280 hitter and flashy receiver. Behind the veteran two rookies are scrapping for the second berth, Donald Hines and Charles Parker. Both boys are considered outstanding prospects and the boy that doesn't make the Greenwood club will probably be farmed out to a Class D league.

Both the infield and outfield are definitely weak with all three outfield positions in doubt. Manager Lou Rochell and Santos Luberto will hold two of the infield spots but help from higher clubs will be needed before the Dodgers leave Vero Beach Fla.

However by opening day April 17, it is expected that this year's Greenwood Dodgers will once again be ready to be considered as one of the powerhouses in the strong Class C Cotton States League.

Legion Field, home of the Greenwood Dodgers, aside from having the finest playing field in the circuit and one of the finest in the south has replaced the old wooden grandstand with steel and concrete seating arrangements together with bath houses for the players and visiting teams, umpires, quarters, new concession stands and business office. Jack Lewis, who was with Ponca City last year as business manager, has assumed similar duties here succeeding Owen Martinez, who has been transferred to Ft. Worth, Tex.

Lotowhite Edges Ferd In Excelsior

New York, April 7.—(AP)—T. G. Benson's Lotowhite came down the stretch with a rush today to nip Ferd in the wire in the $29,800 Excelsior Handicap before a crowd of 52,110 at Jamaica race track.

Ferd, owned by Mrs. Andy Schuttlinger and winner of last Monday's Paumotu Handicap, took the lead in the stretch and appeared the winner until Lotowhite's closing bid under Jockey Eddie Arcaro.

The Yolo stable's Great Circle, winner of the $205,700 Santa Anita Maturity last winter, was third in the 11-horse field.

Time for the mile and one sixteenth event was 1:44 1-5, and the winner returned $8.70, $3.80 and $2.80. Ferd, ridden by Ted Atkinson, paid $4.30 and $3.20, and Great Circle, $4.30.

MONROE, ALEXANDRIA TANGLE HERE TODAY

EXHIBITION GAME BILLED AT 3 P.M. FOR LEGION PARK

Sports Acquire Two More
Pitchers From Shreveport Organization

The Monroe Sports, with hardly more than a week left in which to get ready for their Cotton States League opener with Natchez here Tuesday night, April 17, will meet the Alexandria Aces here this afternoon in an exhibition game scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium.

The Sports won their first game of the exhibition grind from the Evangeline League Aces at Alexandria Friday night, 9 to 5, in a game that saw Sports Skipper Al Mazur pitch the last inning, shutting out the Aces in order.

Dial 7121 313 Harrison St

This afternoon's pitching assignments for Monroe rest with Darvin Chrisco, Roger Stewart, and Craig Whetstone, Manager Mazur indicated last night. Chrisco, who has been seeing action in the Longhorn League is expected to be a sure worker today. It's possible that Stewart, the ex-Gulf Coast Leaguer who looked so impressive in the Sports exhibition at Lake Charles last week, and Whetstone may see brief action along with Chrisco. Whetstone, a rookie up from Monroe's American Legion Junior ranks, worked three innings against the House of David here Thursday night, allowing only two hits, but having trouble with his control and walking seven.

The Aces will come to town with some familiar faces, chief of which will be Charlie Cline, infielder for Monroe last year. Manager Otto Nicholas will also have Vince Liberto, third baseman for El Dorado last year, and Bob Barton, who was an outfielder with the Greenville Bucks.

The visitors also have back such performers as Bobby Gales, first baseman; Art Visconti, infielder; Billy Lynn, outfielder; and Earl Doherty, Al Alonso, John Laliberte, and Stan Peck, pitchers.

Meanwhile, Monroe has received

Baseball Slate For Week Here

Today — Alexandria (Evangeline) vs. Monroe (Cotton States), 3 p.m., Legion Memorial Stadium here.

Tomorrow — Lake Charles (Gulf Coast vs. Monroe, 8 p.m., here.

Tuesday — Monroe workout here.

Wednesday — Monroe vs. Tyler (Big State) 8 p.m. at Tyler, Tex.

Thursday — Monroe vs. El Dorado (Cotton States) 8 p.m., at El Dorado, Ark.

Friday — Monroe workout here.

Saturday — Tyler vs. Monroe, 8 p.m., here.

Next Sunday — El Dorado vs. Monroe, 3 p.m., here.

additional pitching support with the acquisition of two righthanders, Bill Knoke and Claude White from Shreveport.

White won 13 and lost 14 at Kilgore, Tex., last year. He worked 19 complete games, fanning 156 and walking 137 in 237 innings. He earned 198 hits and posted an allowed run average of 4.10. Not married. White is a 21-year-old 175-pounder whose home is at Oil City, La.

Knoke, with both Harlingen and Brownsville last year of the now defunct Rio Grande Valley League had a 3-3 record with 47 bases on balls, 47 strikeouts, and allowed 61 hits and 50 runs in 67 innings for an ERA of 6.18. He's 23 years old, stands six-foot-one, weighs 182 pounds, and hails from Carbondale, Ill.

Both White and Knoke are regarded as prospects. They're expected to make their first exhibition appearance for Monroe against the Lake Charles Club here tomorrow night.

Dave McKenzie, Monroe rookie seeking a place with the Sports, yesterday was signed to a contract by the locals. McKenzie was briefly with Pulaski of the Appalachian League in 1949.

Easter Injured, May Miss Opening Day With Tribe

Dallas, Tex., April 7.—(AP)—Luke Easter, the Cleveland Indians' slugging first baseman, tore a muscle in the thigh of his left leg in the second inning of today's game with the New York Giants and had to leave the field.

Trainer Wally Bock of the Indians, after diagnosing the injury, said that Easter would probably miss opening day. He is expected to be sidelined for close to two weeks.

SPARTAN BOXERS NATIONAL CHAMPS

Wisconsin Is Runner-Up At
N. C. A. A. Tournament
At East Lansing

East Lansing, Mich., April 7.—(AP)—Michigan State won the National Collegiate A.A. boxing team title tonight as light-heavyweight

Chuck Spieser pounded out a decision over Idaho's Larry Moyer in the 175 pound final tonight.

Spieser earned the home team its second individual title and gave Michigan State a total of 21 points for the tourney. Gerald (Jed) Black, hard punching 145 pounder, won Michigan State's other title. Victories in the final round count for five points in the team scoring.

Idaho, favored to win at the start of the final card tonight, came out without a single championship as Moyer, Frank Echevarria and Leonard Walker all were defeated.

Wisconsin took second place, one point behind Michigan State when Heavyweight Bob Ranck easily defeated Jack Sheberies of San Jose, Calif., State in the last bout on the program.

Washington State, which like Michigan State and Wisconsin took two individual titles, finished third with 17 points. Then came Idaho with 12, Minnesota with 11 and Gonzaga and San Jose with nine each.

Idaho and Gonzaga tied for the championship a year ago.

Other team scores were: South Carolina five, Miami (Fla.) and Penn State four each, Louisiana State and Syracuse two each and Army and Maryland one each. Five colleges failed to score at all.

Valley Baseball Loop Reorganized

Rayville, La., April 7.—(Special)—The Valley Baseball League has been reorganized with five clubs, hopes for a sixth member, and has reelected A. C. Carroll, Rayville, as president.

Clubs represented so far are Jagers Lane, Big Creek, Goodwill, Oak Grove, and Nelson Bend.

Any other team in this vicinity desiring to join the circuit should contact Carroll by telephoning 55 Rayville.

Two league exhibitions have been scheduled for Sunday afternoon. Goodwill will be at Jagers Lane at 3 o'clock, and Oak Grove plays at Big Creek at 2:30 o'clock.

Royals Trip Knicks, 92-85 In Opener Of Title Finals

Rochester, N. Y., April 7.—(AP)—The Rochester Royals, sparked by their lean rebounding demon, Arnie Risen, ripped the New York Knickerbockers 92-85, tonight to waltz into a 1-0 lead in the opening game of the National Basketball Association finals.

Risen, six-foot-nine former Ohio star whipped in 24 points as the red-hot Royals crushed the New Yorkers in every period.

Rochester, led by Risen's unerring hook shots and set shots by Bobby Wanzer and Bobby Davies, roared to a 51-34 halftime bulge. And the Knicks never came close.

Wanzer plunked in 19 points and Davies 14. Vince Boryla, with 13 points, was high man for the New Yorkers, who were far off their game.

The second game of the best-of-seven series will be played here tomorrow night. The third and fourth games are scheduled for New York Wednesday and Friday.

LEAFS BEAT BRUNS

Toronto, April 7.—(AP)—Joe Kluckay scored two goals tonight as the Toronto Maple Leafs defeated the Boston Bruins 4-1 before 13,962 fans to take a commanding 3-1 lead in the best of seven National Hockey League semi-final playoff.

MAY BLACK LIST JUNIOR COLLEGE

Northeast Mississippi Faces Athletic Expulsion For Use Of Pro Cager

Jackson, Miss., April 7.—(AP)—Northeast Mississippi Junior College of Booneville may be barred from all athletics by the National Junior College Athletic Association for using a former professional athlete at the N. C. J. A. A. Basketball Tournament.

The player, Johnny Stroud, played with the Jackson, Miss., Senators and the Laurel, Miss., Oilers of the now defunct Southeastern Basketball League.

He played with Northeast Mississippi J. C. at the National J. C. tournament at Hutchinson, Kas., two weeks ago and paced his team in the finals.

The Jackson Daily News said today that Stroud had been ruled "ineligible" by the Mississippi J. C. Association to play on a team representing the state elsewhere. It said the action came last night at an executive session of the association in Jackson.

At Lake Charles, La. Wayne Cusic, region seven vice president, said the action was a step in the right direction. He said he had recommended that Northeast be suspended for athletic activities as a member of the N. J. C. A. A.

Cusic said, "of course, punitive action in regard to the use of Stroud in the N. J. C. A. A. tournament remains with the officers of the N. J. C. A. A. I expect to hear from them shortly."

"Although Mississippi Junior College Association matters are beyond my jurisdiction, I think that the action taken (in declaring Stroud ineligible) was a step in the right direction and I am sure it will be appreciated by the N. J. C. A. A."

Northeast Mississippi J. C. won the region seven tournament here without Stroud and represented this region at the national tournament.

Demon Gymnastic Team Scores Win

Natchitoches, La., April 7.—(AP)—Northwestern State College defeated the Dallas, Tex., Athletic Club, 42-26, in a gymnastic meet here today.

Al Kopp, N.S.C. student from New Orleans, topped individual scorers with 18 points.

Summary:
Rope climb — Robert Vorhes, Northwestern, first; Bill Willis, Dallas second; Lee Reece, Northwestern, third. Time 5.4 (20-foot climb).

Sidehorse — Al Kopp, Northwestern, first; James Carlyle, Northwestern, second; Bert Babcock, Northwestern, third. 24.5 pts.

Rings — (Flying and still) — Bill Willis, Dallas, first; Kopp, second; Bob Johnson, Dallas, third. 25.5 pts.

Horizontal bar — Kopp, first; Caldwell, second; Babcock, third. Longhorse — Babcock, first; Ben Duhon, Northwestern, second, Caldwell, third.

Parallel bars — Kopp, first; Caldwell, second; Babcock, third. Tumbling — John Hicks, Northwestern, first; Jamali Ashmore, Dallas, second; Caldwell, third.

Trampoline — Joe Stocom, Dallas, first; Jackson Gaston, Northwestern, second; Ashmore, third.

Hollywood Handicap Won By Kinard's Johns Joy

Hallandale, Fla., April 7.—(AP)—J. A. Kinard's Johns Joy, taken to the far outside by Bill Cook to secure firm footing on a muddy race course, streaked to a four-length triumph in the $5,000 Hollywood Handicap at Gulfstream Park today.

Cook wisely kept Johns Joy on the crest of the track all the way in turning back William H. Veene's Black George, installed an even-money favorite by the crowd of 12,050.

Lextown, owned by Valley View farm, finished third.

IMPORTATION SCORES

Camden, S. C., April 7.—(AP)—Gift Of God, a horse from England, won the Carolina Cup Steeplechase here today. The 10-year-old chestnut gelding imported to this country about two years ago, was a rank outsider but charged across the finish line three lengths ahead of Friar's Melody, top steeple chaser in the midwest last year.

GAIN FINALS

Montreal, April 7.—(AP)—The Montreal Canadians edged the defending champion Detroit Red Wings, 3-2, tonight to gain the final round of the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs. The victory enabled the Canadians to take the best-of-seven semi-final series, 4-2.

SNEAD TIES RIEGEL WITH SCORCHING ROUND

HOGAN, MANGRUM, WORSHAM GROW LEAD IN MASTERS

Slammin' Sammy's Magic Putter Busy; Rain Hampers Tulsa's Pro

By Will Grimsley
Augusta, Ga., April 7. — Sammy Snead's blazing copper-headed putter and a dreary, drenching rain caught Robert (Skeel) Riegel today and so its a two-way tie for first going into the final round of the Masters Golf Tournament.

The hillbilly crosos from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and the young professional from Tulsa, Okla., the halfway pace-setter, were bracketed at the 54-hole stage with 211, five under par for the Augusta National course.

Snead, stroking sensationally on the greens, whipped around the 6,900-yard, par 36-36-72 lay-out in 34-34-68, finishing with the hottest round of the day.

It was perfectly dry when Sam started before noon and it was only drizzling slightly when he came in to report his best card in weeks.

Riegel, the former U. S. amateur champion with the blacksmith arms, had to look at this sizzling round and then go out and try to match it in a rain that grew in intensity. The skies were gushing when he holed out a par on the sodden 18th for a remarkable 70.

Just one stroke back at 212 going into tomorrow's climatic round is that ever-pressing little guy from Texas, Ben Hogan, who matched Riegel's 70 before the course became almost unplayable.

Lloyd Mangrum, the dapper Niles, Ill., veteran who won the National Open in 1946, was in third place with 213 after a hard-earned 33-77 — 70. He finished after Riegel.

Lew Worsham Jr., the apple-cheeked Oakmont, Pa., professional, followed at 214, a stroke in front of former National Open Champion Cary Middlecoff of Memphis and Dave Douglas, of Newark, Del.

The leaders:
Skeel Riegel, Tulsa, Okla., 73-68-70-211.

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., 69-74-68-211.

Ben Hogan, Ft. Worth, Tex., 70-72-70-212.

Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago, 69-74-70-213.

Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa., 71-71-72-214.

Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, 73-73-69-215.

Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., 74-69-72-215.

George Fazio, Conshohocken, Pa., 68-74-74-216.

Johnny Bulla, Phoenix, Ariz., 71-72-73-216.

Lawson Little, Monterey, Calif., 72-73-72-217.

W. L. Goodloe, Jr., Valdosta, Ga., 74-71-72-217.

Byron Nelson, Roanoke, Tex., 71-73-73-217.

Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, 74-70-74-218.

Jack Burke Jr., Houston, Tex., 73-72-74-219.

Clayton Heafner, Charlotte, N. C., 74-72-73-219.

Charles Coe, Oklahoma City, Okla., 76-71-73-220.

Al Bessink, Mt. Clemens, Mich., 76-73-71-220.

Dick Chapman, Pinehurst, N. C., 72-76-72-220.

Bob Toski, Northampton, Mass., 75-73-73-221.

Joe Kirkwood Jr., Beverly Hills, Calif., 73-71-78-222.

Bill Nary, Chicago, 76-73-73-222.

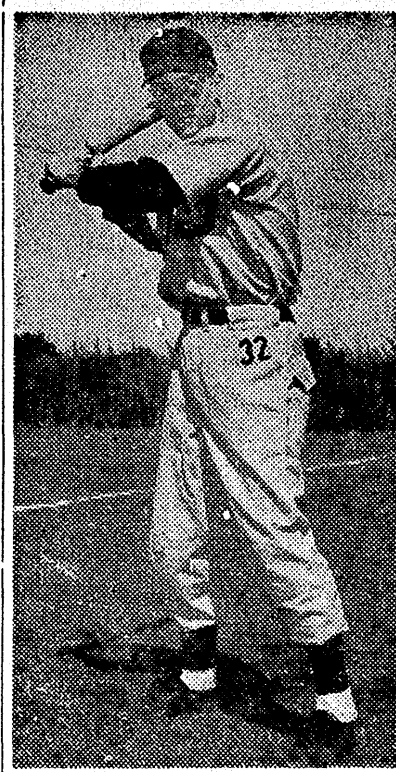

H. Ransom, St. Andrews, Ill., 74-74-74-222.

Julius Boros, Mid-Pines, N. C., 76-72-74-222.

Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., 76-75-71-222.

Gene Sarazen, Germantown, N. Y., 75-73-74-222.

Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, 74-74-74-222.

L. S. U. STAR Sam Davis (above), of West Monroe, is setting a good pace for his Bengal baseball mates this year, and connected for two doubles yesterday in the defeat of Auburn.

Louisiana State Defeats Auburn

Baton Rouge, La., April 7. — Louisiana State's baseball team won its third consecutive Southeastern Conference game today when it defeated Auburn, 3-0. L. S. U. Sophomore Pitcher Malcolm McCall pitched a two-hitter.

Jim Walley, Auburn's right fielder, got a hit down the third base line in the fifth inning and Julian Mock, left fielder, beat out a slow roller down the first base line in the sixth for Auburn's only safeties off McCall.

Bill Letchworth went the distance for Auburn and gave up only seven hits but two of those were doubles by Second Baseman Sam Davis and Fielder George Roussos.

Score by innings:
L. S. U. 000 200 1-3 7 0
Auburn 000 000 0-0 2 4

Letchworth and Gilbert; McCall and Murphy.

Hal Willis, White Sox manager, said his team would meet again today at Cloyd's Park for another workout. Willis told officials at the league meeting last Tuesday night that his team could be strong this year if all the players hit the practice field early enough.

The Mangham club, also a member of the League, is squaring off for the season with Johnnie Ballance, formerly third-base artist for the Winnsboro team, as manager. John Ballance said recently that the Mangham team would have to be stronger this year to compete with clubs like Winnsboro and Bastrop, and expressed confidence that Ballance could bring the team up par.

Like other teams in the league, Mangham is holding a drill session today. The Bastrop Barons, under Manager Ray Harrell, are set for action. At the meeting last week, they urged newly-elected President Larry Fox of Ruston to arrange a schedule as early as possible, to enable the Barons to schedule independent games.

The Winnboro club, newest entry in the Northeast Loop, is apparently waiting for a "go-signal" from Mangham before launching into pre-season contests. Winnboro entered the league last week, but agreed to standby for permission from the Mangham board of directors before making their entry final.

President Larry Fox, who is also head of the Big Eight League, is to confer with Mangham and Winnboro officials in the near future.

Hull To Coach Longhorn Quint

Austin, Tex., April 7. —Thurman B. (Blue) Hull, former University of Texas basketball star, returned to his alma mater today as head cage coach.

He succeeds Jack Gray, who resigned after leading his team to a share of the Southwest Conference championship.

Hull, played at Hughes Springs High School and Tarleton State College then starred three years at Texas under Gray in 1939-40-41. He was in the service, then served two years as head basketball coach of Temple High School, going from there to Beaumont to coach Lamar Tech for three years.

At the same time that Hull was announced to succeed Gray, Marshall Hughes was made assistant coach of basketball.

SPILLS FEATURE GRAND NATIONAL

34 Horses Fall During Wild Race Won By Long Shot Nickel Coin

Aintree, England, April 7. —The Grand National Steeplechase turned into a tumbling nightmare today as 34 horses fell or lost their riders. Only the winner, Nickel Coin and the runner-up, Royal Tan, came home without mishap.

Only three horses finished, one a remount.

Arctic Gold, the 8 to 1 post-time favorite from the stable of New York millionaire John Hay (Jock) Whitney, came to grief at the eighth fence. That is the noted canal turn, where the horses must swing sharply to the left to avoid the Leeds-Liverpool canal skirting the course. Arctic Gold had taken the lead from Caesar's Wife and Rowland Roy two fences earlier at Becher's brook.

By the time Arctic Gold went down, almost all of the other popular horses were gone too, in one of the most astonishing National since the first one raced in 1839. Thirty-one horses fell or lost riders in the first two and one-quarter miles of this catastrophic race. The crowd of 250,000 screamed and waved arms in silent excitement.

Nickel Coin, a 40 to 1 shot, partially ducked eggs and Irish beer, won the four mile and 856-yard race by six lengths from Royal Tan. Jockey Tony Power was thrown clear by Derrinstown about a mile from home. He remounted and the horse finished third. Royal Tan started at 22 to 1, and Derrinstown was 66 to 1.

Five were scratched from the final running. They were T. O. D. Knight's Pass, Hal's Venture, September Air and Luck Purchase. Jockeys, owners and trainers blamed the fiasco on a bad start. The starting net seemed to slap several horses in the face when a crowd of women in a bargain basement.

Freebooter, the 1950 winner, fell at the second fence when he bumped on top of the fallen gallery. Shagreen, the favorite until 30 minutes before the start parted company with Jockey Gerry Kelly at the fifth barrier.

Only Nickel Coin, Royal Tan, Gay Heather, Derrinstown and Broomfield were left as the field flashed past the stand the first time around the triangular course, with its 30 stiff jumps. The survivors had 14 more fences to go on a course softened by early afternoon rain and hail.

Nickel Coin, a nine-year-old mare owned by Jeffery Royle, grabbed the lead from Gay Heather.

Cherry Blossom Time Touches D. C.

Washington, April 7. —(AP)—The breath of spring softened world problems and political warfare in Washington today. It was cherry blossom time.

Some 600 cherry trees, lining a curved bay, burst into balls of delicate pink and white, in one of nature's greatest shows. From 250,000 to 300,000 tourists and homefolks were expected to tour the area, backdropped by the white-columned, circular Jefferson Memorial and the Washington Monument.

A 25-year-old government girl from Wyoming, brown-haired Maldi Tarris, daughter of a coal miner, was crowned queen of the annual cherry blossom pageant this afternoon.

JETS IN DOGFIGHT

eight miles inside North Korea. This was still the case in the west, latest dispatches reporting that only Allied patrols were able to keep up with the retreating enemy.

Whether the sudden stiffening in the center marked a general ending of the Red fallback was not apparent.

However, it was believed the U.S. Eighth army forces had still some distance to go before striking the main Chinese line. This line was believed to be along the railroad between Chawon and Kumhwa, 20 miles inside North Korea.

There have been many predictions that north of that line the Chinese were massing fresh forces for a spring offensive that would be their heaviest effort yet in Korea. The aggressive Eighth army drive is aimed at throwing this anticipated Red offensive out of gear beforehand.

Coupled with this aim, American B-29s Saturday heavily bombed the Yalu river bridge from Manchuria into Korea and 250 British marines made a commando raid near Songjin, Red east coast port 120 miles south of Manchuria.

The British, covered by American carrier planes and naval guns, demolished a section of the main-line coastal railway eight miles south of Songjin.

The B-29 bombers were protected by 30 F-86 Sabre jet fighters while 50 F-84 Thunderjets fought a swirling series of dogfights with 40 Russian-made Mig jet planes that attempted to intervene.

The Sabres did not get into the battle, but the Thunderjet pilots estimated they damaged two Mig before the Reds fled back to Manchuria, where Allied planes are forbidden to pursue. No American planes were hit.

Earlier Saturday two unarmed F-80 jet planes escaped when they were jumped by 18 Mig over northwest Korea.

The U.S. Fifth Air Force announced that during the week 90 Mig were sighted but only 70 remained long enough over North Korea to be challenged by U.S. planes. The score: 16 to 0. Four Mig were positively downed, 12 more damaged; no U.S. planes were lost.

A U.S. defense department briefing officer in Washington announced the British Commando raid at Songjin, 150 miles north of Wonsan and 150 miles south of the Siberian border. The U.S. heavy cruiser St. Paul and destroyers and carrier planes of task force 77 provided cover.

Censorship obscured details of the United Nations ground drive north of the 38th parallel.

Elements of six American divisions, four South Korean divisions, a British brigade and battalions from Thailand (Siam) and Greece all have crossed the old dividing line between Red and Republican Korea.

Allied losses were described as negligible.

The Chinese and North Korean Reds apparently operating under high-level command decisions, broke contact initially Thursday night on a 17-mile sector. Through Friday and Saturday the retreat broadened until it embraced the 50-mile western and central fronts.

An estimated 935 Reds were killed or wounded Friday, while 25 more were captured. Eighth army headquarters announced.

The U. N. forces were fighting inside the Red northlands from the Imjin river north of Seoul in the west, all across the peninsula to the sea of Japan on the east coast, except for one narrow gap.

A small Red covering force of about 250 men was deployed along the Hangye-Inje road, east of Chunchon. They guarded an escape route to the northeast.

While the retreat was on, Allied field commanders were well aware that the Reds still have a force of up to 180,000 men in a triangular defense area north of Chunchon. The area is bounded by Hwachon on the southeast, Chwon on the northwest and Kumhwa on the northeast.

AP Correspondent John Randolph, covering the western front, said a few Allied patrols crossed the Hantan river, four to six miles north of the 38th parallel. They returned after drawing Communist fire.

Eight army artillery continued to fire into Chinese hilltop positions.

On the central front where tank-paced American columns have picked their way through Red minefields and booby traps, stiffening resistance had been expected. Instead, a U. S. Ninth corps spokesman told AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw, "there was limited action throughout our sector."

British commonwealth troops consolidated large gains made Friday. Patrols pushed ahead without establishing contact with the Reds.

The Fifth air force Saturday flew 442 sorties and damaged eight towns, including the Red capital, Pyongyang. The air force, summarizing its work during the week, claimed destruction of 650 Red vehicles, 48 railroad cars, seven bridges, 3,000 supply buildings, 35 gun positions and nine tanks. It said 1,300 Red troops were killed or wounded by air assault.

TUG-O-WAR

avored this course in a letter read to the house by Republican floor leader Martin of Massachusetts last Friday.

On the other side of the fence, Senator Kerr (D-Okla.) lit into "MacArthur the magnificent," as he called the general, and charged in a blistering statement that "his one-man act is wearing the patience of the rest of the team mighty thin."

"The time may be nearer than we think," Kerr said, "when the over-all cost of keeping MacArthur as the theater commander will be greater than the value of his position."

"Sometimes I fear that parts of what MacArthur is doing could get us deeper into war instead of success," ending the one we are already in."

From Tokyo, MacArthur added fuel to the flames by saying the release of 120,000 South Korean troops from the United Nations force involved "political decisions beyond my authority."

Senator Ferguson (R.-Mich.) called this to the attention of Secretary of State Acheson. Ferguson wrote the secretary that, all told, a military reserve of 500,000 South Koreans is denied to MacArthur, and said further:

"I simply do not think it sits well with the American public to think that we are incurring more and more casualties in Korea, and calling up more and more men for military service, when employable manpower from the very country we are fighting for is not being used."

The state department, like military leaders and the White House, declined comment.

President Truman met with Secretary of Defense Marshall and Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. An announcement later said they discussed "the world situation." No details were given.

India's government asked the state department whether MacArthur has been authorized to bomb Red bases in Manchuria "under certain conditions." India inquired also about Rayburn's statement. State department officials declined to say what answers were given.

Mr. Truman similarly declined, at his news conference last Thursday, to say whether MacArthur has been given such authority. The president told questioners it was a military question which he couldn't discuss.

Mostly, legislators who spoke out today were on MacArthur's executive, was the first of the relatives to arrive at search headquarters here. He told reporters how his wife and her daughter by a previous marriage boarded the plane because of an orchid.

She had been notified only yesterday that her orchid had won the Sweepstakes prize in the annual Santa Barbara orchid show. She was en route to the show.

Also aboard was John Urgan, 38, California newspaperman and novelist. He was assistant editor of the Ventura Star-Free Press and had written several books and magazine fiction.

Ironically, a two-year-old boy became an indirect casualty of the crash. He was killed in a three-car collision in Los Angeles involving two air force captains driving north to take part in the air show.

The colonels boarded the plane at Paso Robles and were listed as sixth army officers en route to Newport News, Va. They were Col. R. T. Barry, Lt. Col. R. L. Coughlin, Lt. Col. A. P. Schlichten and Lt. Col. J. H. Byrd.

Former Undersecretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, just out of a hospital, accused the state department of relentless "harrassment" of MacArthur.

Hurley, once ambassador to China, said in a statement: "If the administration does not wish to win the war in Korea they should relieve MacArthur of his command. If the administration does wish to win the war in Korea it should take the wraps off MacArthur and allow him to employ the forces necessary for the successful performance of his mission."

Hurley has been hospitalized for injuries suffered when an unknown person attacked him at his front door last Saturday night. MacArthur's statement about the demobilized south Korean troops was made in a cablegram to the magazine "Freeman."

"The issue is one determined by the Republic of Korea and the United States government and involved basic political decisions beyond my authority," MacArthur said.

State department officials said the men were released as the result of "a domestic decision" by the Korean government. It added that the men apparently were not combat troops but "a kind of home guard."

Kerr's statement about MacArthur asked the question: "How can our general welfare be served by General MacArthur's open disregard of superior authority, his failure to cooperate with his own government or promote harmony with our Allies?"

Kerr said "it would be nothing short of insanity to take any action that might provoke an all-out conflagration," and he added:

"Our efforts must continue to limit the conflict in every possible way in the hope of achieving peace at the earliest possible moment."

HITS MOUNTAIN

A San Diego coast guard captain, D. B. Madiarmid, reported that the ship apparently "pulled up into a stall and pancaked flat down on the slope."

Madiarmid, in a PBV search plane, said the airliner had crashed at about the 2,500 level of Refugio pass, about 600 feet below the crest of a ridge.

Madiarmid said wreckage of the plane was scattered for 100 yards and that fire from the burned and wrecked craft had fired brush along a 50 yard strip.

"It just looked as if the plane hit the ground and stopped," he said.

He said there were no signs of life.

Ground crews, using bulldozers to cut a roadway through the primitive canyon, were expected to reach the scene shortly.

The crash was three miles from a highway and approximately 23 miles northwest of Santa Barbara.

executive, was the first of the relatives to arrive at search headquarters here. He told reporters how his wife and her daughter by a previous marriage boarded the plane because of an orchid.

Through the courtesy of the college committee of the Chamber of Commerce, that organization will play host to visitors and Northeastern students at a luncheon served at Brown Stadium. During the noon hour a demonstration drill by a select group of R. O. T. C. cadets will be given. On the specialty list is entertainment to be provided by high school seniors representing several schools.

Awards in the form of fee exemption scholarships to the local college will be given to the four highest performing students. These prizes will range from a four-year to a one-year scholarship presented to the students capturing the four highest scores according to the judges of events. The noon program is to be broadcast.

Spring calls for a style show, announced the home economics department so coeds in this field will serve as models for all types of costumes furnished by Faye Kramer's Shop.

On the afternoon calendar is a tea dance in the social room of the Student Center, where the two social fraternities, Alpha Theta Chi and Sigma Alpha Chi, will assist in extending courtesies of the college.

Throughout the day visitors are to have opportunity to view exhibits and demonstrations prepared by various departments. Already announced are exhibitions by members of the coed dancing class. They will demonstrate folk, square, and social dancing, to be followed by participation of all students who enjoy that kind of fun.

Displays prepared by the military department are to include weapons and criminal investigation. Cadets will explain the use of weapons, and army personnel and cadets will do finger printing, casting and molding of foot prints and the original investigation displays. Latest combat bulletins depicting action in Korea will be shown in Brown Hall auditorium under direction of the military department.

Other exhibits will take the students to the library, the science department, the fine arts building and other places on the campus, according to his chief interest or hobby.

Prior to 1950, both schools were junior college adjuncts of L. S. U. The 1950 acts, however, set them up as four-year colleges, under the state board of education.

A taxpayer suit, attacking constitutionality of the laws, was filed by State Rep. Carroll Jones of Lincoln parish. The suit, upheld by district court, named L. S. U. and the education board as defendants.

Jones argued that the laws actually created new institutions and, hence, required a two-thirds majority vote, instead of the simple majority they received. The state contended the laws merely changed existing institutions.

They are skilled in carpentry, painting and plumbing and they will lend aid with no remuneration.

Early in 1934, three years hence, the church will have a centennial anniversary, it having been founded in 1854, and it is planned to have the new, modern edifice ready for dedication at that time.

Several ministers who grew up in Alabama church were back to participate in the ground breaking exercises. They were Rev. John Davis, Minden; First Presbyterian Church; Rev. LOUISIANA OIL AND GAS NEWS

Small Refineries Given An Important Part In Defense

By Max B. Skelton

San Antonio, Tex., April 7.—Small refineries are to have an important part in supplying petroleum products during the national emergency.

A petroleum administration for defense official this week said these refineries possess the "flexibility" the industry needs for emergency operations.

Reid Brazell, petroleum division director, said the small plants figure prominently in plans for meeting aviation gasoline, jet fuel and domestic oil and industrial fuel requirements.

He said the number of products made in the small refinery is comparatively small, with operations and product yield changes normally causing little disruption.

The Alma, Mich., refinery spoke here before the annual convention of the Western Petroleum Refiners Association, whose membership predominantly consists of operators of refineries with small daily capacities.

"When an emergency occurs, the small refinery can almost instantly change his operations to produce the products needed and thereby give to the country's refining program the flexibility which is required," Brazell said.

The nation has less than 400 oil refineries. Their daily crude oil processing capacities range from 550 to 250,000 barrels.

Over half have capacities of only 5,000 barrels or less a day. Another 85 to 100 can process from 10,000 to 50,000 barrels daily.

Late 1950 statistics placed over half the nation's refining capacity in 31 plants, with individual capacities ranging from 50,000 to 250,000. These plants had total facilities capable of handling 3,519,800 barrels a day, compared to the nation's overall capacity of from 6,700,000 to 6,900,000.

Brazell said the abilities of small refineries to reduce construction costs of complicated and expensive plant installation will aid greatly in averting a shortage of aviation gasoline.

Some operators, he said, have removed, without loss of processing efficiency, the "gold plating" from normally expensive projects, thus adjusting costs to fit the pocketbook of the small refiner.

"We in pad view the small refiner as the one hope for causing the cost of alkylation units (vital to production of high octane aviation gasoline) to be reduced sufficiently to permit economical peacetime operation, he said.

The jet situation, Brazell said, still is being complicated by pending military specification changes. A jet fuel established two years involves a mixture of gasoline, kerosene and light burner oil.

"Normal gasoline, kerosene and light burner oil blends will no longer meet requirements," he said.

Specification changes normally require six months or more, but Brazell expresses hope products meeting the new jet requirements will be a production within a matter of weeks.

"As fuel demands increase, the small refiner can plan an increasingly important part in supplying military requirements," he stated.

Gauge Local Well At 110 Barrels

A 110-barrel producer was gauged in Concordia parish last week, but four other wells in North and east Louisiana were plugged and abandoned, the Conservation Department's weekly report showed yesterday.

The report identified the week's only producer as the Carter Oil Company's Orrin James No. 1 in 9-4-E of the Fairview field.

One of four wells abandoned was the Williams C. Nolan W. S. Harmon No. 1 in 34-9-TE of a wild cat field in Catahoula parish.

Another was the J. S. Michael Company's Nebo Oil Company No. A-2 in 9-8-E of a wild cat field in La Salle parish.

Two more wells were abandoned in the Nebo Hemphill field in La Salle parish. They were: Barnett-Serio-Jim Allen No. 1 in 26-7-3-E, and Barnett-Serio-J. W. Hailey Heirs No. 1 in 28-8-3-E.

Two new locations were sited in LaSalle parish. They were listed on the Conservation Department's report as:

The Placid Oil Company's Stof-La CatLake C-3 in 15-6-3E in the Catahoula Lake field, and H. L. Hunt Company's Nebo Oil Co., Inc. F-193 in the West Catahoula Lake field.

Heroic Marine, 19, Killed Before Daughter Is Born

A special memorial service for a young marine killed in action will be held today at 11 o'clock in the West Monroe Assembly of God Church.

Douglas Finley, Jr., 19-year-old father of a four-month-old daughter he never saw, was killed in action March 7, eight days before his birthday. The telegram has just been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Finley of 1312 Bennie Breece street, West Monroe.

Douglas had been in Korea since last August, having survived the Changjin reservoir trap in which hundreds of marines were killed, and had fought against the Red Korean thrust across the 38th parallel.

His picture appeared in the September issue of Life Magazine.

CRIME PROBERS URGED BY CLUB

West Monroe Lions Ask Senate To Continue Its Investigations

A resolution, unanimously passed by the West Monroe Lions Club, urges that the U. S. senate continue the Fulbright and Kefauver committees and that a permanent crime investigating committee be established and operated.

The resolution is as follows: WHEREAS, the United States senate has created and established a committee, headed by Honorable William J. Fulbright, for the purpose of investigating the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and

WHEREAS, the United States senate has created and established a committee, headed by Honorable Estes Kefauver for the purpose of investigating crime and corruption in our government and moral life, and

WHEREAS, these two committees have revealed startling and appalling evidences of favoritism, graft, bribery, and corruption between our governmental leaders and employees, and members of the underworld, and

WHEREAS, the findings of these committees are indicative of the existence of other evidences and conditions of graft, corruption, bribery, and favoritism, and

WHEREAS, the continuance of the work of these committees is of utmost importance in preserving and maintaining our democratic form of government, and

WHEREAS, there is a movement by certain governmental leaders and other forces scheming to belittle the work of these committees and thereby eliminating them. NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the West Monroe Lions Club duly convened in regular session this fifth day of April, 1951, that we strongly urge and request the United States senate to continue the Fulbright and Kefauver committees, and that a permanent crime investigating committee be established in the immediate future for the purpose of investigating malpractices in our American way of life.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, ETC., That a copy of this resolution be sent to Honorable Harry S. Truman, president of the United States; Honorable Alben W. Barkley, vice-president of the United States; Honorable Sam Rayburn, speaker of the house of representatives of the United States; Honorable William J. Fulbright, chairman of the Fulbright committee, Honorable Estes Kefauver, chairman of the Kefauver committee; Honorable Allen J. Ellender and Honorable Russell B. Long, senators from Louisiana; Honorable F. Edward Hebert, Hale Boggs, Edwin E. Willis, Overton Brooks, Otto E. Passman, James H. Morrison, Henry D. Larcade, Jr., and A. Leonard Allen, members of congress from Louisiana; Lions International Association; the Monroe News-Star; The Ouachita Citizen, and The Monroe Free Press. WEST MONROE LIONS CLUB, G. B. FOLDS, President. Normand H. Edwards, secretary-treasurer.

TOBACCO CHEWER MAY BE ADOPTED

Couple Wants Boy Who Hobbled Eight Miles On Broken Leg

Huntington, W. Va., April 7.—A married couple is considering adopting Jimmy Sloan, the tobacco-chewing 13-year-old who hobbled eight miles on homemade crutches to get his broken leg mended.

Hospital officials said yesterday they had received an inquiry from Mr. and Mrs. William Richardson of Pittsburgh.

Richardson said, "We admire his spunk."

A native of West Virginia himself and a salesman, he added, "I know conditions in the area and it's a shame that more of us who can help don't."

The area is an isolated part of Wayne county, where Jimmy suffered the broken leg in a fall from a horse. The accident occurred on a relative's farm, where he had been staying.

That was four weeks ago. The youngster didn't seek medical aid until early this week, when the pain became too great to bear any longer.

Placed in a hospital by a sympathetic circuit judge's wife, Mrs. Charles W. Ferguson, he blandly told nurses he had been chewing tobacco since he was six and had spent only about ten days in school all his life.

The Richardsons, who have a 17-year-old daughter, have called the hospital twice to ask about Jimmy's condition. They also sent a letter and $5 when they first learned of his plight.

Then came the call about adopting him.

"There are many things to consider," Richardson said, "but we admire his spunk and give him a lot of credit."

Jimmy's case has brought reaction throughout the state.

COTTON

New York

New York, April 7.—(M)—Cotton futures, following a firm start, turned reactionary today. Trading was active. Earlier in the session there was further buying of cotton which was induced by the strength in old crop deliveries. However, the advance attracted profit taking and prices quickly gave ground, eliminating earlier gains.

Futures closed unchanged to 1 1/2 a bale lower than the previous close.

New Orleans

New Orleans, April 7.—(M)—Cotton futures advanced here early today but reacted downward later under weekend long liquidation and scattered hedge selling.

Closing prices were steady 25 cents to $1.10 a bale lower.

Trading was quiet. Further rains in dry areas of the belt and unfavorable textile reports caused some of the late selling.

Spot cotton remained unchanged at the government ceiling price of 44.91 cents a pound for middling 15-16 inch. Local spot sales amounted to 272 bales.

PALSY VICTIM

LIKES LETTERS

Boy's Grandmother, Herself Ill, Says Child Appreciates Mail

Union, Ind., April 7.—(M)—The sympathy Mrs. Nora Hornbrook wants is not for her pneumonia, but for her five-day-old grandson, lying bedfast beside her.

Brown-eyed Bobby Lee Sanders has been crippled since birth by cerebral palsy.

All was going well until grandma, who is 65, had to go to bed, too, because of virus pneumonia. But she didn't waste her time on self-pity.

"May God give me health to care for Bobby Lee," she wrote in a letter to the Associated Press appealing for mail for the boy. "He's going downhill fast, losing weight and don't eat scarcely anything any more. It's breaking my heart. He did weigh 38 pounds, but he won't weigh more than 30 now."

"He is almost helpless. Can't even raise his little head himself. He has a wonderful mind, has a great sense of humor, and oh how he loves love to receive mail of any kind."

"He can take steps when we hold him up."

"Those who know Christ, please pray from the depths of your hearts that there will be a way provided for Bobby to be made better."

Bobby's mother, Mrs. Helen Sanders, 27, is taking care of the ailing grandmother and boy. She has temporarily left her job as a spot welder in an Indianapolis plant.

The father, Elmer, works as a truck driver in Indianapolis, about 40 miles south of Union.

Since both parents work, Mrs. Hornbrook and her husband, Marshall, a janitor for the Union school, have cared for Bobby and sometimes keep his three-year-old sister, Donna.

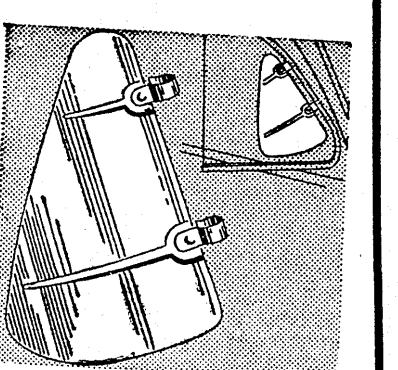

Postmaster Fred Lindy said Bobby usually gets five or six letters a week.

"Bobby never gets tired of me reading to him," Grandma said. "Oh, God, may something help."

MISS RUTHIE MAE WILKINSON AND ROBERT PARKER EXCHANGE VOWS

An early spring wedding of simplicity and beauty was that which united Miss Ruthie Mae Wilkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Estes Wilkinson of Perryville and Robert Earl Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Parker, Sr., of Sterlington.

The marriage was solemnized in the First Baptist Church of Sterlington, Friday, March 23 at five o'clock in the evening, with the Rev. T. J. Welch, pastor, officiating.

The bride and groom exchanged the vows of the impressive double ring ceremony before the altar which was beautifully decorated with arched candelabra holding slender white tapers and floor baskets overflowing with dogwood, white lilies and bridal wreath against a background of southern smilax which made a picturesque setting for the candlelight service. Bows of white satin ribbon marked the reserved pews.

Preceding and during the ceremony a program of nuptial music was played by the pianist, Mrs. Fred Perry. She accompanied Billy Joe Milstead as he sang, "Oh Promise Me" and "Because."

The candlelighters were the Misses Imogene Noble and Joann Amos. Miss Noble wore an orchid taffeta dress and Miss Amos wore a pink taffeta. They were ballerina length, and were fashioned with high necks with Peter Pan collars and buttoned down the front to the waist with self covered buttons. They wore a cluster of daisies in each side of their hair.

The lovely brunette bride given in marriage by her father wore a white lace ballerina length dress over a blue taffeta slip. It had a low square neck with a little turn back collar edged in blue taffeta. A blue taffeta sash was worn at the waist. Her head dress was fashioned of white lace over blue taffeta, with tiny white roses across the top. A shoulder length veil was attached to this pretty little cap. For something old she wore a lavallier that belonged to a friend. Her bouquet was of pink roses and was centered with a purple orchid.

Mrs. O. J. Parker, Jr. was the matron of honor. She wore a yellow taffeta, ballerina length dress fashioned with an off-the-shoulder neck line. She wore a cap of yellow net caught over each ear with a cluster of daisies. The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Jane Lewis.

Mrs. Ardis Ponder Hostess At Meeting Of Garden Club

Members of the Bayou DeSiard Garden Club were invited to hear Mrs. Mildred Swift at its regular meeting Wednesday.

Mrs. Swift gave a very interesting talk on "Gardens". One of her main topics of discussion was how to prevent food shortage in this national emergency.

Four helpful booklets were passed out on the following subjects: "Louisiana Home Garden Planting Guide", "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables", "Jellies, Jams, Preserves", and "Home Freezing of Foods".

Mrs. W. C. Honeycutt was voted on and accepted as a new member.

Attractive 1951-52 yearbooks were distributed by the president, Mrs. F. T. Smith, Jr.

At the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Ardis Ponder, hostess, and Mrs. Jack Rushing, co-hostess.

The following members were present: Mrs. J. S. Cage, Mrs. Dan Dennett, Mrs. R. D. Farr, Jr., Mrs. R. T. Farr, Mrs. W. S. Gannaway, Mrs. Crummen Gillette, Mrs. R. C. Haller, Mrs. J. S. Huffman, Mrs. Delmas Jackson, Mrs. W. G. Miller, Mrs. Ponder, Mrs. Rushing, Mrs. F. T. Smith, Jr., Mrs. Carl J. Thompson, Mrs. Enos L. Thompson and Mrs. H. W. Tolson.

She wore a dress and cap of Nile green made identical to the matron of honor. They both carried bouquets of azaleas and white daisies.

Mr. O. J. Parker, Jr. served his brother as best man. The ushers were Bobby Horton, Percy Wheeler and Mark Boatwright.

Mrs. Wilkinson chose for her daughters' wedding a navy crepe dress trimmed in navy taffeta. Her accessories were of navy and she wore a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a two piece navy crepe dress with navy accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the Baptist parsonage for the immediate families and close friends.

Attractive arrangements of spring flowers were placed at vantage points in the reception rooms. The bride's table was covered with a beautiful outwork cloth and was centered with a bouquet of white lilies and bridal wreath in a crystal bowl. The three tiered wedding cake beautifully embossed and topped with a miniature bride and groom was on one end of the table and the punch bowl graced the other end. Mrs. E. T. Webb served the cake and Mrs. O. J. Parker, Jr. poured the punch.

Mrs. Bobby Jean Hammons presided at the bride's book.

The couple took a short wedding trip to Dallas and Fort Worth, Tex. For traveling the bride wore a navy and white dress with a navy bolero with accessories of white. Her corsage was the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The groom is a student at Tulane University in New Orleans. At present Mrs. Parker is making her home with her parents.

W. S. C. S. Of Methodist Church Has Business And Program Meeting

The W. S. C. S. of First Methodist Church met at the church Tuesday, April 3, for business and program meeting. Mrs. Mike John Jr., president, presided and Mrs. Earl Hitt recorded.

A committee to be in charge of plans for the state conference to be held in Monroe in October was appointed as follows: Mrs. E. P. Cudd, chairman, and Mrs. E. N. Jackson and Miss Juanita Porter, co-chairmen.

Announcement was made by the president that the district meeting will be held in Ferriday, La., Tuesday, April 12, at 9:30 a.m. All officers are urged to attend.

The nominating committee consisting of Mrs. A. R. Holloway as chairman and Mrs. J. H. McCormick and Mrs. J. K. Brothers, Jr., were appointed to select officers to fill vacancies for next year.

Mrs. F. L. Jones, supply secretary, announced that a large box of clothing was ready to be sent to Korea.

Mrs. Gaston Eikei, promotion secretary, presented a plan for a membership drive. A "Hope Chest" of 100 prospective names was presented and each member drew a name to visit for the purpose of securing her as a member of the W. S. C. S. The names will be presented at each meeting until all have been drawn and called on. A report is expected at the next meeting from each who took a name at this meeting.

A very interesting program was arranged by Mrs. Skeeter Morgan, who gave the invocation and prayer. Mrs. J. J. Joyce, vice-president, introduced Mrs. Amie Cook, mother of Mrs. Morgan, who gave an interesting talk on the subject, "The Changing Pattern of Women."

Others on the program were Mrs. DeWitt Henry, Mrs. Skeeter Morgan, Mrs. G. M. Mott, Mrs. W. C. Bates, Mrs. J. K. Brothers, Jr., and Mrs. James Harbuck, who joined in comments on different women in christian work today.

The meeting was adjourned with the benediction.

CUT WEDDING CAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earl Parker shown cutting their wedding cake following their marriage in Sterlington on March 23. The bride, the former Miss Ruthie Mae Wilkinson, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Estes Wilkinson of Perryville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Parker, Sr., of Sterlington.

MISS GLORIA HENDERSON BRIDE OF CHARLES TAYLOR VEAR

A wedding of unusual beauty took place the morning of March 26, at the St. Michael's Church in Wheaton, Ill., when Gloria C. Henderson became the bride of Charles Taylor Vear. The Rev. James Lynch performed the double ring ceremony at the nuptial mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark P. Henderson, 319 North Cross street, Wheaton, Ill. Mr. Vear is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Vear, 427 West street, Wheaton. Mr. Lois Carson formerly of Jonesboro, now a prominent business man of Monroe, is an uncle of the bride.

The church was filled with lilies which decorated it for the Easter Sunday services. Miss Henderson approached the altar on the arm of her father. Her gown was chantilly lace over a full skirt of three layers of tulle. Her veil was mantilla of chantilly held in place with a tiara of white roses, flower of Sigma Chi, the groom's fraternity.

She carried a crystal rosary, a gift from her godmother, Mrs. George O'Connor, with a mother of pearl prayer book which had been in her godmother's family for several generations and had been blessed by the pope. Each bride that carried it signed her name in it. Her bouquet was a simple spray of roses with lilies of the valley. Her only jewelry was a gold cross, gift of the groom.

Maid of honor was Miss Mary Jane Lacey of Lacey, Wheaton, a former classmate of the bride at Wheaton High School. Other attendants included another classmate, Patricia Berry of Wheaton, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Judd Vear of Chicago. The attendants wore sprout green chantilly type lace with matching lace headbands with dubonnet bismark stock. They carried sprays of the same flowers. The maid of honor's flowers were fuchsia. Best man was Judd Vear, brother of the groom. Ushers were the other two Vear brothers, David and John.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of soft beige crepe with pink accessories and a single pink ca-melia. The mother of the groom wore gray satin and violets.

A fraternity brother of the groom, Sigma Chi from De Paul University, Phil Davis, was soloist. A reception and buffet wedding breakfast followed the ceremony at the home of the brides parents along with the wedding cake and punch for 150 guests. The rambling old house, one of Wheaton's well known early homes, lent itself well for the occasion. Graciousness and simplicity were keynotes for the wedding and carried through all the details. Highlight of the reception was a rendition to the couple by the Sigma Chi's present singing, "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi."

Hostesses and assistants serving at the reception included the sister of the bride, Mrs. Arnie Strassenburg, who served the punch, Miss Thalia Tetro who cut the cake, Miss Joan Mize who served coffee, and Miss Grace Felgar who had charge of the guest book.

For her going away costume the new Mrs. Vear chose a navy blue suit with white accessories with a red topcoat. The young couple left immediately for Indianapolis where they will live while he completes work for his masters degree in sociology at the graduate school

DOUGLAS PETTIS AND WILLIAM BIDEZ UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Killian Pettis announce the marriage of their daughter, Douglas, to William Earl Bidez of Bastrop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leo Bidez of Mobile, Ala.

The wedding was quietly solemnized in the home of the bride's parents on Friday, March 16, at six o'clock in the evening. The Rev. Jack Midyett officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of the family and a few close friends.

The fireplace mantel in the living room, forming an altar before which the vows were exchanged, was simply decorated at either end with identical floral plaques of maroon gladioli, pastel pink stock, pink carnations and daffodils arranged in pale green containers. Smilax and southern greenery were entwined in the fireplace screen and about the seven-branched candelabra burning ivory tapers which stood at either end of the fireplace.

Centered above the mantel and giving sentiment to the occasion was a painting of "The Shades", historic ante-bellum home built by the bride's great-grandfather in West Feliciana parish.

Mrs. Marion Brown, garbed in a black crepe with which she wore a corsage of pink carnations, played "Angel's Serenade" while the tapers were lighted by Mr. Bill Fudickar. Mrs. Brown also played the precessional as the wedding party assembled before the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of rose-blossom chantilly lace, made ballerina length. A small fitted jacket was worn over the chiffon bodice, designed with a square neckline which was outlined in roses formed of chiffon and centered with sequins. A hat of matching lace with a halo ruffle and matching lace mitts completed the bridal ensemble. She carried a bouquet of crimson roses centered upon a white prayer book from which fell white satin streamers.

The bride's only attendant, her small daughter, Muffy, wore a frock of blue lace designed similarly to the bride's with a fitted jacket and made ballerina length. A double ruffle of the blue lace was caught to her head with a bandeau of fresh flowers. Her colonial nosegay bouquet was formed of pastel spring flowers centered with one perfect rose and outlined with a ruffle of the blue lace.

Conway L. Jernigan served the groom as best man.

A small reception was held in the home immediately following the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with a hand made banquet cloth, handwork of the bride's grandmother, and centered with an antique five-branched silver candelabra festooned with maline in shades of pink to deepest rose. Puffs of the maline were caught at intervals with pink carnations and sweetheart roses. A tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was at one end of the table, and at the other was the crystal punch bowl presided over by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. F. Keller of Monroe. Mrs. Keller, gracious in a gown of gold-leaf lace with which she wore a yellow rosebud corsage, was assisted in serving by the Misses Kay and Libby Lou Fudickar, nieces of the bride. Mrs. E. W. Fudickar, sister of the bride, cut and served the cake after the bride had cut the first piece.

Mrs. Pettis, mother of the bride, wore a dress of forest green lace. Her corsage was of yellow lilies. For their wedding trip to the Gulf Coast, Mrs. Bidez was wearing a frock of navy sheer topped by a short reversible white and navy coat. Her hat was of white felt and her shoes and bag were of navy. Her corsage was of crimson roses.

The bride is a graduate of Neville High School and attended college in Ruston. The groom received his degree from Auburn University in his home state of Alabama and was with the United States navy on overseas duty during the war.

Upon their return to Bastrop, Mr. and Mrs. Bidez will be at home to their friends at 701 Todd street.

Out of town relatives present for the ceremony were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. F. Keller and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Keller, Jr., all of Monroe.

Poetry Recital To Be Given In Oak Ridge By Mrs. J. R. White

Mrs. J. R. White has been invited by members of the Pierian Club, of Oak Ridge, to give a poetry recital there on Tuesday afternoon, April 10.

Mrs. White has chosen for special reading lyric poems from some of the noted writers, namely, the late B. Y. Williams, Robert Frost, and Robert P. Tristram Coffin. She will also read some of her own poems taken from her latest book, Forty Acres, and also These Are My Hills, the latter book is now in its third edition. In connection with Mrs. White's work with poetry she has served as judge for a poetry contest sponsored by members of the Bobash-las Book Club of West Monroe for five consecutive years. Each year the students of the four grammar schools of West Monroe, are given an opportunity to participate in the contest, and approximately two hundred poems are entered each year. Liberal rewards are always made to the winners by the Club. She also works with Y-Teen, groups in cooperation with school programs.

Mrs. White and Mrs. Zell Smith will make the trip together to Oak Ridge.

Males arrested in the U. S. during 1949 numbered 718,444 or an increase of 4.5 per cent over 1948. Female arrest prints increased only 2.1 per cent over 1948. Fingerprint cards showing the arrests of women made up 9.9 per cent of all the fingerprint cards received during the year.

BRIDE AND GROOM

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Henderson, Jr., shown following their marriage which was solemnized March 17 in this city. Mrs. Henderson, the former Miss Sarah Horton, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Horton, of New Orleans, formerly of Sterling. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Henderson, of this city.

Miss Sara Horton
And Albert Henderson
Take Wedding Vows

Claiming widespread interest is the announcement of the wedding of Miss Sara Horton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Horton, of New Orleans, formerly of Sterling, and Mr. Albert E. Henderson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Henderson, of this city, which took place March 17.

Dr. E. K. Means officiated at the double ring ceremony which was solemnized at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Carlton Salley at ten o'clock in the morning, in the presence of the immediate families.

Mrs. Salley was the bride's only attendant. Mr. A. E. Henderson served his son as best man. The bride is a graduate of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. The groom graduated from Louisiana Tech. He was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. He is employed by Louisiana Power and Light Company in New Orleans. They will make their home at 8425 Stroelitz street in that city.

Girl Scout News

One of the most important steps that have been taken in Girl Scouting has been the creation of the girl planning board, made up of one or two girls like to do things by (two) representatives from each intermediate troops. The girls tell what their troop suggests and carry decisions back to their own troops. At two meetings they worked on plans for the birthday observance and the next on plans for summer activities. Mrs. W. T. Davis, Juliette Low chairman, was advisor for these meetings.

Now for the next two meetings they will serve as a junior camp committee. Next Saturday they will go to the new troop camp, where they will explore the site and plan troop camping later in the spring and summer. The elected representatives will meet at the Girl Scout office, 412 Hall street, at 9:30 Saturday morning, April 4, and will leave camp for the return trip at 1:00 p.m. Each girl must bring four things, a notebook and pencil, and written permission from her parent. Mrs. W. V. Roy, new camp chairman on the Girl Scout council, will be advisor for the Saturday meeting.

Speaking of the camp committee, it has begun making tentative plans for an open house at the camp in May. At a recent meeting the committee decided to permit only native shrubs and trees to be planted on the site in order to enable the girls to become more familiar with wild plants. Sounds like a good idea! Also, they would like anyone who wants to plant anything on the site to contact the office first to find out where to place trees so they won't have to be disturbed.

Nina Roy, camp chairman, seems to have all the enthusiasm in the world for camping opportunities for girls. Now serving on the committee with her are: Mrs. Carl Thompson, Mrs. Robert Eastling, Mrs. Louis Turner, Mrs. W. H. Webster, Mrs. Sidney Williams, Mrs. N. L. Huckabee, Mrs. W. M. Love, Mrs. George Forman, and Mrs. Lonnie Clark. They seem to be making a splendid start.

Thoughts of the out of doors are uppermost in the minds of scouts these days. Troop 16 reports a most enjoyable Saturday at camp. Leaders Mrs. T. G. Kincaid, Mrs. Laverne Causey, Mrs. W. B. Salley went with the fourteen girls of the troop to the camp, where they spent the day in exploring, playing games and in looking for and replanting small dogwood trees and clumps of wild azalea. One thing sure—we bet these girls who help beautify the site and who see the camp being constructed will be the ones who are proud to look back and say, "My troop planted this tree," or "I remember when—"

EUREKA CLUB

The demonstration on children's clothing, which was given by Mrs. Euna Spellman at the March meeting of the Eureka Home Demonstration Club, was followed with much interest by all present. Several little garments were displayed and special features were explained. Suitable materials were shown, and stress was laid on suiting colors to the individual child and using proper styles for dress-up or play.

Besides the demonstration, leader reports were given on poultry, gardening, and citizenship, and it was decided to have a demonstration on flower arrangements for the May meeting.

During the social period, refreshments were served to Mrs. Arthur Albrighton, Mrs. Clyde Garland, Mrs. Henry Malone, Mrs. Carl Jordan, Mrs. Osa Avant, Mrs. Euna Spellman, Mrs. Victor Spillers, Mrs. E. O. Barnes, Mrs. W. J. Jordan, and Mrs. J. T. Whitlock.

NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

New books continue to arrive at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Books can be found here to suit every taste. Lawrence Schooner is a very popular writer of historical fiction. His latest novel is called "The Golden Exile." This is the story of Baron Beaumont who was tricked into going to the Holy Land on a penance. In this book we get a good picture of the violence of the times (when Edward the first ruled England). We see the endless struggle between Christian and Arab worlds. This is a fast paced narrative and a thoroughly readable one. Pearl Buck is one of the most popular modern novelists. Her newest book is called "God's Men." The story opens in China at the time of the Boxer rebellion, but quickly shifts to America. This is not as good as some of Pearl Buck's stories, but it still makes interesting reading.

"The Monarch of the Glen" by Compton Mackenzie is a gay story with a Scotch background. It is highly entertaining. "Ride Out Singing" by Alice Loomis is a vivacious and warm-hearted story about life in the Canadian north-west territories. It is the story of Phyllis Vernon who left England to join her brother Berry in Canada and keep house for him. Here she met many surprises but found the country thoroughly to her liking. This is a book for those who like the great open spaces and many men. A new story for those who like westerns is "By Rope and Lead" by Ernest Haycox. He is one of the better writers of western stories and this one is well done.

Mystery addicts will welcome two new titles, "Diplomatic Corps" by Phoebe Atwood Taylor and "The Origin of Evil" by Ellery Queen. "Diplomatic Corps" is another Asay Mayo story with a Cape Cod background. The origin of evil has a Hollywood background and a weird assortment of characters. It has a surprise ending that will appeal to the readers.

Readers of serious books will find a number of appealing titles. "Eugenio Pacelli: Pope of Peace" by Oscar Halecki and "Pacific Hopscotch" by Sister Maria Del Rey will be of special interest to Catholic readers. "Seven Decisions That Shaped Victory" by Sumner Welles is a penetrating analysis of our foreign policy in recent years. "My Patients Were Zulus" is a fascinating story of a missionary in South Africa. "How to Test Readability" by Rudolf Flesch contains valuable information for anyone who writes for the public.

"Children and Books" by May Hill Arbuthnot is a valuable addition to the library. It is intended as a guide for parents and teachers in the selection of books for their children to read.

There are many other books of importance at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. All residents of the parish are urged to use its resources.

Miss Teddy Jeanne Hoff Honored At Birthday Party

Miss Teddy Jeanne Hoff was honored Saturday night, March 17th with a birthday party held in West Monroe.

Miss Hoff received her guests in the beautifully decorated living room. Early spring flowers with a pink and white motif throughout were used in the receiving rooms. Centering the buffet table was an arrangement of white gaudioli. At one end of the table was placed the four-tiered birthday cake.

After dancing, games and the opening of many gifts, refreshments were served to the following guests: Ronald Black, Judy Ray, Gayle Roark, Arthur Craig, Adal Louise Ford, Helen Richmond, Beverly Lambert, Betty Preston, Harlan Humphries, Laura Dean, Mary Francis Pinton, Joe Lynn, Laverne Greer, Lita Mae Cleve, and Tommy Fortenberry.

Miss Daisy Brandon and Mr. Wilton Dale United in Marriage

Ferriday, La., April 7.—Claiming interest here and throughout this section was the marriage of Miss Daisy Patterson Brandon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Hamilton Brandon, and Mr. Wilton Roger Dale, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dale, Jr., of Vidalia, La.

The ceremony was celebrated at half after six in the evening at the home of the bride's parents. The Reverend Desmond J. Reagan of Pensacola, Fla., performed the impressive double-ring rites in the presence of members of the two immediate families on April 4.

Mrs. W. G. Gill of Jackson, Miss., aunt of the bride presided at the piano and rendered a program of traditional nuptial music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. G. Lawrence Adams served her sister as matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Lester Kenneth Jones, another sister, and Miss Sarah Wynn Rickett of Dallas, Tex. Her sister Miss Barbara Gerard Brandon served as junior bridesmaid.

Mr. John Dale III, of Vidalia, served as best man and C. E. Shiele and Ralph Shields were ushers.

A large reception followed at "Stanton Hall." In the late evening Mr. and Mrs. Dale left on a wedding trip of unrevealed destination. On their return they will reside in Vidalia.

The bride is a graduate of the Natchez High School and attended Stephens College in Columbia, Mo. Later she attended the University of Mississippi, where she was a member of Chi Omega sorority. Mrs. Dale represented Natchez, Miss., last season as "Miss Hospitality" in the state-wide contest on the Gulf coast.

Mr. Dale is a graduate of the School of Geology of Louisiana State University and is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

TWO LOCAL WOMEN RECEIVE STATE HONORS AT D. A. R. CONFERENCE

Mrs. James Conway Liner and Mrs. Stanley Blower received state honors at the state conference of the Louisiana Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, which was held recently in Shreveport. Mrs. Liner was unanimously elected honorary first state vice regent and Mrs. Blower elected to state registrar of the Louisiana society.

A charter member of the Fort Miro chapter, Mrs. Liner has for many years been prominently identified with furthering the work of the Louisiana society. During her regency of Fort Miro chapter the membership was greatly increased and she established the gracious custom of an annual tea in honor of all new members; organized the Children of the American Revolution Society and, while serving as senior president of this organization, won many national awards.

Elevated to the office of first state vice regent of the D. A. R., she was elected for a three year term as president of the state officers club, which position she is now holding. When Mrs. John Newton Pharr of New Iberia, state regent, organized the Louisiana society into districts with annual district conferences, she appointed Mrs. Liner as general district director—a position second only in importance to that of the state regent.

With customary efficiency, Mrs. Liner made a noteworthy contribution to the advancement of D. A. R. work while serving as state transportation chairman. Her charm of manner, ready wit, and engaging personality have endeared her to a host of friends throughout the state. Born and reared in Monroe, her name is inseparably linked with the cultural, civic and social life of the city. Mrs. Liner is a delegate from the Fort Miro chapter to Continental Congress in Washington, D. C.

Because of her understanding of all phases of the work, she was appointed director of the third district by the state regent, Mrs. John Newton Pharr of New Iberia, which position she is now holding. Mrs. Blower is a member of the Episcopal Church, and has served as recording secretary in the chapters of the woman's auxiliary. In her book club, she has held the chairmanship of the study com-

the most talked-about girdles in the world

WARNER'S STA-UP-TOP never rolls over always stays up

- ★ the only girdle that never rolls over... always stays up... lets you bend naturally before the hand.
- ★ the only girdle that comfortably slims your waist as it trims your hips.
- ★ the only girdle with the easy-stretch waistband that always stays snug... never spreads.

It's wonderful the way Warner's Sta-Up-Top girdles trim your hips and whittle your waist as well. Wonderful the way that patented elastic waistband grows like a grin with every breath you take. Wonderful the way it inches you in... never pinches you in. Choose your Sta-Up-Top from soft-knits or paneled-persuaders—from step-ins or panties—with 2- or 3-inch waistbands—nylon or not. Be sure it's 3-Way-Sized to fit you perfectly in length; hip size and control.

Warner's Sta-Up-Top girdles from $4.00 to $18.50
Warner's bras from $1.50 to $5.95

World So Wide is Sinclair Lewis's farewell message to the American people. I wish I could say it is a stirring and memorable message. It isn't. It's an awkward, almost adolescent, rambling. I wish I could say it is a good book, a fit farewell to a brave, unpromising writer. It isn't. It's merely the last chord in a symphony that enjoyed heartier hearing in another time.

World So Wide is the story of Hayden Chart, an architect from Newlife, Colorado, who is given to vague dissatisfactions with his much-respectable life. When an automobile accident claims the life of his pretty, flighty wife, he decides to travel to Europe, to try to find himself again, to see at last the great big world so wide.

In Italy he meets an assorted American colony, most of them second-rate caricatures of Lewis's earlier characters. Dodsworth, who once helped Lewis win a Nobel Prize for literature, turns up again, but he's hardly the same manly westerner who created such a sensation in the Twenties. There's even a facsimile of that pious old fraud Elmer Gantry, but even his most descriptive moments have too false a ring.

Sinclair Lewis was undoubtedly sincere in his dislike of "restless-footed sightseers." Some of his passages, especially those in which Hayden Chart falls in love with Florence, Italy, are strongly reminiscent of the earlier Lewis, reaching for a vision and holding it for a brief and poignant moment. But the spell doesn't last.

Looking back, "Red" Lewis was always a crusty warhorse, a man whose satire bit deeply into the American flesh, whose characterizations, if in many ways absurd, were always frank and honest. Babbitt, Dodsworth, Arrowsmith—these belonged to the Twenties and Thirties. But Hayden Chart and his companions seem grossly miscast in the robes of 1950. They are unreal, and therefore unmeaning.

Even at his best, Sinclair Lewis was never a great writer. He didn't need to be. He created a truth and because of it will have meaning for future generations. For that reason his last book will be read by a great many Americans who are still hungry for the repetition of past performances. But if World So Wide is not so good, it is at least the last message of a revered man. (WORLD SO WIDE. By Sinclair Lewis. $50 pp. New York: Random House, $3.00).

Music, Maestro! Carl Sandburg once called Burl Ives "the best ballad singer of them all." His latest Decca album bears him out. A great many critics have tried to reach the core of Burl Ives' appeal and many have come up with reasonable explanations. One contends he can create a mood a minute, that he's an irrevocable part of every ballad he sings. Another claims he brings contemporary showmanship to the timeless tunes of the folk. And still another compares him with the ancient minstrels, who told their stories in song and thereby made them live.

In this particular album, Ives sings "The Fox," "The Erie Canal," "Dublin City," "Cockle Shells," "Lolly-Too-Dum," "The Eddystone Light," "Hullabaloo-Relay," "Venezuela," and his perennial "Old Dan Tucker." It is difficult to recall when "Dublin City" and "Cockle Shells" were rendered finer. Perhaps the simplest explanation of all is that Burl Ives believes in what he sings and makes his listeners believe in it, too.

To a lot of people the very mention of Spike Jones is enough to start a grand revival. Those people will be thrilled to the point of ecstasy with his latest album for RCA, in which Jones and Company tear to shreds such famous numbers as "That Old Black Magic," "Love in Bloom," and "Kiss Your Hand Madama," and such familiar classics as "Liebestraum" and "William Tell Overture."

Frankly, I'm not one of Spike Jones's fans. Granted his so-called music is somewhat novel, but so is the architect who builds a 26-story masterpiece and proceeds to set a time-bomb under it. As someone much wiser once put it, If you like this sort of thing then this is the sort of thing you'll like.

An Old Friend Victor Herbert is commanding as much attention from piano addicts today as he did in his lifetime. His sheet-music albums are almost necessities for the well-rounded repertoire. Here are a few of the newest, and best:

Victor Herbert's Light Opera Songs (Schirmer, $1.00) include gems from "Smileheart," "The Debutante," and "The Madcap Duchess." For the more advanced player.

Victor Herbert (No. 1 and No. 2; M. Witmark & Sons, $1.00) with such varied successes as "Toyland," "I Want What I Want When I Want It," "When You're Away," "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," of past performances. But if World So Wide is not so good, it is at least the last message of a revered man. (WORLD SO WIDE. By Sinclair Lewis. $50 pp. New York: Random House, $3.00).

Three-Act Comedy To Be Presented By O. P. H. S. Seniors

The Ouachita high school senior class play "One Foot in Heaven" by Hartzell Spence, directed by Miss June Shultz, will be presented in the school auditorium Friday, April 13.

The leading roles of the three act comedy will be played by Joe Milner, Alice Montgomery, Jimmy Smith, Dorothy Wallace and Fred McDowell.

Monroe Garden Club Plans Spring Tour

Four of Monroe's loveliest gardens will be open Monday for the annual spring garden tour put on by the Monroe Civic Garden Club.

This April meeting will be open to members only. They are asked to start at 2:30 and go to the gardens in the following order: Dr. and Mrs. Armond McHenry on Riverside Drive, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Land on McKinley, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rogers on Island Drive, and finally Miss Emma Louise Biedenbarn on Riverside drive.

Mrs. George Snellings, president of the club, says that this tour is not a show, particularly since the recent cold weather played such havoc with our spring blossoms.

It is planned for the purpose of being instructive. She suggests that attention be given to how the gardens are landscaped and the way various plants are used to produce desired effects. She feels that the ones who attend will get numerous helpful ideas for their own use.

Each garden will have a table arrangement for some different need or occasion. A garden tea will be held at Miss Biedenbarn's home.

Bible Comment

By William E. Givroy, D. D.

Suppose an intelligent person, who had never read the stories of beginnings in the early chapters of Genesis, should come across a reference to a "tree of the knowledge of good and evil" and an account of a serpent speaking, would he not in the very nature of the writing realize that the writer was speaking in a symbolic, rather than in a literal way?

One thing about the Bible that many people forget is that it is an Eastern book. The daily language and literature of the East has always been full of figures and symbols very different from much of our prosaic, Western liberalism.

The prophets frequently used figures of speech and symbols to illustrate and express truth. The parables of Jesus were true to life and revealing in the truth concerning God and man that Jesus sought to impart, but they did not depend upon the incidents described having actually happened.

It was "a certain man," who went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and it might have been any man so far as the truth and the teaching were concerned. The parables are stories and teachings for today, and not just stories of something that happened long ago.

Their significance is not as historical incidents but as spiritual tales, or parables, with universality of application.

The great teacher under whom I studied these things years ago interpreted the symbolism of the early Genesis stories in his own way.

He suggested that the creation of woman from man's side meant that she was to be his equal and helpmate, not from his head that she should lord it over him, not from his foot that he should dominate her. This interpretation is in harmony with the high esteem in which women were held among the Jews and in contrast with their inferior position among many other people.

I have never forgotten an incident in the classroom one day. When for most of the lecture period Chancellor Burwash had been proceeding with his poetic interpretation along this line, a student in the back of the room suddenly spoke up. "Do you think, Dr. Burwash," he said, "that Adam was put to sleep so he wouldn't feel any pain when the rib was taken away?"

I don't know whether the student had been asleep or not. But Dr. Burwash, a serious saint not often seen to smile, threw himself back in his chair, with a loud laugh. When he recovered himself, he said in solemn, singing tone, which I can hear to this day: "O, you bald Occidental, you do not understand the beautiful poetry of the Hebrew mind." The student, a diminutive fellow, was thereafter known as "the little rib"—but that is neither here nor there.

The story of the beginning of sin symbolizes the subtle and easy temptation of those made in the image and likeness of God: the essence of sin in disobedience to divine command; the knowledge of good and evil as the result of the fall, and the emergence of man into moral struggle and moral responsibility.

HAVE LEADING ROLES IN SENIOR CLASS PLAY

Jimmy Smith, Alice Montgomery, and Fred McDowell. The play will be presented in the auditorium Friday, April 13.

MRS. JOHN LEWIS IS GUEST SPEAKER AT CLUB MEETING

The members of the Readers Club met Thursday afternoon for their regular meeting in the home of Mrs. T. F. Wilson.

Mrs. Walter Ryland, Jr., president, presided at the meeting. The roll was called and minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Fred Parrish.

The club voted to send a check for twenty-five dollars, to the Girl Scouts to be used for their troop camp.

Mrs. Henry Menuet, program chairman, introduced Mrs. John Lewis, who gave a most interesting talk on flower arrangements.

Mrs. Lewis said in part: "The evolution of flower arrangement in this country has been rapid and amazing, and it is continuing."

Until some twenty-five or thirty years ago flower arrangements almost invariably conformed to a more or less globular pattern, regardless of the shape of container or type of flower. Mixed blooms were then made to behave as if they were unwilling to associate with their own kind because they were never placed together or side by side, always making sure to alternate colors and varieties.

Flower arrangement at the present time goes beyond the pretty bouquets of yesterday. It has become a challenging stimulating skill. Its possibilities are as wide as the day is long. The easy and simple mechanical control of cut flowers has freed us from the limiting and once prevalent idea of the "bouquet of flowers." In the 30's the general public learned of scattered individuals who were enjoying their cut flowers in a special way. Thus the flower show schools developed.

During our rapid development of this art, we acquired rules. Now that we have advanced, these rules hamper us. Therefore we disregard them. We find it suffices to seek a better understanding of broad principles and to emphasize freedom and inspiration."

The following members and guests were present: Mrs. Clay Albright, Mrs. Mike John, Jr., Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. Fred Parrish, Mrs. G. L. Morgan, Mrs. Ray Updegraff, Mrs. A. G. Olcott, Mrs. Lewis Peters, Mrs. Henry Menuet, Mrs. Edwin Crowley, Mrs. Jimmie Harbuck, Mrs. Walter Ryland, Jr., Mrs. T. F. Wilson, Mrs. J. L. Adams, and Mrs. John Lewis.

Some freakish cold snaps had everyone this week wondering when that lovely lady of the seasons, SPRING, was going to put in a real appearance to stay.

THE TWIN CITIES FIRST. . . . maternity style show will be staged by ELIAS & SONS on April 26, complete with models, Maypole flag and refreshments. Beautiful new fashions in nationally advertised Edith Phillips, Stork Dater and Youthful Mother will be modeled from their complete maternity department. ELIAS & SONS have one of the most extensive lines in MATERNITY WEAR, including a full selection in beautiful lingerie, suits, dresses, jackets, skirts, peddle pushers and sun dresses. . . . EXPECTANT Mothers may register now or up to the date of the show on April 26, for three grand prizes.

GADGETS AND GIFTS. . . . galore and they will make you sit up and take notice when you visit MAY & GUTHRIE HARDWARE. . . . I found especially interesting a sensational, original Evered Bacon & Egger that is scientifically designed to fry or grill two different foods in the same utensil and it is made of beautiful chrome plated steel. MAY & GUTHRIE also showed me another eye-catcher—it is an attractive garbage can for your kitchen called Magikan. It is all aluminum inside, easy to clean, will last a life time and opens instantly at the touch of your toe. It stays open conveniently until a tap brings it down and it has a rubber cushioned lid that is noiseless. . . . visit MAY & GUTHRIE and see their West Bend, 18 inch Buffet Server with Pleasant design in beautiful aluminum.

LET THEM GO TO YOUR HEAD. . . . and they will, if you visit the new HAT SHOP right next door to the Rancher on DeSiard street. You will be thrilled with the lacy Pedaline straw and which is something new an interesting in straw and looks so expensive. I also discovered the Yearrounder—in honeycomb straw that we find nationally advertised in Fashion magazines. Pert pique with velvet trim is another smart and brand new creation that will take your eye AT THE HAT SHOP. And lest we forget to tell you, they have genuine panamas with styles to suit every face and personality. . . . The really great news about these hats are that they are only three low prices $1.99, $2.99 and $3.99, none higher at THE HAT SHOP.

EVERYBODY'S APPLAUDING . . . For the finest restaurant of them all. Why of course it is the HOLLYWOOD DRIVE INN RESTAURANT AND COCKTAIL LOUNGE. Many years of experience in good cooking and excellent service make their lovely restaurant the choice dining place of everyone. . . . If you are one of the few who have not enjoyed the pleasure of dining with THE HOLLYWOOD DRIVE INN don't waste another day. . . . In a serene and comfortable atmosphere they will serve you delicious, taste tempting foods of your choice from their menu variety that seems to be boundless. . . . Try THE HOLLYWOOD the next time you feel the urge for an adventure in good eating at popular prices.

THE LADY CALLED SPRING . . . is not complete without green plants. About this time of the year we all get spring fever for the very thing that symbolizes the birth of this beautiful time of the year. THE COTTAGE FLOWER AND GIFT SHOP, 600 Morris Ave. have a wonderful selection of big foliage plants including rubber plants, panduratas, hostatun, schafiera, all kinds of ivy and some Chinese evergreens. THE COTTAGE FLOWER AND GIFT SHOP has all kinds of pottery planters, very attractive in design, and they will pot the green plants for you. Dial 2-0353 and let Kathryn Gochenour discuss these plants with you in accordance with your own special decoration theme.

It has been fun shopping folks. . . . And don't let these April showers stop you, 'cause there are many more bargains than I have been able to tell you about in this week's column.

BENEFIT SQUARE DANCE WILL BE HELD BY ST. ANNE'S CIRCLE

One of the most outstanding events scheduled, is the benefit square dance to be presented on Thursday April 12th from 8 to 11 p. m. at the St. Matthew's gym by the St. Anne's Circle.

Along with the square dance the committee has arranged to have an exhibition dance by a group of square dancers, as well as other entertainment. The members of the circle will also sell homemade candy. The entire program promises to be entertaining and enjoyable and you don't have to make a reservation—just come out and join the fun and make your square after you get there," states Mrs. George Tonore, general chairman.

Some of the square dances to be revived will include those that were popular as the minuet during the days of our grandmothers and grandfathers. You will see the famous Texas Star, the Colorado Star, The Grapevine Twist and many others.

Those serving with Mrs. George Tonore are: Mrs. Burl Hollis, Mrs. Ben Breard, Mrs. M. A. Peterson, Mrs. Otis Flournoy, Mrs. E. W. Morrison, Mrs. Tom Mulhearn, Mrs. Joe Haddad, Mrs. Fred Hill, Mrs. E. P. Jenevein and Mrs. John Spatafora. Every one is planning to come. If you don't dance come and enjoy the program and meet your friends. You may make your reservations with any member of St. Anne's Circle or by calling Mrs. Joe Maggio at 6966.

NORTHEAST LOUISIANA CLUBWOMEN ATTEND DISTRICT SPRING MEETING

Artistic talents of fifth district clubwomen were much in evidence last Saturday at Sicily Island, where more than 125 women of northeast Louisiana gathered for the district spring meeting of the Louisiana Federation of Women's Clubs.

Displayed in the gymnasium and judged on Saturday morning were more than 500 entries, ranging from room-sized hooked rugs to hand-painted coffee cups. Included were art and needlework done by students throughout the area, as well as by talented non-clubmembers.

Outstanding in the exhibit was a handmade bedspread, the work of Mrs. John H. Devine of Tallulah. On a base of net, Mrs. Devine had painstakingly applied designs of fine old lace which she had acquired from many friends and neighbors.

Mrs. Davis Cotton of Rayville, fifth district fine arts chairman, served as general chairman of the exhibit. She was assisted by Mrs. Henry Taliaferro of Jonesville with student art. Mrs. B. G. Trunzier of Harrisonburg with clubwomen's entries, and Mrs. Claud Haley of Sicily Island with general entries. Judges for needlework were Mrs. P. J. Rison of Jonesville, Mrs. P. M. Reeves of Jena, Mrs. E. Asa Kiper and Mrs. Rupert Scott of Wisner.

Art judges were Miss Joy Harper of Monroe and Carl Lazenby of Jonesville.

TO SPEAK AT A. A. U. W. DINNER

Dr. June Hyer, of the University of Houston faculty, will address the American Association of University Women, at the fellowship dinner which will be held at the Country Club, Tuesday, April 17.

Dr. June Hyer Will Speak At A. A. U. W. Fellowship Dinner

Annual Event To Be Given April 17 At The Bayou DeSiard Country Club

Highlighting the fellowship dinner which the American Association of University Women has scheduled Tuesday, April 17 will be an address by Dr. June Hyer of the University of Houston faculty.

The Country Club is to be the scene of the meeting which will start at 6:30 p.m., announced Dr. Julia Hunter, chairman of the local chapter's fellowship committee.

Dinner reservations should be made with Mrs. Richard Guelow or Mrs. Adelia Baylor. Members of the organization may bring guests, according to the tradition of the fellowship meeting.

Dr. Hyer is coming for this special occasion is of particular significance as she received a fellowship award which gave her opportunity to study abroad. She was the first recipient of the Martha Enouche Catching award, named in honor of the Jackson, Mississippi woman who assisted in organizing the local A. A. U. W. At that time she was district chairman of the southeast central section, American Association of University Women, comprising the states of Kentucky, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Louisiana.

Alexander the Great crossed the Hellespont into Asia Minor in 334 B.C.

As a fellow, Dr. Hyer did postdoctoral research in Europe on the subject "Influences of the German Occupation on the Universities of France, Belgium and the Netherlands."

She returned to America in June, 1947. Presently she is associate professor of International Education at the University of Houston.

Dr. Hyer is a native of West Virginia. She was educated in Texas, where she received the B.A., B.S. and M.A. degrees at Texas State College for Women. Then she went to the University of Texas to complete studies for the Ph. D. degree in 1946.

PHONE WORKERS SEEK CONTRACT

Statement Issued Saturday By Hal S. Dumas, Southern Bell Chief

The Southern Bell Telephone Company has received a request from the Communications Workers of America-C. I. O. for opening of negotiations looking toward a new contract for the 44,000 non-supervisory employees who are represented by the union. The union has asked that bargaining sessions begin on April 30.

The existing contract between the company and the union runs until June 5, and, as provided by the contract, the union has given 60 days notice of desire to negotiate a new agreement. The present agreement was executed in 1948 and has been modified twice to provide for wage increases.

Among many other items, the union has requested a general wage increase. It has been our policy over the years to pay wages that are in line with the wages of other workers in the communities which we serve whose jobs are comparable to telephone jobs. Only in this way can we do justice to the fine people who make up our organization and continue to attract and keep the type of employees essential to good telephone service.

A general advance of industrial wages is taking place in the communities served by Southern Bell, and we believe the facts justify a wage increase for Southern Bell employees within the stabilization limits specified by the government.

Wages are by far the biggest item in our expenses and the money to pay for any increase in wages will have to be secured through an increase in telephone rates.

There is no margin in our income to absorb any increased costs. In fact, we have failed by about $20,000,000 annually to make up through increased telephone rates the wage increases already granted in the last ten years.

The yardstick we must follow in the coming negotiations is that any settlement reached as to wages be equally fair to our employees and to our customers who pay the bill.

MISS WANDA ANN MAJOR BRIDE OF JOHN DUNBRACK EWING, JR.

Announcement is made by Mr. State University. and Mrs. Amintas Joseph Major of New Rhodes of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Wanda Ann Major, to John Dunbrack Ewing, Jr., son of John Dunbrack Ewing and the late Helen Hamilton Gray Ewing.

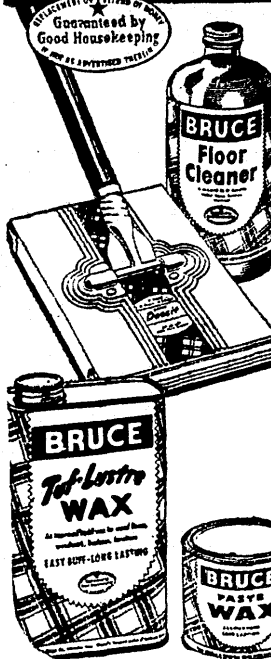

Mrs. Ewing is the granddaughter of Joseph E. Weldon and the late Mrs. Weldon of Grosse Pete and the late Mr. and Mrs. Amintas Joseph Major, Sr., of New Rhodes. She attended Louisiana State University.

Mr. Ewing is descended from the late Benjamin De Graffenreid Gray and the late Mrs. Marie Fish Gray, and the late Col. and Mrs. Robert Ewing of New Orleans. He attended Sewanee Military Academy, the Evans School in Tucson, Ariz., and served in the navy during World War II.

The young couple are now at home in Ruston, where he is a student at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute.

MAIN COMPRESSOR STATION

The new $2,250,000 gas compressor station which will be opened in Michigan this month will be under the supervision of Jack Eubanks, of Monroe.

Monroe Man To Superintend $2,250,000 Compressor Station

Jack Eubanks, A Native Of Monroe, Will Be Superintendent Of Operations At The New Compressor Station In Hamilton, Mich.

When the new $2,250,000 gas compressor station near Hamilton, Michigan goes into operation about April 15, it will mean the final completion of the 24-inch pipe line that brings natural gas from Texas to Michigan. Jack Eubanks of Monroe will be superintendent of the station.

The Hamilton station is the last of 15 compressor stations to be completed on the 1,575-mile pipe line and will increase the daily volume of gas to a total of approximately 250,000,000 cubic feet per 24 hours. The gas is carried to the Big Rapids terminal where it is stored and distributed by branch lines to West Michigan cities.

Celebrating the completion of a project that was begun in June, 1950, officials of the Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Company plan an open house at the Hamilton station soon. The public will see the 6,000 horsepower compressor station, auxiliary power station, cooling tower, meter and regulator house and other buildings in the 20-acre yard, surrounded by a six-foot cyclone fence.

Superintendent of operations at station 13 is Jack Eubanks, who directs a crew of 24 men—including seven engineers. Thirty-year-old Eubanks, a native of Monroe, La., the pipe line and compressor capacity would have to be doubled to supply the company's customers, Eubanks explained.

But not all the fuel goes to consumers. The Hamilton station alone uses approximately 1,440,000 cubic feet per 24 hours as fuel gas for the station. This amount equals the gas used in the city of Allegan during a similar period.

The spic and span station layout reflects Eubanks' pride in the new unit—a pride that carries over to the Michigan-Wisconsin organization itself. He calls it the best in the gas industry with 800 employees hailing from nearly every state in the country.

Several states are represented at Hamilton with Rogers Broome, assistant superintendent, from Mississippi; Homer Look, Arkansas; Russell Wolfe, Illinois; Elmer Boutain, and Loring Holt, Michigan; engineers; Robert Gates, Louisiana; clerk; Leon Boykin, Louisiana; Hilton Brown, Illinois; and Lloyd Nichols, Missouri, assistant engineers.

Trinity Service Being Broadcast

This Sunday morning (April 8) at 11:00 a.m. the regular morning service of Trinity Lutheran Church will be broadcast over a radio station.

The name which is given to this Sunday according to the church calendar is Misericordias Domini. The Goodness of the Lord. This name is derived from the first words, in the Latin version, of the Introit; the opening Psalm of sentences read as the pastor enters the Sanctuary.

In keeping with the theme thus set for the day, the topic of the sermon will be "Christ—the Good Shepherd," based on Saint John 10, 11-16, the Gospel lesson set aside for this Sunday.

The Rev. Harold L. Reinhardt, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, will be the speaker.

Trinity Lutheran Church, "A church of the Lutheran Hour," is located at 300 D'Arbonne avenue, just two blocks south of Northeast State College. The public is invited and urged to make use of every occasion to join the congregation in giving worship to the Almighty.

The surplus from the main line during the summer is pumped into the underground storage fields near Big Rapids and Reed City to provide a winter supply for Detroit. Without these storage fields,

GRAY LADIES OF 1950

Allie Endom Dies; Father Was Mayor

Aloise (Allie) H. Endom, 78, died in St. Joseph's home Saturday morning. There was a Rosary service at Mulhearn's Funeral Home, Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and the funeral will be held in St. Matthew's Catholic Church today at 4 p.m. Interment will be in the family plot in the Catholic cemetery.

Mr. Endom was the son of Monroe's first mayor to be elected in reconstruction days after the war between the states. He served six terms, each of two years. He was operator, with his family, of the Endom Transfer Company which was located on the site of what is today the Ouachita National Bank.

Allie Endom was unmarried and is survived by an only sister, Miss Louise Endom, and a brother, Frederick J. Endom.

Pallbearers will be as follows: Valley and Theodore Keller, Clarence Boyce, Dan Standifer, R. E. Lucky and Vic Sutton. Honorary pallbearers will be all friends of the family.

Gray Ladies To Conduct Two-Day Lecture Series

Gray Ladies, A Special Service Division To The American Red Cross, Study Psychology And Degenerative Processes Of Old Age

The Gray Ladies are again on the march. On Tuesday and Wednesday, April 10 and 11, from 9 to 11:30 a. m., this special service division of the American Red Cross will conduct a two-day lecture series on the psychology and degenerative processes of old age.

The volunteer participants, who give of their time and effort, will be assigned to the seclusion homes which the Gray Ladies serve, the St. Joseph Home and homes for the aged on Jackson, Pine and Adams streets. Another home is now in the process of opening.

The course this year will have as guest lecturers Dr. Fred A. Marx, Dr. Ben Cobb and a representative of the department of public welfare. At the completion of the course, the Gray Ladies will be asked to give only three hours a week to bring more comfortable living to older people.

The course itself consists of the origin, history and organization of Red Cross, a description of the home, its history, management, type patients, cost of care, regulations, etc., nursing care and psychology of the ill and aged (by Dr. Ben Cobb), discussion of the neurotic patient, others needing special help, approach to patients (Dr. Fred A. Marx), recreation for the aged, and a discussion of duties, ethics of Gray Ladies and scheduling of volunteers.

The Gray Ladies service was organized at the Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C. in 1918 under the guidance of Miss Mable T. Boardman and Mrs. Henry Rea. The term "Gray Ladies" was given by the soldiers of World War I because of the uniforms' color. Essentially Gray Ladies are volunteers selected because of their qualifications to serve the sick and convalescent. A few of the

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND BY ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer to Question No. 1. 1. Yes—those whom we love. "To think of them is to praise God." Memory of our mothers always does that. Both my wives, too. I lived with one 35 years, and with the other for the past seven years. I didn't even hear of her death until she was taken to the end. Love, like the Kingdom of God, "cometh without observation." You may know a person for years, when suddenly, without knocking, he or she walks into your heart. Let me say to you young readers, out of a long life, that only is love.

Answer to Question No. 2. 2. No. G. K. Chesterton said of Dr. Samuel Johnson, (abridged): "There is no better test of a man's chivalry and integrity than the way he behaves when he is wrong; and Johnson behaved well. He understood that a stiff apology is a second insult—that the injured party does not want to be compensated because he has been wronged, but to be healed because he has been hurt. Finding that he had given pain, he went out of his way to give pleasure." Answer to Question No. 3. 3. Yes. They are more vivid in expressing reasons for their dissatisfaction than satisfied workers. Psychologist Richard Centers found that "pay and profit" ranked fifth in importance with satisfied workers, but jumped to first place with the dissatisfied.

Janet Gail Hatten Is Baby Contest Winner

Winners in the annual baby contest conducted by the Larry Robinson studio here were announced yesterday. They are:

First place, Janet Gail Hatten, six months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hatten, 506 Linderman, West Monroe; second place, Melvin Forrest Berger, eight months, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Berger, 406 St. John street, Monroe, and third place, Larry Edward Simmons, four years, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Simmons, Box 266, West Monroe.

It was announced that there were several hundred entries considered in the judging.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Sound Technique Brings Home Bacon

By Oswald Jacoby

North tried hard to play today's hand at three no-trump, as I. T. Sun reports in a recent issue of "The Bridge World." East's hold bid of four spades could have been set 500 points, but North thought that five diamonds would be more profitable. It was, thanks to South's expert play.

South carefully refused to win the first round of spades but took the second, of course, with dummy's ace. He returned a low heart from dummy and won with the king in his own hand. (East dared

East dared not blank his king of clubs, since then South could cash the ace of clubs to set up dummy's jack. Hence East had to have two clubs and one heart. Thereupon he was thrown in with the heart to lead away from his king of clubs. Declarer was bound to make dummy's jack of clubs and his own ace.

The final position could not have been reached, as Mr. Sun points out, if dummy had taken the first spade trick. East would have a low spade for exit at the end, and would not have been forced to lead away from his clubs.

Likewise, declarer had to tackle the side suits before drawing trumps. Entries to dummy were too scarce to draw trumps first. Finally, South had to begin the hearts before touching the clubs. An excellent example of sound technique.

Q—With neither side vulnerable, your partner deals and passes and the next player also passes. You hold: Spades A-K-Q-J-7-3-2, Hearts Q-J-10-9, Diamond 8, Club 4. What do you do?

A—Bid four spades. You would bid only one spade first or second hand in the hope of reaching a slam, but slam is far too unlikely to be considered when your partner has passed. The bid of four spades may shut the enemy out completely or may steer them to the wrong spot.

Today's Question With neither side vulnerable, your partner deals and passes and the next player passes. You hold: Spades K-4, Hearts K-9, Diamonds A-K-J-9-7-4, Clubs K-5-2. What do you do?

Sister St. Patrick To Visit Europe This Month

Sister St. Patrick Will Return To The Mother House Of The Forder In Devres, France To Celebrate Her Golden Anniversary

By Jim Reynolds

Speaking in a gentle Irish brogue that has withstood 50 years of various accents and draws, Sister St. Patrick, supervisor of the first floor at St. Francis Sanitarium, told this week of her approaching trip to Europe.

A member of the Franciscan Sisters of Calais, she will return to the mother house of the order in Devres, France, for the celebration of the golden anniversary of her admission to the order.

Sister St. Patrick was born and received her early education in Ireland. In 1901, she went to the mother house, and after two and a half years, was sent to Berck mained at the resort until 1921. From 1914 to 1918, the hospital was taken over by the military, and Sister St. Patrick nursed French and Canadian soldiers.

In 1921, she came to this country and was assigned duty on the first floor of the sanitarium. She has been at that post ever since. She will leave for France April 28, but plans a brief side trip to Ireland to visit friends and relatives she has not seen for 17 years.

The trip, she expects, will last about two months. "It will be good," she says, "to see the people at home and to spend some time again at the mother house. It's been 17 years since I was there last. But I am afraid I'll be a bit homesick. After 30 years here I know I'll miss it, even for a few months."

To make up for the separation from friends and co-workers, Sister St. Patrick is looking forward to the celebration at St. Matthew's Church here planned for her return. "That's one affair," she smiled, "to which everyone is invited."

INFANTRY WEAPONS SHOWN Oak Grove, La., April 7.—(Special)—A display of infantry weapons, including bazookas, carbines, mortars and the famous M1 (Garand) rifle was held in the lobby of the Fiske Theatre Saturday, April 7, according to information received from Sgt. L. C. Sidney Harrison, USA and USAF Reg. Station, Oak Grove, La. Many persons witnessed the display which was shown without charge.

STAYING ATTRACTIVE

Middle-Age Charm Takes Work And Intelligence

YOU ARE young now. And pretty. And popular. What will you be when you are 40? When you are 50? When you are 60? How will you look then? Will you still be charming? Will people seek your society, or avoid you as they would the plague?

When the average woman faces these questions she begins counting her calories and grabs her hat and rushes to the nearest beauty shop, for the feminine sex has a simple and childlike faith in the power of diet and cosmetics to preserve their attractions and keep them persona grata to their fellow creatures. Alas and alack, however, a lipstick is a broken reed on which to lean in one's journey down the years; there comes a time when the rouge pot fails, and not all the facials in the world will wipe out the lines that living has made.

Then indeed a woman is lost who has not provided against age and acquired other charms to take the place of those which Time has robbed her.

When we are young we are even a God made us, but when we are middle-aged and elderly we are what we have made ourselves. Almost all young girls are attractive, but it takes a lot of work and intelligence and being perpetually on the job for a woman to keep herself charming. That is a stark fact that too many women ignore. The line of fascinations that made her a belle at 20 make her a bore at 40. She has to be continually adding to her stock of attractions and changing her merchandise if she wants to keep her public.

WE'VE ALL SEEN IT HAPPEN

All of us have had illuminating experiences along these lines. We have met, after a lapse of many years, some friend of school days who has always stood out in our memories as an adored ideal. She was so beautiful, so gay, so vivacious, the life of every party. She took the prizes at school. She was the best dancer. She was voted the most popular girl. She was tops in everything.

But when we saw her in later life, what a shock! What a change! Her beauty was gone. Her slimness lost in fat. Her gay laugh silenced. All that had made her so attractive as a girl wiped out as if it had never been, and in its stead a stolid, commonplace, dull and peevish woman who had lost the charms of youth and had not replaced them with the greater charms of maturity.

And who has not seen the opposite of this happen, and a girl who was an ugly duckling in her youth turn into a swan in later life? I often think of a girl I knew who was big, overgrown and clumsy, with no beauty to boast of and so self-conscious and timid it made her seem dull. At school she was always passed over. The boys never dated her and even her own family were half-ashamed of her and kept her in the background.

But by the time she was middle-aged, Cinderella had come out of the kitchen and into the drawing room, where she reigned like a queen. She who had been homely as a young girl was beautiful with her crown of snow-white hair. She had acquired poise and dignity and learned how to dress. She had read and studied until she was the most interesting of companions and had literally made herself into the kind of woman she wanted to be.

START WORKING ON IT

So can we all to a great extent, and it is worthwhile when we are sweet-and-20 to begin considering what we want to be at hard-and-50 and start to do something about it. True, we cannot stop the clock nor set it back. We can work no miracle that can keep us young and beautiful, but we can keep ourselves easy on the eyes by refusing to become mountains of fat or bags of bones and by wearing pretty clothes and learning how to do our hair.

Each woman of us decides for herself whether at middle-age she will be beloved by her family, adored by her friends, welcomed wherever she goes, or whether she will be one of the women whom everyone fears and dreads and dodges whenever possible. For when we are middle-aged people are not attracted to us by our complexions or our brilliance. They love us for our sweetness, for our unselfishness, for our tenderness and consideration of others.

Every woman decides for herself when she is young whether she will be peevish and fretful, or a good sport when she is old. She decides whether she will be one of the fascinating conversationalists that every man hopes to draw as a dinner partner, or a tiresome bore whose only topic is her major operation. She decides whether she will be the only woman to her husband, or whether he will be seeking the Other Woman. And she decides whether her children will look upon Mother as a combined angel and oracle, or as a pest. Which do you want to be?

DOROTHY DIX cannot reply personally to readers, but will answer problems of general interest through her column.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By Oswald Jacoby

English Twist To Canasta

A weird new Canasta idea has just been developed in England. They call it "Acaba."

At any time during a hand, when it is your turn to play, you may say "Acaba"—according to this new English custom. That ends the hand immediately. The cards are mixed without any counting at all, and the opponents get 1500 points for the hand. No more and no less. Your side gets nothing at all.

One further wrinkle: At your turn you may ask your partner for permission to say "Acaba." This operates just like asking for permission to meld out.

Let me make it clear right from the beginning that there is nothing legal or official about this strange English practice. However, I find it rather interesting—and I am sure Canasta players will want to try it out once or twice.

It has a curious effect on the game. When you pick up a really big discard pile, you tend to meld out at once if you can score substantially more than 1500 points. Otherwise the next player will end the fun by saying "Acaba."

Suppose the pile is born frozen and just stays that way for round after round. It mounts up and up, each player discarding carefully, until it contains several natural canastas. Finally, you reach a point where you have to make a dangerous discard.

This is a familiar situation, of course, and in an ordinary game you just cross your fingers and make your discard. Not so if you are using the Acaba feature.

Maybe you should say "Acaba" and give away 1500 points to the enemy. If you don't, the next player may grab the pile, score three thousand points and meld right out.

But you feel like a prize fool if you say "Acaba" and then discover that your discard would have been safe.

Anyway, it's fun to try once or twice. I don't think it will last, but it's an ingenious idea and might lead to some other good developments.

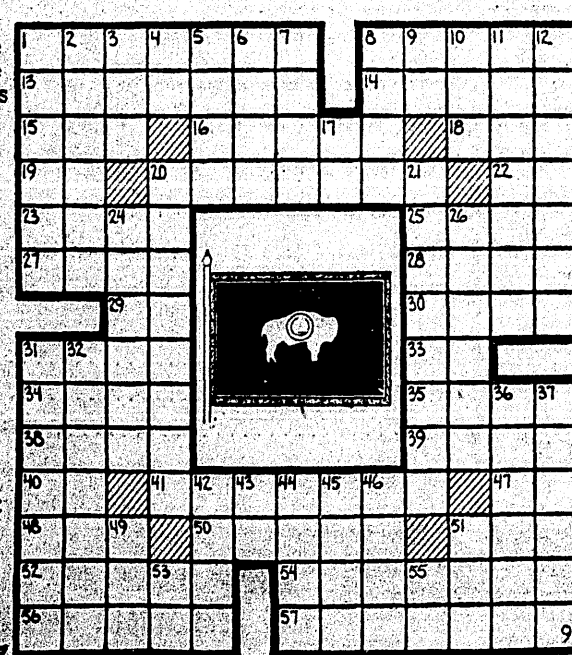

One more reminder: This idea is not a new official rule. It's just a new wrinkle you might want to experiment with if all the players at your table agree to it.

COMING TO PARAMOUNT

Wendell Corey, MacDonald Carey, Bruce Bennett and Bill Williams terrorize the Middle West as the nation's most sought-after outlaws in Paramount's "The Great Missouri Raid," opening a four-day engagement Wednesday at the Paramount Theater. Ellen Drew and Anne Revere co-star in this Technicolor film.

Nation's Most Lawless Era Is Theme Of 'Great Missouri Raid'

Technicolor Film Coming To Paramount Is About James Brothers

In "The Great Missouri Raid," which opens Wednesday at the Paramount Theater, a famous American legend has been stripped of its fictional trappings, and according to advance reviews, it emerges as a stark and exciting document of hatred and violence. With Wendell Corey, MacDonald Carey, Ward Bond and Ellen Drew heading a large stellar cast, this Paramount film in color by Technicolor chronicles the true story of Frank and Jesse James.

After painstaking research involving little known records, correspondence and newspaper accounts of the times, Producer Holt has placed before his camera the authentic history of America's most sought - after outlaws. With strict attention to dramatic content as well as accuracy, the film is said to serve up a swift recital of bold and bloody exploits of a land of peace - loving farmers who were hounded into a life of crime by a vindictive union officer who refused them post - Civil War amnesty.

Once committed to the wrong side of the law, the James boys joined forces with neighboring Missourians in a similar plight, and together they plundered the countryside, looted banks, engaged in savage fights with the U. S. cavalry in the rugged Ozark hills and eventually staged the first great train robbery in history. All of this has been faithfully recreated in the picture, enhanced by the brilliance of Technicolor photography and sensitively played against a romantic counter-theme which highlights the grimness of the James tragedy.

No expense was spared on the production that advance viewers have tagged one of the great outdoor dramas of all time.

NOW AT THE JOY

Shelley Winters and Marie Windsor hit the movie screen as Hollywood's newest glamor gladiators when they stage a knock-down, drag-out saloon brawl in Universal-International's new Technicolor action-thriller, "Frenchie," Joel McCrea plays opposite Shelley in the new Western which has a strong supporting cast headed by Paul Kelly and Elsa Lanchester. Michel Kraike produced and Louis King directed.

Shelley Winters, Joel McCrea Starred In 'Frenchie' At Joy

Vivacious Pair Teamed In Technicolor Picture Of Old West

Universal - International's technicolor "Frenchie," which opened today at the Joy Theatre, presents Shelley Winters and Joel McCrea at their colorful western best.

Universal-International Studio displayed astuteness in teaming McCrea and Miss Winters. Her champagne - vivacity opposite McCrea's easy - going dominance of the general situation makes intriguing watching for any audience. The role of Sheriff Banning gives the widest possible range to the he - man star's versatile talent. His portrayal of the philosophical law enforcement officer who finds it completely unnecessary to use a gun even in the most ticklish circumstances with the toughest of outdoor badmen, registers as a four - bell characterization in any reviewer's language.

The action - packed story concerns the return of Frenchie Fontaine, played by Shelley Winters, to the scene of her father's murder years later when she has become a notorious gambling lady. She sets up a fantastic establishment, a combination of saloon and gambling house, as part of her plan to trap the two unknown murderers of her father. How she accomplishes her mission and how she almost involves the sheriff in a slight case of murder is a matter that is much better left for the reader to discover for himself.

A performance to watch closely is that of Marie Windsor, female heavy of the film, when she engages Shelley Winters in a bar-room brawl that is a spectacular highlight of the film. This writer has witnessed many wildcat femme battles on the screen, but the exciting knockdown - and-drag-out between these two combatants is even greater than the famous mayhem dished out between Marlene Dietrich and Una Merkel in "Destry Rides Again."

The "Frenchie" supporting cast, in addition to Marie Windsor, includes Paul Kelly, Elsa Lanchester, John Russell and John Emery.

"Frenchie" is superbly mounted by Producer Michel Kraike, directed with speed and good taste by Louis King and filmed in stunning color by cameraman Maury Gertsmann. Hans Salter receives musical supervision credit.

'Steel Helmet' At Paramount Today

Atomic bombs, H-bombs and death-dealing bombs of every description which may make their appearance if and when there is a third world war will still take second place to the common foot soldier, according to Samuel Fuller, who wrote, directed and produced Robert Lippert's "The Steel Helmet," dramatic story of the Korean conflict. Coming to the Paramount Theater today, Mr. Fuller's picture describes the exciting adventures, hardships, dreams and fears of a squad of GIs who are dispatched to establish an artillery observation post behind enemy lines.

"The foot soldier, the infantryman with a pack and a rifle, still decides the outcome of wars," Fuller says. "The atom bomb can be a powerful instrument of war, but the infantryman has to occupy the territory and keep it policed when his army advances. With out him there can be no wars and no final victories in wars."

Fuller, who wrote the authentic story of the infantryman under fire which audiences will see in "The Steel Helmet," was a corporal in World War II, serving the Normandy Invasion and winning the Purple Heart for being wounded several times.

He was in the first division. After his experiences in World War II and after his extensive research into the war in Korea, Fuller is still convinced that the infantry holds the balance of power in any military engagement.

While he gives the credit for magnificent fighting to the navy, the marine corps and the air force, Fuller says that the "United States army is made up of the first division and 10,000,000 replacements."

Gene Evans, James Edwards, Steve Brodie, Robert Hutton and Richard Loo are the top five stars in "The Steel Helmet."

Presbyterian Men To Meet Thursday

The Men's Club of the Presbyterian Church will have the regular monthly meeting on Thursday, April 5, at 8:30 p.m. in Fellowship hall.

Joe Trammell, class president, urges all members of class and church to attend as this will be an important meeting with installation of new officers for 1951-52, also a report on committee appointed to look into buying a lot near Northeast Louisiana State College, and a report on Idlewild Chapel.

Leon Hammonds is chairman of program and refreshment committee with Mark Stroud, co-chairman and M. E. (Mert) Bell, assisting.

P.O.W. NABBED IN WAR FILM

In Hollywood

Hollywood, April 7.—The death of "Tex" Cooper, a 74-year-old bit actor, will make no headlines across the nation. In fact, it will probably be unrecorded by anything more memorable than a two-line obituary notice in local papers. But, even so, Hollywood isn't going to be quite the same without him. Tex was one of the last visible symbols of a Hollywood that no longer exists.

In his younger days, he was a rider with both the Buffalo Bill and the 101 Ranch shows. He looked amazingly like William F. Cody, and, it must be admitted, did everything within his power to call attention to the resemblance. He never, to the time of his death, appeared in public without wearing an old-fashioned fringed coat. His snow-white hair hung in his shoulders, Buffalo Bill-style. He wore a long mustache and an oversized goatee, both modeled exactly after those affected by his idol.

Tex came to Hollywood some thirty years ago and became one of the movie cowboys who, in those days, used to congregate, day after day, at the corner of Sunset and Vine to swap tall tales while they waited for movie jobs. Because his costumes and his long hair made him a standout, he became a Hollywood sight-to-see, as distinctive in his own way as the over-the-hill Chinese theater, or the Brown Derby, or Pickfair.

He hadn't worked very often in recent years, but he was still a filmville landmark as he strode along the Boulevard, somewhat seedy in appearance, but still amazingly erect and profoundly dignified. I've never seen a carload of tourists pass him by without excited comment and neck-twisting stares. Exhibitionism? Yes, undoubtedly, Tex was an exhibitionist—but he was also a personification of show business. Wherever, and whenever, he appeared in public, he lifted Hollywood from the status of "just another town" to the status it formerly enjoyed as the capital city of make-believe.

I'm going to miss old Tex—just as I miss the Hollywood he represented.

No—Belief in God Is NOT Enough!

Many people are risking their eternal salvation on a "religion" of their own... which is actually no religion at all.

"Oh, I believe in God," they say, "but I don't go to church. I'm just not the religious type."

Almost everybody, of course, believes that there is a God. Common sense tells us that this is so. But if we actually believe there is a God, should not this same common sense tell us we must do something about it? And how can we give expression to our belief in God if not through religion?

Religion is simply the consequence of our realization of Who God is. It is our striving to be honest and consistent with this knowledge—to learn and fulfill our duties to our Creator.

Catholics believe that God created us for a definite purpose... that He gave us the intelligence to recognize what that purpose is—and the means to fulfill it. It is through our religion that we give evidence of our desire to honor and serve God. It is through religion that we approach God in faith, repentance, love and gratitude.

If you are living in the belief that you don't need religion... that all you have to do is to believe in God and live a moral life... we urge you to ask yourself these questions—NOW: "Why am I living? Why did God create Me?" The most elementary common sense answer is that you are living because God created you... and that God has a purpose in doing so. Catholics believe it is our duty to find out what God's plan is for our lives—and do our best to live it.

"Circle of Danger" (Ray Milland-Sinclair). A made-in-England talkathon at most American moviegoers will find more interesting than interesting. Best Performance: Van Johnson in "Go For Broke."

"Faith Domergue," writes a local columnist, "doesn't have to worry about her future from now on; her RKO bosses have several big roles lined up for her."

After twenty-five years of stargazing from the Hollywood sidelines, I find that forecast a bit too optimistic. Actresses are a peculiar lot. It's when they near the top of the ladder that they begin to worry overtime—wisely, perhaps, for success in show business is even harder to hold than to achieve.

Speaking of professional worries, I'm amused by the plight of Michael Wolfe, one of Hollywood's ranking designers of feminine duds. His current job is the creation of an ultra-ultra wardrobe for Jane Russell to wear in "Las Vegas Story." And Mr. Wolfe is tearing his hair because the script writers haven't yet decided whether the glamorous Jane will be shown in the pool, actually swimming, or only by the pool, lounging in the sun. It seems that a best-dressed lady wears her kind of swimsuit for swimming and an entirely different kind for lounging. It also seems that there are headaches in all professions.

In the Hollywood news this week there's one item that I find somewhat revolting. It reports that Virginia Hill Hauser, the one-time girlfriend of the late Bugsy Siegel, has been offered $2,500 a week for a series of night club engagements "as a direct result of her performance before the congressional crime committee." What a pity, from the standpoint of her personal finances, that she was only questioned because of her "association" with gangsters. Had she been a principal in the racket, the nighties in question would, presumably, have paid her much more.

American Legion
Buys School House

The Island DeSard school building, owned by the Ouachita parish school board, was transferred to the Walter L. Smith Post 207, American Legion on April 4th last. The post plans to make certain changes in the interior and to landscape the grounds. It will serve as a community center for Sterling, Fairbanks, Fowler, Perryville and vicinity. One of the important groups that are to use the building will be Boy Scout group 67. Red Cross has in past time used the building when they required its use for first aid instruction.

An important meeting, concerning the purchase of this property, will be held at the post Tuesday evening, April 10, at 7:30 p.m. All members are urged to attend this meeting. The present officers are: O. J. Ham, commander; Ed Lohan, vice-commander; Sam Scott, adjutant.

IN MOVIELAND

Hollywood, April 7.—Notes and comments on the Hollywood scene:

This week Hollywood was still talking about the 1950 Academy awards. And the conclusion many people reached was: "If you want an Oscar, do it on Broadway first."

This is no hard-and-fast rule, but it is certainly borne out by this year's returns. Judy Holliday won the palm for the role she played night after night for three years on Broadway. Jose Ferrer got a lengthy break-in for his Cyrano film job by playing it on the stage, too. And Josephine Hull had four years on the stage to work into her role in Harvey.

Only George Sanders among the winning actors did not play a role he had created on the stage.

Of course, you can't take away any of the glory from the great performances put in by the three stage personalities. But actors who stick merely to movies might be able to claim an unfair advantage.

It looks as though Hollywood has a new way to combat television—scare 'em into the theaters. This week Hollywood was given the first glimpse of "The Thing" (from another world).

Its producers testily point out that the film has nothing to do with the Phil Harris song. In fact, there is nothing funny about it. It's a shocker in documentary style and harks back to the finest tradition of the early Dracula and Frankenstein efforts.

And that's not all. We'll soon be seeing the destruction of the world in a film called "When Worlds Collide." And now they're whipping up something called "The Day The Earth Stood Still," in which all heck will break loose. Other films showing the world in panic are on the way. The keynote is offered at the close of "The Thing," after the earthmen have conquered the menace from the other world. "Watch The Skies," the narrator warns ominously.

I've been watching. But so far all I've seen is a sky-writer for a used-car salesman.

I called on Dick Powell on the "One Never Knows" set this week and we discussed the current low salaries paid some of the newer stars.

"It's nothing new," he said. "When I was brought out here, Warners paid me $500 a week. I had been earning at least $1,000 in Pittsburgh."

"After they put me in 'Blessed Event,' they said they'd like to keep me on, but they could only pay me $300. I did '42nd Street' and 'Goldiggers of 1933,' at that salary."

Needless to say, Mr. Powell is getting more than $300 a week today.

The Phrygian civilization is believed to have flourished 2,700 years ago.

Memory Expert
Forgets Show

Hollywood, Fla., April 7.—(AP)—The well known memory expert, Dr. Franz Polgar, must have forgotten something.

Two Broward county organizations charged in a lawsuit they lost a lot of money when Doctor

Polgar failed to show up for lectures here and in Pompano Beach. A $3,100 lapse of memory, they called it.

Doctor Polgar, a Hungarian born hypnotist who performs feats of memory, was served with papers at his Miami Beach home.

He was given until April 19 to recall why he did not fulfill the alleged speaking contracts.

MAJOR COLT AND TERRY LINE UP THEIR SIGHTS ON WHERE TREAD TRACKS SHOW THREE TANKS TOOK COVER IN A WOODED AREA.

... AND STRIKES!

MEANWHILE, ON THE AIRSTRIP...

THIS IS THE LAST MAN, NURSE.

CHECK, DOCTOR. I'LL TELL COLONEL BRASSARD.

ALL ABOARD, SNAPPER! LET'S HAUL OUR FREIGHT, PLEASE, SIR.

FUNNY, COLONEL. NO MORE HIGH-EXPLOSIVE HATE FROM THOSE COMMIE SARDINE CANS.

SEE THAT SMOKE, CHARLES? OUR AIR COVER'S KEEPING 'EM BUSY WITH FIRE BOMBS.

HOW'S SAM?

CRIMESTOPPERS TEXTBOOK

GRAVITY DRAWS THE BLOOD TO THE LOWEST POINTS OF THE BODY AFTER DEATH, CAUSING DISCOLORATION. THIS IS MOST IMPORTANT IN DETERMINING IF A VICTIM HAS BEEN MOVED.

SAM'S BETTER, BUT BETWEEN BEING DOUSED WITH ETHER AND BEAT OVER THE HEAD, HE HAD A CLOSE CALL.

WE CHECKED UP ON BONNIE, THE BARBER. SHE'S BEEN LIVING IN A TRAILER CAMP, BUT SHE AND HER TRAILER HAVE DISAPPEARED.

RADIO WARNINGS AND DESCRIPTIONS HAVE GONE OUT.

WHAT'S THAT THING, TRACY?

THIS HAIR-PIECE WAS PICKED UP IN THE ALLEY NEAR WHERE EMPTY WILLIAMS LEFT YOU IN THE SLOT MACHINE.

A FELLOW TO SEE YOU, TRACY.

HE ASKED US TO BRING HIM HERE. HE'S GOT SOMETHING TO TELL YOU.

NAME'S HAGGERTY. I'M A JUSTICE OF THE PEACE IN BENTON.

I RECOGNIZE THESE TWO? I MARRIED THEM THREE DAYS AGO!

MEANWHILE

BUT, EMPTY, YOU TOLD ME WE WERE GOING OUT WEST AND BUY A CHICKEN RANCH AND SETTLE DOWN.

THAT'S WHY I TOOK ALL MY MONEY OUT OF THE STRONGBOX AND GAVE IT TO YOU.

IF I'D KNOWN YOU PLANNED TO CONTINUE HIJACKING AND ROBBERY I WOULDN'T HAVE MARRIED YOU!

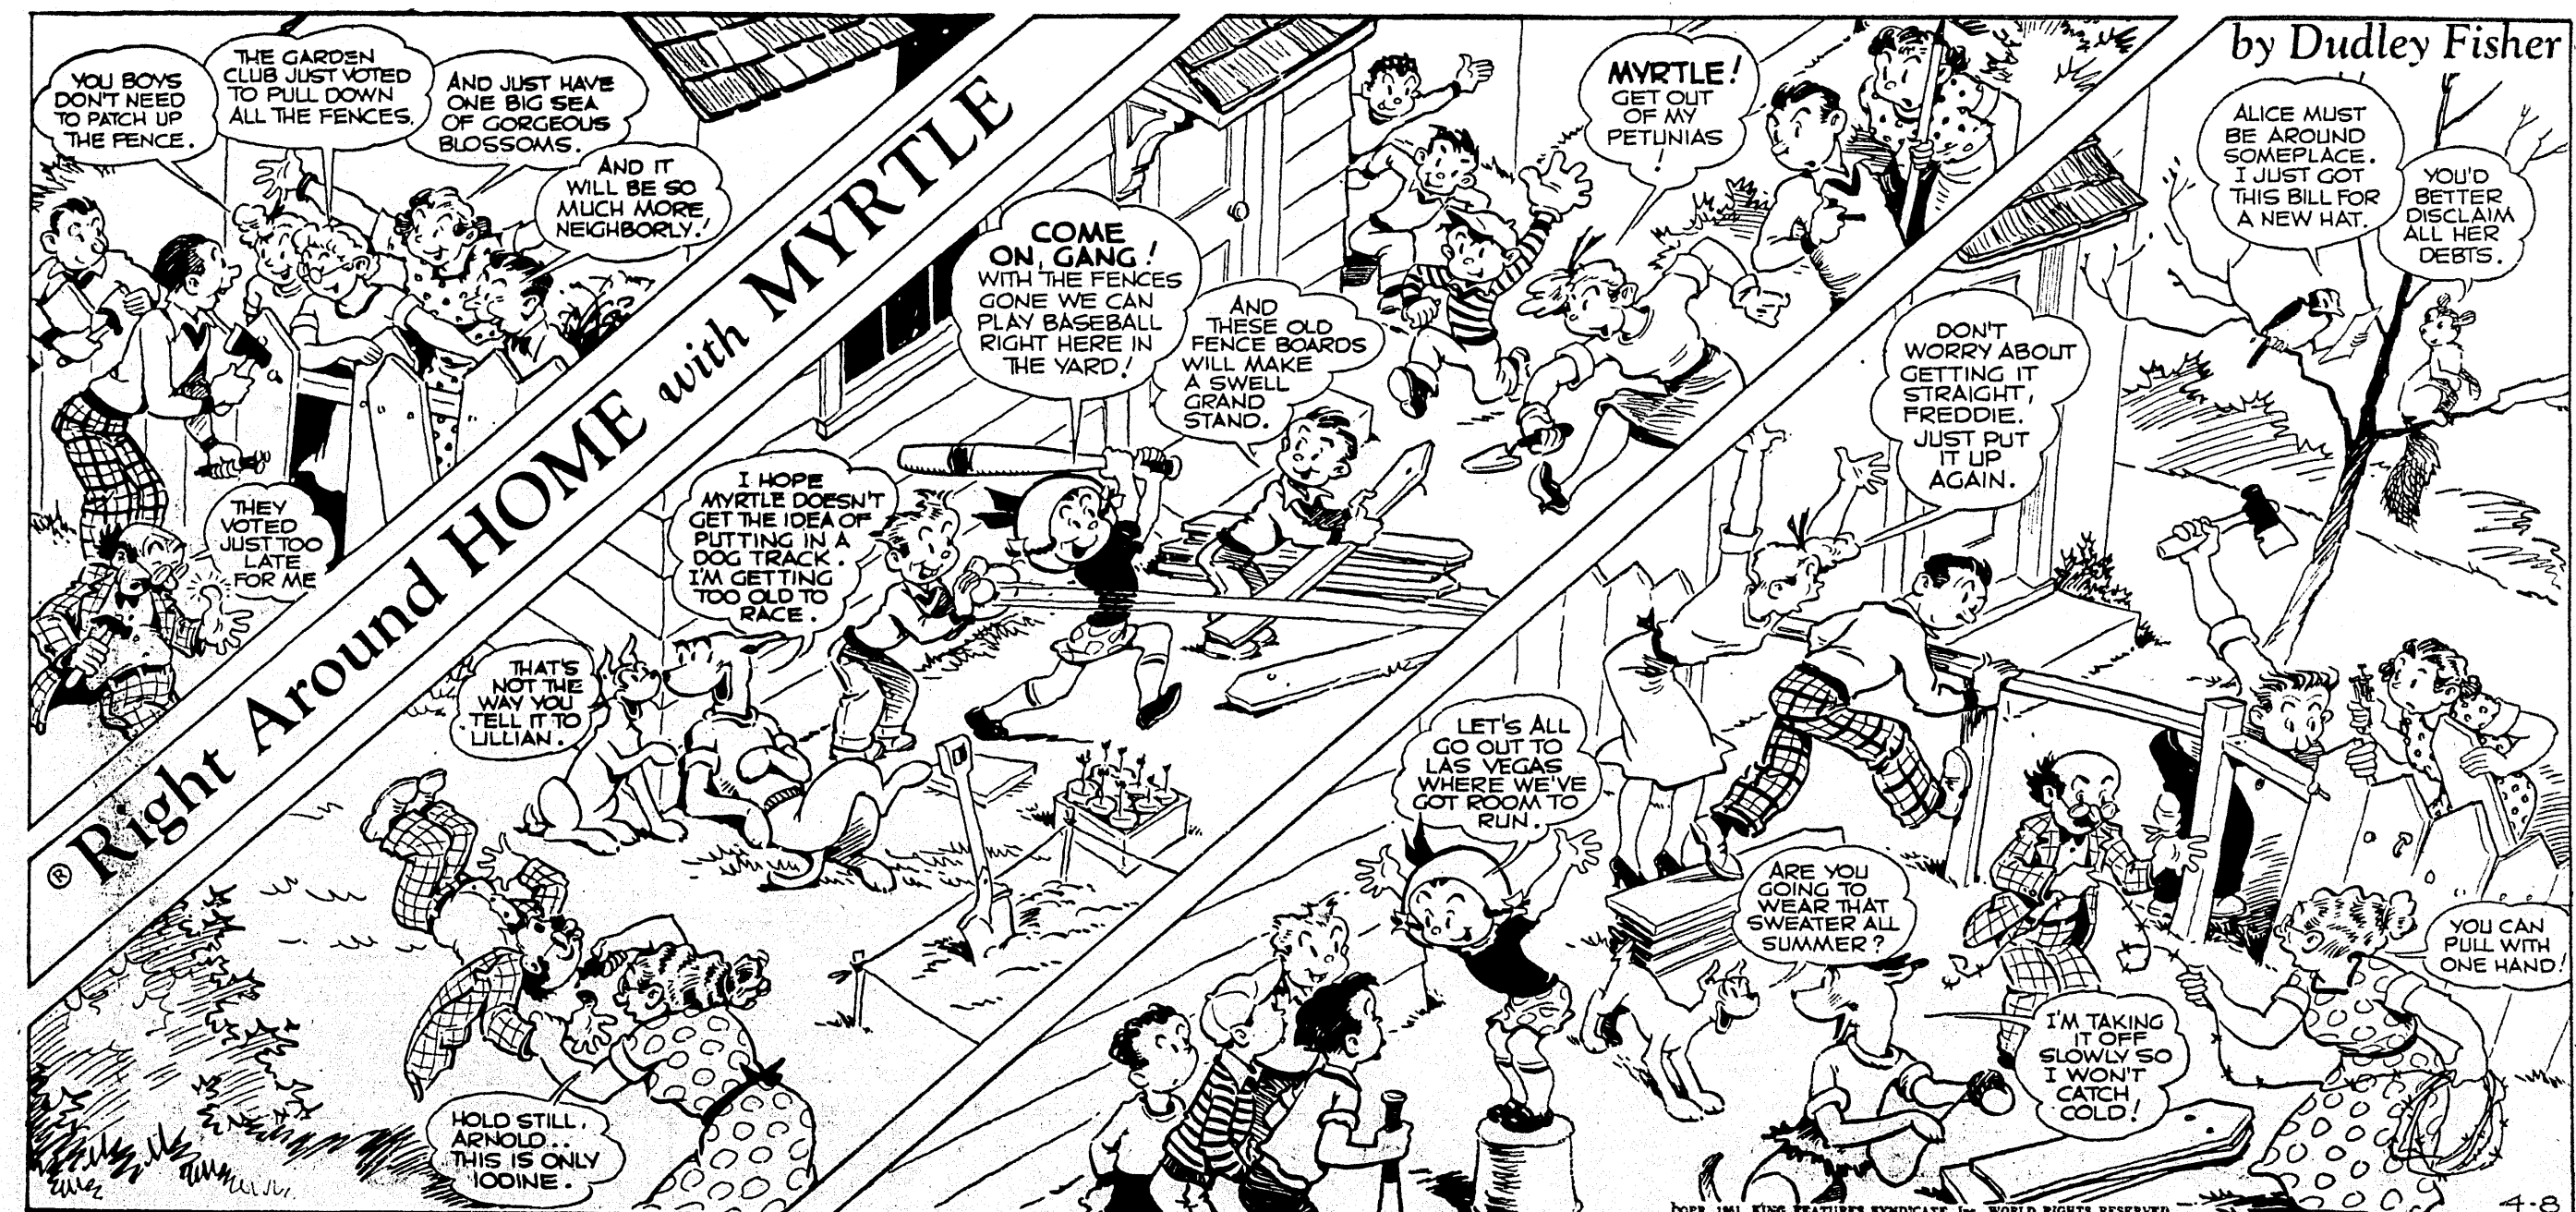

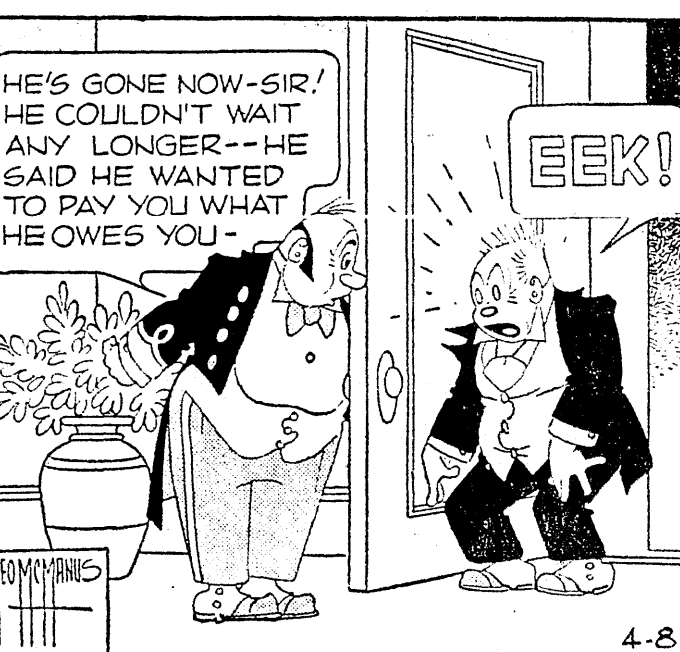

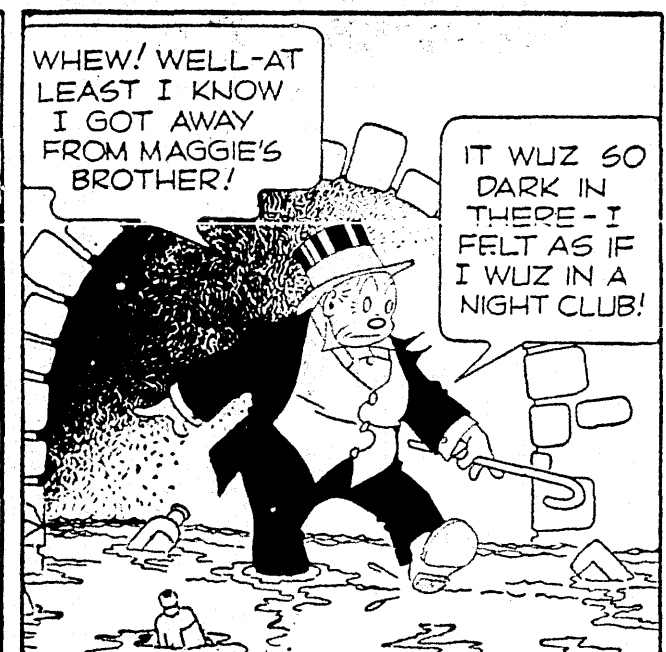

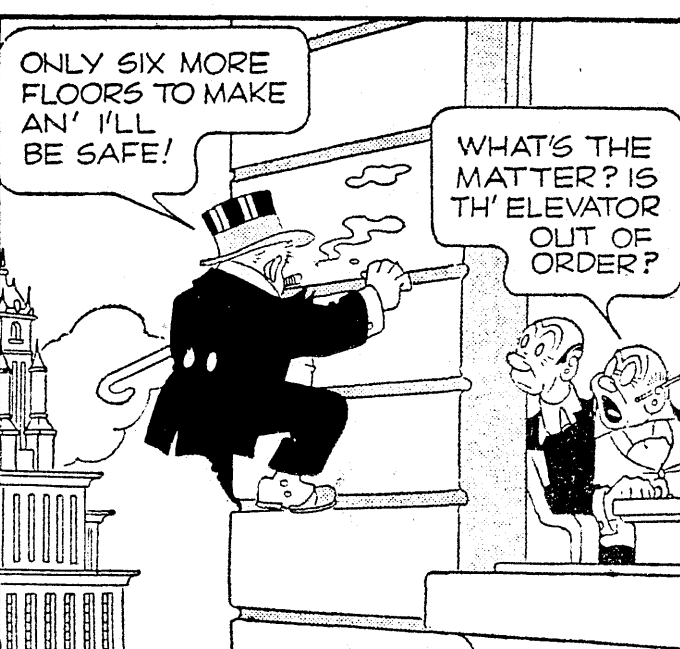

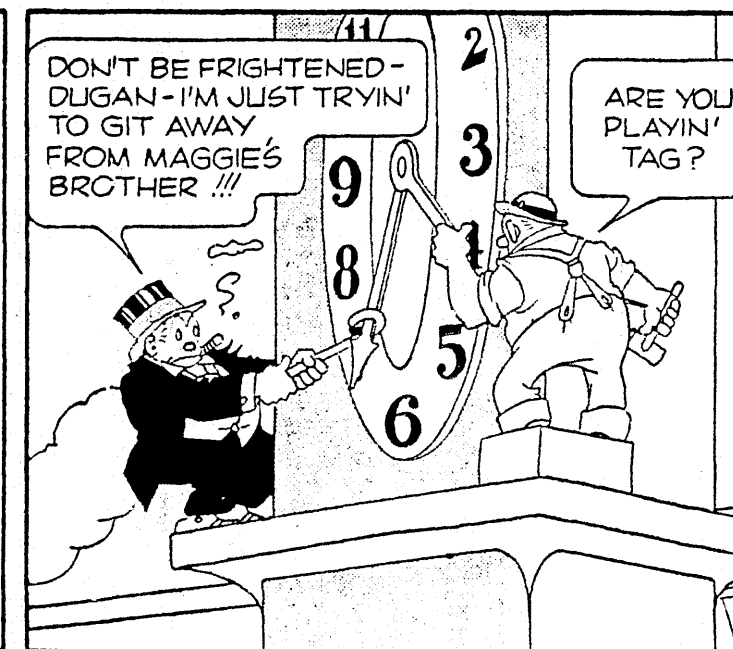

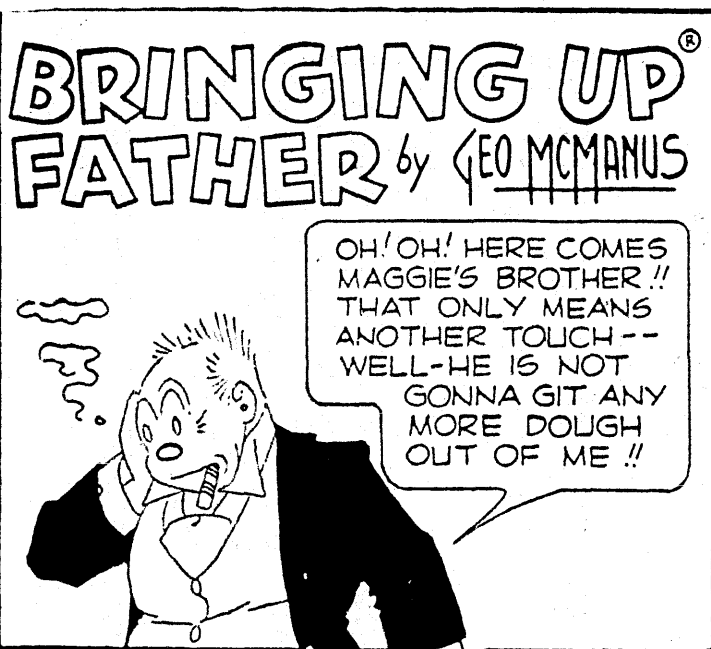

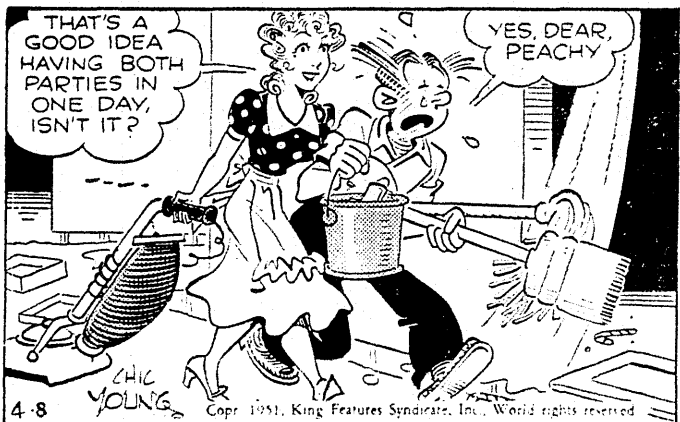

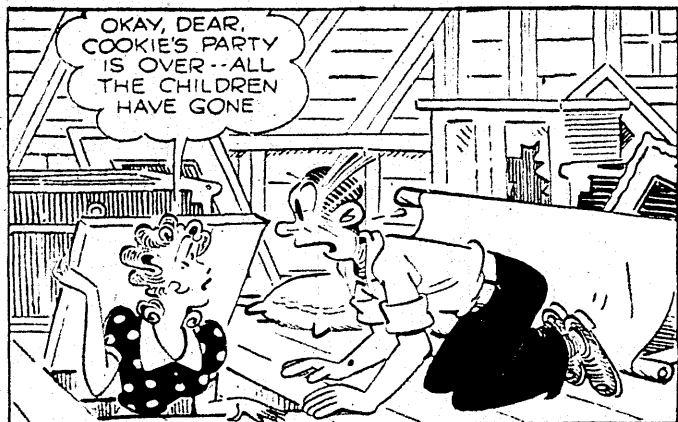

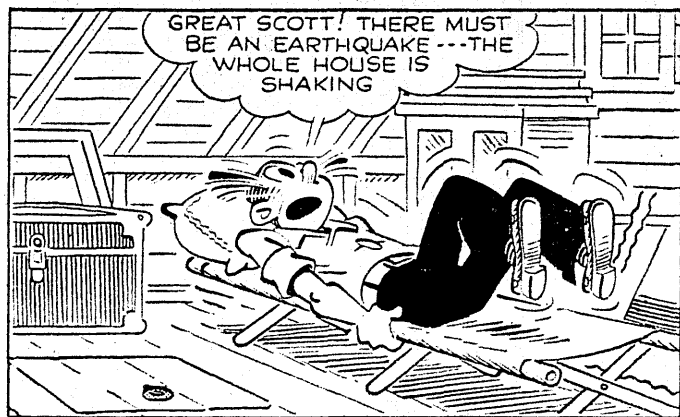

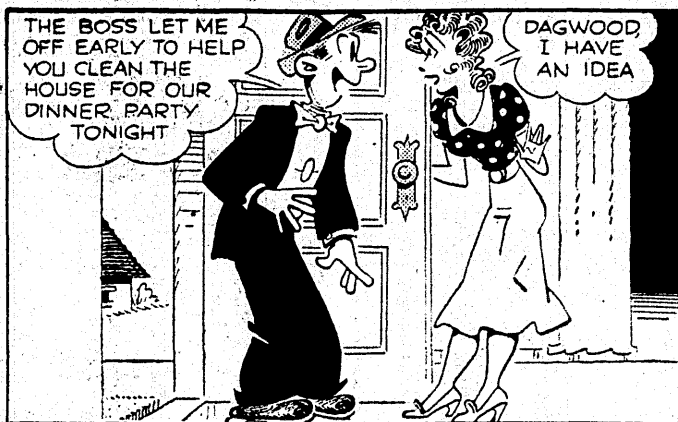

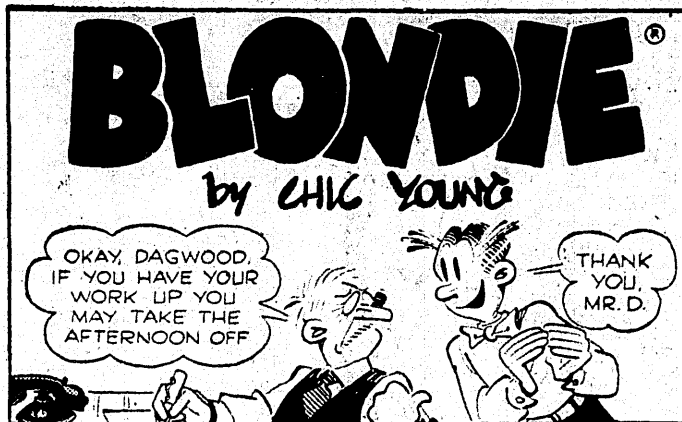

WHY DON'T YOU GROW UP? AS A MATTER A FACT, BONNIE, I THOUGHT YOU HAD MORE SENSE.

WHERE ARE YOU GOING?

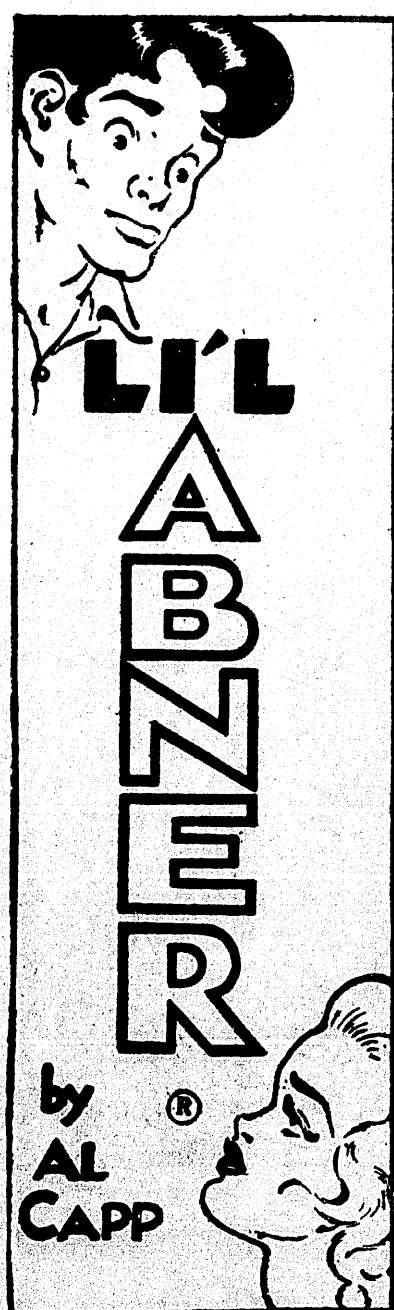

ME? I'VE GOT SOMETHING TO DO.

EMPTY, WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

NO! NO!

THE OTHER PLANE THAT WAS MAKING A FORCED LANDING BARELY MISSED HOT-ROD'S SHIP AND LANDED... JUST AHEAD!

A LITTLE LATER, AS THE WIND INCREASED, BOTH PILOTS DECIDED TO ABANDON THEIR PLANES FOR FEAR THEY MIGHT BE BLOWN OVER AND RIPPED TO BITS!

THE PILOTS SPOTTED AN OLD SHACK NEARBY AND AFTER THEY ENTERED IT— HOT-ROD DISCOVERED THAT THE OTHER PILOT WAS BICEPS MAIDENSWOON!

MEANWHILE

OH, DUCKFOO! I'M SO GLAD TO SEE THAT YOU GOT BACK SAFELY!--

PAPA JUST TOLD ME THAT HOT-ROD'S AND BICEPS' PLANES ARE SEVERAL HOURS OVERDUE! WHAT DO YOU SUPPOSE HAPPENED?

THEY BOTH CHECKED IN AT ABILENE AND THAT'S TH' LAST TRACE!

"AIR RESCUE SERVICE HAS BEEN NOTIFIED AND TH' CIVIL AIR PATROL IS ALERTED—

—BUT NO SEARCH CAN BE STARTED YET BECAUSE OF THE STORM THAT'S COVERING MOST OF THIS AREA!

BACK AT THE SHACK

HOW ABOUT SHARING THAT FOOD YOU'RE COOKING, BICEPS?

NUTS TO YOU! IT WAS I WHO WAS SMART ENOUGH TO LOOK IN TH' PANTRY AND FIND SOME SALT PORK, BEANS AND COFFEE

IF YOU WANT FOOD, GO FIND ANOTHER SHACK THAT'S BEEN DESERTED BY SOME OLD DESERT HERMIT!

YOU SELFISH HEEL! SO FAR, YOU'VE FOOLED ALL THE WHEELS AND MADE THEM THINK YOU ARE AN IDEAL CADET BUT—

MISTER BICEPS, THERE'S GONNA BE A DAY OF RECKONING FOR YOU, SOMEDAY SOON!

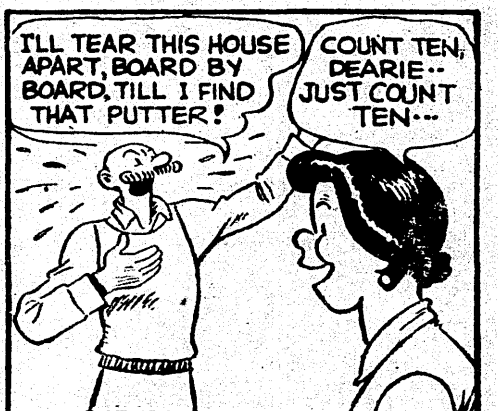

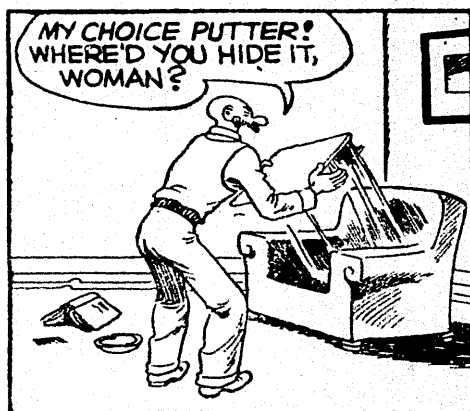

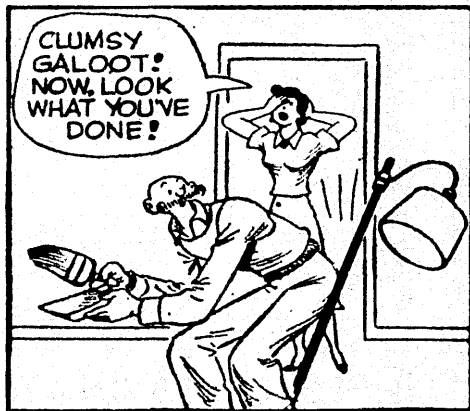

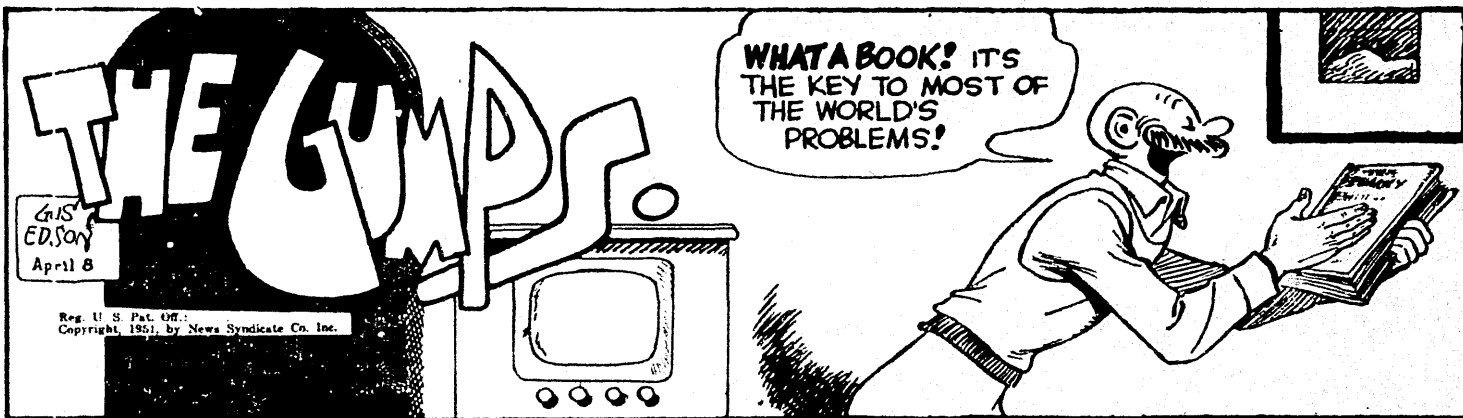

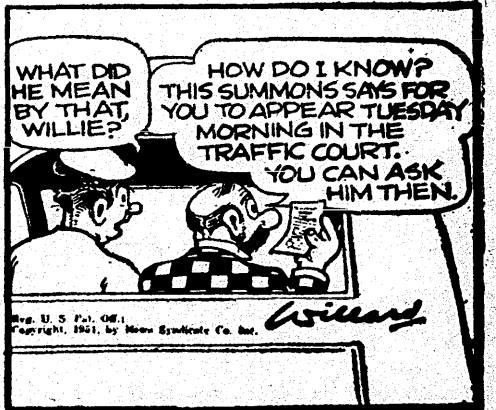

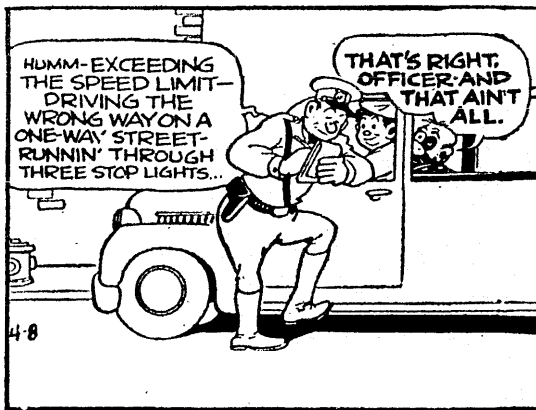

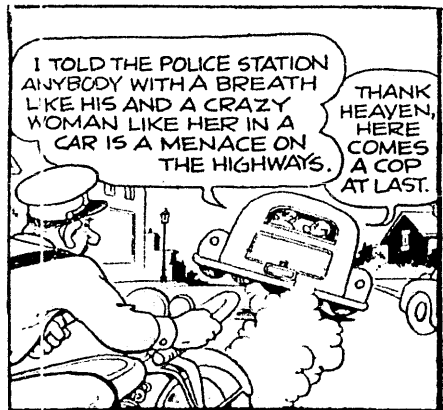

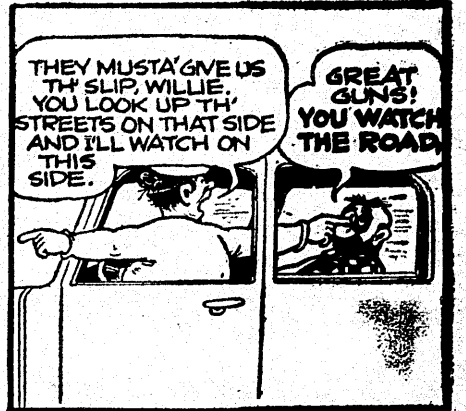

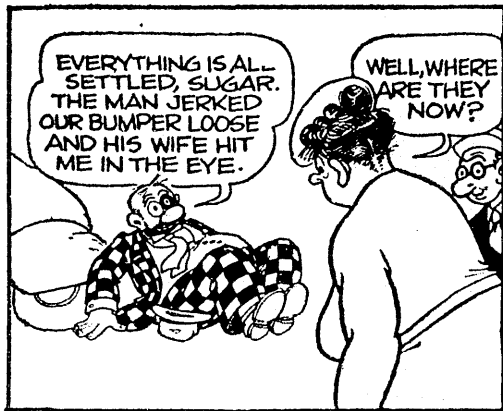

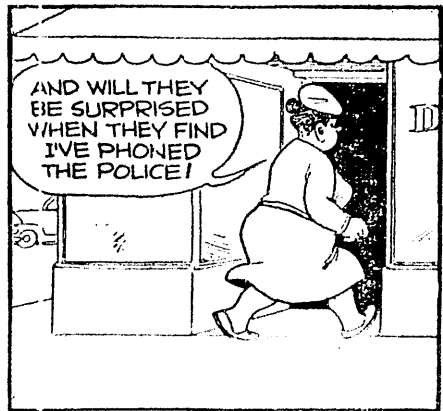

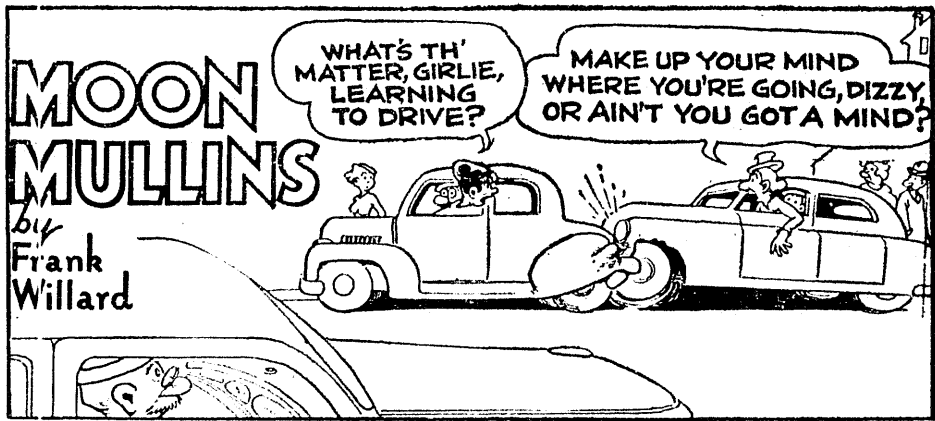

—GEE, THE WIND'S STILL PICKING UP! JUST FEEL THIS OLD SHACK SHAKE!

FLASH GORDON

by MAC RABOY and DON MOORE

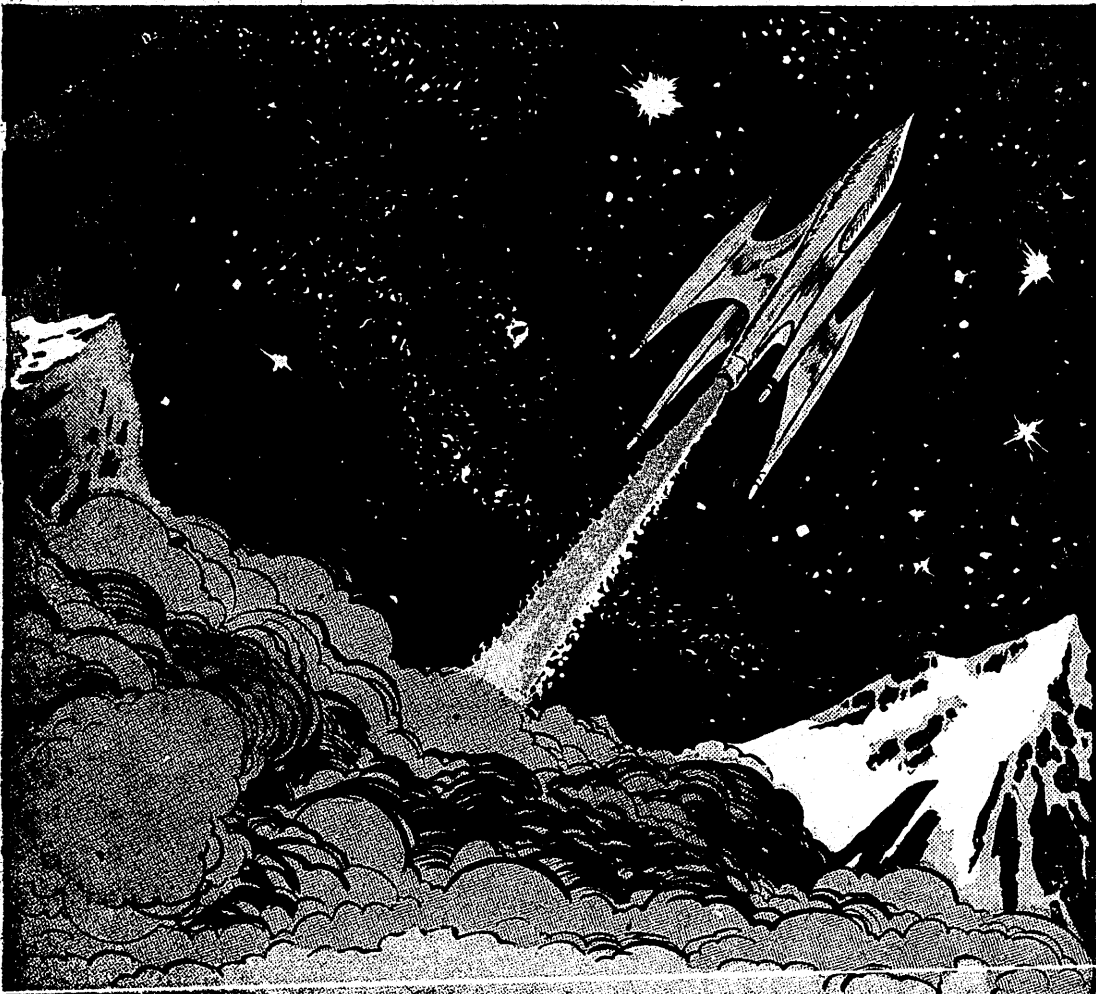

FLASH BARELY DODGES A METEOR THAT WHIZZES BY HIS SPACE SHIP AND BURIES ITSELF IN THE EARTH WITH A TREMENDOUS BLAST. "PROFESSOR BRITE," THE PILOT CALLS OUT, "I HAVE A MESSAGE FROM HEADQUARTERS. THEIR RADAR PICKED UP THAT METEOR'S TRACK-- IT CAME FROM THE MOON."

LANDING HURRIEDLY, THEY SET ABOUT THE TASK OF REFITTING FLASH'S SPACE SHIP. THEY LOAD UP A STOCK OF ATOM-BOMB FLYING MISSILES. PROFESSOR BRITE SAYS GRIMLY: "WE'LL HAVE TO DESTROY THE VOLCANO OR WHATEVER IS SHOOTING OUT THESE METEORS."

THE GIANT SHIP IS SET UP FOR LAUNCHING ON A MOUNTAIN TOP. DALE BEGS TO BE ONE OF THE CREW, AND FLASH OVERRULES BRITE'S OBJECTIONS. "ASIDE FROM ME," FLASH SAYS, "SHE'S THE ONLY EXPERIENCED SPACE-FLIER ON EARTH."

MILLIONS WATCH ON TV AND HOPE FOR SUCCESS AS THE ROCKET STARTS WITH A MIGHTY ROAR. IN A FEW MINUTES IT REACHES TOP SPEED OF SEVEN MILES A SECOND. SOON THE HUGE ROCKET IS ESCAPING FROM THE EARTH'S GRAVITY.

Copyright 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

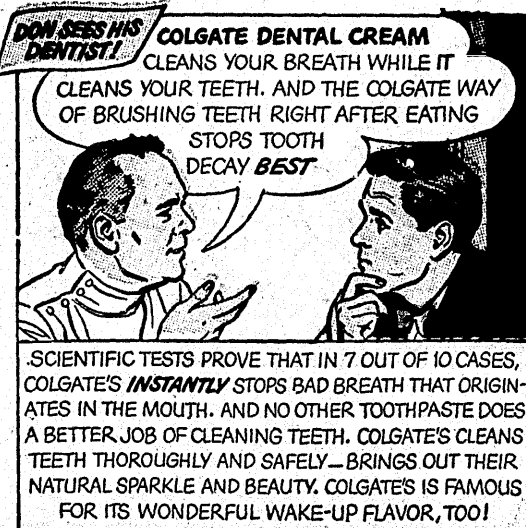

"I'M SHUTTING OFF THE ROCKET POWER," FLASH SAYS FINALLY. FREED FROM THE PULL OF GRAVITY, DALE SUDDENLY FINDS HERSELF WEIGHTLESS AND FLOATS LIGHTLY ACROSS THE CABIN, WHILE BRITE STARES AWE-STRUCK AT THE EARTH HE HAS LEFT.

NEXT WEEK - MOON TERROR.
